NAZI FORTRESS ALONG DNIEPER SEIZED BY REDS

LONDON, Sept. 30 [Thursday]—(AP).—Flying soviet columns have pierced to within 110 miles of the old Polish border in the north, seized a Dnieper river island about a quarter mile from Kiev, and captured the Dnieper fortress of Kremenchug in the south, Moscow announced today.

In the north the Red army advanced half way from Smolensk to Vitebsk by capturing a town on the 80 mile railway between these two cities. Despite rain soaked roads the Russians advanced more than nine miles and occupied 120 villages on this front.

Premier Marshal Josef Stalin, in an order of the day, called the town, 10 miles from the northern border of White Russia on the rail line to Riga, Latvia, "a powerful enemy stronghold and a center of communications."

Win Island in Front of Kiev.

At Kiev the Russians burst thru German defense lines to capture the bridgehead fortifications of an island directly in front of central Kiev. There the river is 1,400 feet wide. In this advance the Russians also captured a town nine miles east of Kiev, killed more than 6,000 Germans, destroyed 69 tanks, and seized much booty and many prisoners.

"Remnants of routed German troops were hurled onto the right [west] bank of the river," the Russians said.

The third major gain of the day was the capture of Kremenchug, on the east bank of the Dnieper 150 miles southeast of Kiev.

3 Day Battle Wins Citadel.

The fortress was seized after a three day battle by eight soviet divisions liberally supported by planes, Stalin said. Its capture wiped out one of the last German bridgeheads on the east bank of the mighty Dnieper and cut off a large number of Germans pocketed northeast of the river.

Stalin called for the Moscow victory salute of 12 salvos from 124 guns to announce its fall.

There were indications that the soviet forces on this front had made crossings of the Dnieper, at least with advanced units, for the German high command said: "New attempts on the enemy's part to gain ground in some places on the middle Dnieper on the western bank failed."

Germans Strike Back.

Moscow dispatches indicated the Germans are fighting for the river with all their strength.

The Moscow newspaper Pravda said a large number of enemy troops, tanks, and guns were dug in along the river line under orders to hold the bridgeheads or die. The Germans are making 10 to 12 counter-attacks daily with powerful air support, Pravda said.

At the northern end of the battle line, soviet troops driving on White Russia pushed to within 12 miles of Gomel and in this and other nearby advances captured more than 370 villages.

At the southern end of the front, on the tip of the Taman peninsula, the Red army was routing the enemy from their last stronghold in the Caucasus and driving them across Kerch strait to the Crimea.

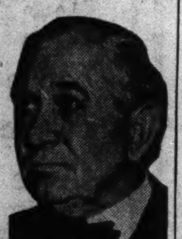
Senate Group Drops House Post-War Bill

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—The Fulbright post-war peace plan, passed in the house Sept. 21 by a vote of 360 to 29, was pigeonholed today by a senate foreign relations subcommittee.



Sen. Tom Connally.

Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.], chairman of both the committee and the subcommittee, announced that the committee will frame its own expression as to plans for the post-war period. He has previously indicated that there is no need for haste in planning the peace until the war was won.

Meeting Is Secret.

Secrecy surrounded the subcommittee meeting, which was closed, but Sen. Connally said the decision to write a new declaration was reached after a full and free discussion. This was taken to mean that the Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill senate post-war resolution, which the subcommittee has been considering, has likewise proved unsatisfactory to the members.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] has a resolution pending for international coöperation without impairment of American sovereignty, achieved by constitutional processes and with regard for American responsibilities and interests. His resolution was the basis of the foreign policy declaration adopted by the Republican post-war advisory council at Mackinac Island.

Students of the foreign situation say they believe that he will insist that his views be embodied in the declaration by the committee.

House Plea Too Vague.

The Fulbright plan, proposed by Rep. J. W. Fulbright [D., Ark.], was hailed by internationalists as a panacea for most of the world's ills. But members of the senate pronounced it too vague, and feared that its very vagueness might lead other nations to see in it commitments which the American people would not approve.

The measures would have recorded congress as "favoring the creation of appropriate international machinery with power adequate to establish and to maintain a just and lasting peace among the nations of the world, and as favoring participation by the United States therein thru its constitutional processes."

The constitutional safeguard was insisted upon by the Republicans.

QUEZON CARES LITTLE FOR DEFEAT OF JAPS 'UNLESS WE'RE FREE'

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippines, said today that "I would care little about Japan's defeat if my own Philippines were not going to be free."

He made the statement in a letter to the Herald Tribune in reply to a column by Walter Lippmann published in the newspaper yesterday in which Lippmann queried, "What earthly good is independence to the Philippines if the United States is incapable of defending them?"

Lippmann's column dealt with the Tydings-Bell joint resolution pending before congress which would give the Philippines complete independence at any time within 30 days after passage of the resolution.

Quezon wrote from Washington, "I am urging my people constantly to go on fighting — and they are doing it—because they and I expect that our country will be independent now. . . . I knew from the beginning that the Philippines could not defend itself, and that, because of Pearl Harbor, America could not come to our rescue."

YANKS PURSUE FLEEING FOES ACROSS PLAIN

Break Thru After 6 Day Battle.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 29 (AP).—The American 5th army stormed tonight to within a few miles of Naples and was expected to enter the ravaged city at any moment. Strong armored forces had driven the Germans into full flight across the coastal plains near Mount Vesuvius.

Castellammare, the naval base 15 miles south of Naples, and the whole Sorrento peninsula flanking the Bay of Naples, were in allied hands.

"The enemy's defensive ring around Naples is broken," a military spokesman said.

[In a broadcast from London an NBC correspondent said the allied armies should be entering Naples by Thursday. The German controled Paris radio said the British fleet had approached the Gulf of Naples. Units of the fleet have been patroling the gulf area for several days.]

Mountain Line Collapses.

The stout mountain defenses north of Salerno, in which the Germans for six days gave ground grudgingly in the face of continuous attacks, sagged suddenly early yesterday and then vanished, headquarters announced.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's army then rolled down on the Naples plains. He threw into battle his tanks and mobile artillery, which had been almost useless in the mountain fighting.

Clark was advancing tonight toward the smoking and blasted city of 925,000 population—the first even approaching that size in all the vast areas of Africa, Sicily, and Italy already wrested from the Nazis. Rome and Milan are the only larger Italian cities.

Expect Stand at Volturno.

The Germans were in swift retreat which may not end until they reach the Volturno river line, 20 miles north of Naples and almost due west of the great Foggia air center east across the peninsula, which fell with its 13 virtually intact air fields on Monday.

[The British Press association said the allies had entered Pompeii, the city at the foot of Vesuvius, 12 miles southeast of Naples, which the volcano destroyed in 79 A. D. The German radio acknowledged that Castel San Giorgio and Baronissi, 23 and 24 miles southeast of Naples, and Montoro, 11 miles north of Salerno, had been evacuated and that American reënforcements had landed. The German war bulletin said that, despite continuous rain and "difficult road conditions, our own movements took their anticipated course."]

Break Thru After 20 Days.

The breach in the Naples defenses culminated 20 days of savage battle started when Clark's army first landed in the Salerno area on Sept. 9. The break thru was at the extreme western end of the front, north and northwest of Salerno.

The heaviest fighting was at Salania which already had changed hands many times in the last week. This time, the British and American troops of Clark's command seized it firmly and swept on.

The final, decisive drive against the German mountain defenses opened at dawn on Tuesday in a

U. S. TROOPS RESENT NONCHALANT STAND OF DEFEATED ITALIANS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The resentment of American and British soldiers at the Italians' nonchalant acceptance of their defeat as some sort of victory is likely to result in quick clarification of Italy's future status. Reports astonishing London tonight told of allied officers being refused accommodations in hotels at Bari and Brindisi because weary Italian officers occupied all the rooms.

County Tops Bond Quota; Plan No Letup

U. S. Near Its Mark

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—The $15,000,000,000 third war loan was within $261,000,000 of success tonight. The treasury reported an additional $514,000,000 in bond sales to send the national total to $14,739,000,000.

BY PAUL HEALY.

With four days of the third war loan drive remaining, Cook county went over its quota of $746,348,400 on Tuesday, reports of banks and business houses to the treasury department disclosed yesterday. By Tuesday evening the Cook county war finance staff had taken in $749,577,000 in bond money.

Illinois, meanwhile, was within 1 per cent of its $921,000,000 quota, with sales totaling $916,000,000.

Officials were elated by Cook county's success, but they pointed out that this makes it all the more imperative that Chicagoans buy E bonds till it hurts today, which will be "Sacrifice day" on State street. Because only 53 per cent of the E [small denomination] bond quota of 116 million dollars has been realized, 150 State street stores will pool their forces to stage the greatest and most urgent bargain sale the city has ever seen.

Council to Sponsor Day.

One commodity—war bonds—will be plugged above all others in a spectacular all-out plea to those who want to help win the war in a hurry and make an investment as sound as Uncle Sam. The day was planned by the State Street council.

Twenty-five thousand retail store clerks will advocate more bond buying to shoppers thruout the day. On the street 300 women organized by the treasury department will fill in bond applications and accept bond money. They will wear arm bands and light blue ribbons to signify their authority.

Purchasers will be given tags as badges of their patriotism and cards containing the words, "I buy war bonds because . . ." The cards should be filled in and returned to bond booths. The five purchasers giving the best reasons why they bought bonds will be awarded a $100 bond each by the council on Oct. 15.

Three Shows to be Staged.

State street itself will be patriotically festive. There will be 17 inch window streamers reading, "Have you really sacrificed to buy a bond today?" and there will be war bond banners floating from guy wires and posts above the State street "arsenal," where 3½ million dollars worth of fighting equipment is on display.

Three State street shows dramatizing the necessity of bond purchases will be put on simultaneously at 3 p. m. at Randolph, Madison, and Adams streets. Another will be presented at Madison street at 7:30 p. m. All will feature popular music by military dance bands and stories by service men and nurses returned from the war fronts.

"The purpose of Sacrifice day is obvious," said Clyde Bedell, general chairman of the council's arsenal committee. "A few people are making real sacrifices. All we are asking the others to do is loan their money to the government at interest to help win the war."

Decides OPA Lacks Power of Suspension

TIRE AND MILK NEWS.

Quota of new tires for October slashed 20 per cent by OPA. Details on page 3. Government expected to slash Chicago sales of cream and milk by-products 40 per cent. Details on page 4.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 29 (AP).—Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled today the OPA business suspension system is unconstitutional and described the administrator who issues suspension orders as "a modern instance of pure dictatorship."

The regional OPA office said the decision would be appealed.

Atwell held that the OPA had legal authority to ration gasoline and other commodities, but ruled such authority did not include the power to suspend violators from their rights to deal in the rationed commodities.

Restrains OPA Order.

He granted the petition of Amos F. and Foy O. Wilemon, operators of the Good Luck Service company, for an injunction restraining the OPA from enforcing a two week shutdown order against their seven gasoline service stations.

Judge Atwell said:

"The [OPA] hearing administrator, unknown to and unprovided for by congress, presumes to conduct a court.

"He acts without fear of consequences for malfeasance or misfeasance. If he can suspend for two weeks, he can suspend for two years. He is not only unknown to the congress but he is unknown to the Constitution. What the hearing administrator does is beyond the reach of executive forgiveness. He, himself, is beyond reach of any constitutional removing power. He is a modern instance of pure dictatorship."

Officer Ordered Closing.

Judge Atwell said the company was found by a hearing officer to have had, on April 8, in their possession 1,063 No. 6 class A gasoline coupons accepted in exchange for gasoline prior to the effective date. The hearing officer ruled the violation was gross carelessness and ordered the shutdown.

Commenting on Atwell's ruling, C. B. Braun, regional deputy OPA administrator, said:

"While this precise point has not been decided in any other OPA case, federal District courts thruout the country have heretofore upheld the administrator's suspension orders, thus by implication deciding he had authority to enter them."

DEMAND CONGRESS ACT TO SALVAGE AIR BASES

Censorship's False Optimism Angers Yanks—Lodge.

BY EUGENE BURNS.

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Sept. 29 (AP).—Greater frankness in war news presentation today will prevent cynicism and lack of confidence in our leaders later, United States Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. [R., Mass.] said in an interview after war front visits where "I saw the reaction of our fighting men to habitually optimistic news reports."

Sen. H. C. Lodge Jr.

He will report to congress that "our fighting men are mad because of the false optimism of our news."

"It's a general condition of our news reporting, our communiques, our radio commentators and our desk writers," he said.

Lodge, who is a major in the army, noted that censors perhaps overlook the fact that, unlike the last war, the news they censor gets back by radio within 24 hours to the men who make the news, who are wounded and who have fallen comrades.

Calls Censorship Enraging.

"Our present news censorship as I saw it at the front enrages and disillusions our fighting men in the truthfulness of their leaders and at home it breeds apathy," Sen. Lodge said.

"Whom our rosy censorship and propaganda helps I do not know. If anything, it helps the enemy by getting us to underestimate them. Our fighting men rapidly are learning that our propaganda which makes all our allies good and all our enemies bad is bunk."

He told of seeing American soldiers befriend Italian and German prisoners but said no such camaraderie exists in the Pacific.

"Our fight with the Jap is a fight to the finish," he said.

"The Japs made it that way. They tortured our prisoners, shot down our parachutists, executed our Doolittle flyers in cold blood and our litter bearers are their favorite targets.

"These truths of the Japs should be driven home, too."

Wants Truth Told.

Sen. Lodge asked the writer [who was a war correspondent in the Aleutians] the reaction of American soldiers to news they received while driving the Japanese from Attu. I told him an official announcement came over the radio that the enemy was defeated, except for mopping up, in the first week whereas actually the main fighting had not commenced and many of our men already had been killed.

"It's that way everywhere," Sen. Lodge said.

"Unfortunately, where they are hit hardest and their outfits have had heavy casualties, the news seems the worst misrepresented. When suffering intensely, they will hear a bland radio announcement saying the enemy is routed. Our losses are negligible. There is little if any enemy resistance."

Sen. Lodge emphasized the importance of not disclosing information beneficial to the enemy, but added:

"However, the time comes when it is more important to tell the people the truth than to keep the truth away from them. When the time of military usefulness to the enemy has gone, the truth should be told to the home folks—for the sake of men who give their lives at the front."

Accuse Britain of Hoarding Oil in Persia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—Three United States senators—two of them known as supporters of the New Deal—who have just returned from a 40,000 mile junket to American fighting fronts, reported today that this country is going to be the loser after the war unless something drastic immediately is done about it.

The globe circling investigators are Senators James M. Mead [D., N. Y.], Richard B. Russell [D., Ga.], and Ralph O. Brewster [R., Me.]. Two other members of their party, Senators Albert B. Chandler [D., Ky.], and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. [R., Mass.], have not yet returned to the capital.

List Dangers to U. S.

After a three month inspection tour during which they talked with American commanding generals, men from the ranks, and heads of allied governments around the world via Spain, North Africa, Arabia, India, China, Ceylon, Australia, the fighting fronts of the South Pacific, and home by way of Honolulu, the senators gave reporters these straight-from-the-shoulder opinions:

1. That the United States is going to come out of this war without anything to show for the billions of dollars it has spent constructing air bases thruout the world if congress doesn't swing into immediate action.
2. That this country is supplying far more than its share of oil to the allied nations fighting fronts and facing the possibility of exhausting our oil reserves while Britain virtually hoards Persian gulf oil.

Criticize Vague Reports.

3. Americans at home are not getting sufficiently frank and full reports about the fighting; they should be told more about the "seamy side" of the war.
4. That the war probably won't be over before 1945, for, the Germany may collapse any day, the Japs won't.

The senators declared that six months after the war ends the United States won't be permitted to land a commercial plane on any of the bases it has built in foreign countries and that it will be in a hole on post-war commercial aviation unless congress acts quickly to remedy the situation.

No Rights to Bases.

Sen. Brewster said he discovered that because of a lack of agreements covering the point the United States will have no rights to any American-built air bases abroad following termination of the six months period after the war.

"That means there will be no place outside the western hemisphere where we can land commercial planes after the war," he said. "We haven't a single claim to any of the bases we built across North Africa. In fact, we are not allowed to land a commercial plane at any of them even now."

The senator intimated that he favored some method of adjusting lend-lease grants in a way that will force agreements to protect the economy represented by the phenomenal war time growth of the aviation industry in America.

Up to Congress Now.

"No lend-lease we have already given will do us any good in this matter," Sen. Brewster replied to a reporter's question. "That is gone. But if we held out prospects for increasing lend-lease we might get more rights."

"It's up to congress to get busy evolving a policy," interposed Sen.

VIEW CREATIONS IN FASHION SHOW JUDGING TONIGHT

Movie Star Gail Patrick Is Here for Broadcasts.

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

Tonight the climax approaches in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S fourth annual American Fashions contest. The first of three performances will be given in radio station W-G-N to select the grand prize winning designs. Announcement of the prize winners will climax the show tomorrow night.

In preparation for the event, Miss Gail Patrick, svelte movie star who has often been termed the film capital's best dressed woman, arrived here yesterday to be commentator. Miss Patrick came in from the west coast on the Santa Fe Chief. She was surrounded by autograph hunters and fans in the Dearborn Street station.

In keeping with her role, the lovely screen star was dressed in a stunning gray wool suit, piped in black grosgrain ribbon, which was designed for her by Adrian. On her lapel glittered a fire opal encrusted with diamonds, an heirloom. Her chic, off-the-face hat and pumps were black, but her gloves, stylishly impertinent, were red. Her baggage included six pieces of beautifully matched cowhide luggage, which for her is "traveling light," said the well groomed star.

Backs Fashion Aggressiveness.

"In order to make my appearance at the American Fashions show, I have had to wedge in time between productions, but I wouldn't have missed it for anything," she commented. "I think American ambition should go hand in hand with the war effort and that we should retain a certain aggressive mode of life. The American Fashions contest does just that.

"It pushes the nation forward as the fashion leader of the world and during war time it makes the American woman more conscious of good, conservative clothes. The very restrictions of the war era tend to stress fine fabrices and good lines. After this war is over and we women have become accustomed to wearing simple, beautiful clothes, we never will go back to fussy, extravagant modes or indulgent figures."

Miss Patrick praised the plan for the audience at the three performances of the American Fashions show this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening to select the grand prize winning designs. The star was one of three judges, along with Lady Mendl and Mrs. Howard Linn, at THE TRIBUNE'S first American Fashions production.

Name Winners Tomorrow.

In her role of commentator Miss Patrick will describe the American fashions collection on a broadcast over W-G-N at 10:45 o'clock this evening. Appearing with her on the program will be Miss Talia Wermuth, well known dancer and sister of Capt. Arthur W. Wermuth, Chicago's one man army who is now a prisoner of the Japanese. Miss Wermuth will model one of the historical costumes in the show.

Tomorrow evening the movie star will again broadcast at 10:45 o'clock, at which time the three grand prize winners of $1,000 for first place and $500 each for second and third will be announced.

All tickets for the three performances have been sold out for two weeks. It is urged that persons having tickets, however, appear at W-G-N's studio theater before 8:30 o'clock for the evening shows and 2:15 p. m. for the matinee tomorrow, as all performances are scheduled to begin promptly.

PAY BOOST BILL FOR JUDGES MAY GET ACTION SOON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—The proposal of Rep. Chauncey W. Reed [R., Ill.], that salaries of United States District judges be raised is expected to be referred within a short time to a house judiciary subcommittee.

Rep. Reed's bill would raise the salaries from $10,000 to $15,000 a year. The increase in living costs makes the pay boost necessary, Reed asserted. Federal judges now receive less than municipal and state judges in many parts of the country.

SEAMAN KILLED IN ACTION GIVEN MARINE MEDAL

Sgt. John L. Coleman

Seaman Milton L. Knudson, Polo, Ill., who was killed in action Nov. 13, 1942, has been awarded the navy and marine corps medal posthumously by President Roosevelt, 9th naval district headquarters announced yesterday. Knudson, a member of the crew of the U. S. S. Laffey, rescued survivors from the sinking aircraft carrier Wasp after the vessel was torpedoed Sept. 15, 1942. His father, E. R. Knudson, lives at 407 North Franklin street, Polo.

Sgt. John L. Coleman, 24 years old, has been decorated with the Order of the Purple Heart for wounds suffered during fighting in the North Pacific. "The Japs did not know I was left handed," he wrote friends here, "because they scored a hit on my right hand." He also was wounded in the head. Sgt. Coleman, attached to an infantry division, is a graduate of De Paul High school. His home is at 2511 Eastwood avenue.

BARBER SHOT IN ABDOMEN.

William Trainor, 43 years old, 2058 Madison street, a barber, was taken to Bridewell hospital last night after having been shot in the abdomen, police said, by Herbert Donham, 55, a roomer at 2022 Washington boulevard, where Trainor formerly had lived.

TWO CHICAGOANS LOSE GAS CARDS FOR DAKOTA TRIP

Two Chicago hunters, F. H. Farnsworth, president of Sigmund Ullman company, a division of the General Printing Ink corporation, 501 Plymouth court, and William Walker, a salesman for the company, were deprived of their gasoline rations at an office of price administration hearing conducted at Winner, S. D., on charges of violating rationing restrictions, an Associated Press dispatch from Sioux Falls, S. D., said yesterday.

The order revoked all gas rations in each case for 45 days, and required surrender of all ration coupons in their possession, said the dispatch.

Farnsworth resides at 144 Woodstock, in Kenilworth. His son-in-law, William F. Reddington, said last night that he believed Farnsworth and Walker had made the trip in a rented automobile. He said that they left last week and were scheduled to make several business calls during the trip.

UNION WILL SIGN 'CANNED MUSIC' CONTRACT TODAY

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians [AFL] said tonight a contract, the first to be reached during a 14 month ban on "canned music" for broadcasting, would be signed tomorrow by the union and Decca Records, Inc., and its subsidiary transcription firm, World Broadcasting System, Inc.

Petrillo, appearing before a war labor board panel hearing to determine whether the AFM should be ordered to lift its ban on transcriptions as requested by the six major transcription companies, invited the transcription representatives to accept the terms agreed upon by Decca and its subsidiary, which he said would be made public tomorrow.

UPTOWN-CLARK BENEFIT.

Block 4 of zone 8 of the Uptown-Clark district of the office of civilian defense will hold a benefit party in Viking Athletic association fieldhouse, 6434 North Ashland avenue, at 8 o'clock tonight to raise funds for Christmas gifts for soldiers and sailors. E. R. Frick is block captain.

What is Worsted Cheviot?

Cheviot is a husky, characteristically masculine fabric made from rugged, durable wools such as are grown on the sheep of the Cheviot Hills in the North of England. Cheviots differ from typical tweeds in that they are woven from somewhat finer yarns, and usually come in plain colors and herringbones.

The choicest Cheviots are woven of worsted yarns (yarns that are specially carded, combed and twisted for strength) and are known as Worsted Cheviots.

These handsome suitings are offered in Benson & Rixon beautifully tailored suits—100 per cent all-wool worsted —$29.50 to $47.50.

TRIB-BUNA TIRES PASS 3D TEST ON SLIPPERY ROADS

Tour Crew Battles Rain and Comes Thru.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 29.—Trib-buna has passed its third and conclusive test as a good wet weather tire in the judgment of the Chicago Tribune tire test crew, America's new synthetic rubber is now credited with one more merit.

The conclusive experience was not staged. It happened in a location where it was least expected, on the cactus strewn desert between Nogales and here.

Gail Compton, Tribune farm editor, and I had driven from Phoenix to Nogales, 220 miles, for a Mexican dinner as well as to add more mileage on hot pavement to the highway test we are giving synthetic rubber. Small white clouds over the stark peaks and ridges of neighboring mountains didn't look foreboding. The sky otherwise was the deep blue for which the southwest is famous.

Desert Stars Hang Low.

On leaving the Mexican border town, about 11 o'clock, stars hung low everywhere, except in the north where lightning flashed on and off from a low bank of clouds.

The rain hit us an hour later. It fell in torrents for about an hour and then passed on as desert downpours generally do. But it wasn't the last we were to see of its water.

Nogales bound, in the afternoon, we had held the speedometer at our test pace of 45 miles an hour on the smooth bituminous bound pavement. At intervals of from a half mile to two miles there were gentle dips in the roadway into dry gullies.

At night, Phoenix bound, these gullies weren't dry. Water gushed from the mountain sides and foothills, tearing thru the cracks in the desert made by previous rains. The cactus and mesquite brush were too sparse to retard the run-off.

Water Over Running Board.

Every dip 20 to 100 feet wide was flooded with gushing water. The current splashed over the running board on the upstream side. It was risky fording.

As the torrents subsided, soft mud and pools were encountered in these roadside dips. We slushed thru them in low gear.

The Trib-buna synthetics held to the roadway even where signs read "Slippery when wet." We passed a truck on its side beside the road. We passed a passenger car that had slid down a roadway embankment.

Cars Park Until Daylight.

We passed cars parked to await the aid of daylight. Stopping only long enough to offer assistance, we continued on our way.

We had heard of laboratory reports that the friction coefficient of synthetics was about the same as natural rubber on dry pavement and was better than natural rubber on some wet surfaces. We had had a verification when driving thru drizzles in northern Wisconsin and Michigan and when plunging thru a 500 mile mud and gravel test in Iowa.

But most convincing was this desert adventure when the wet weather performance of Trib-buna contributed to our safety.

Pay Roll Bandits Seize $1,500 Carried from Bank

Hear Cut in A Gas Coupons Scheduled for Midwest Soon

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—A bipartisan bloc of middle western congressmen, aroused by reports of an impending further cut in gasoline coupon values, today called on congress to order a full investigation of alleged bungling and buck-passing of the petroleum problem by government agencies.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown.

The group, headed by Rep. Clarence J. Brown [R., O.], was called into session after several members were informed of plans to reduce middle western gasoline allotments. Members protested the necessity for such a reduction has not been demonstrated by agencies in charge of oil and gasoline and declared the prospective action reflects "burocratic bungling."

Brown told the committee a cut in motorists' A coupon values from three to two gallons in the middle west has been under consideration for some time and is being urged by Harold L. Ickes, petroleum administrator for war.

May Be Ordered Friday.

The reduction, Brown said, was scheduled to go into effect Sept. 21, but was held up when Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown protested against it. Information from Ickes' office indicates, however, Brown added, that the ration cut may be ordered Friday, when PAW's gasoline and oil quotas for the last quarter of this year are scheduled to be announced.

Officials of OPA and PAW refused to confirm or deny the reduction reports.

Rep. Brown said Ickes' office told him further restrictions were being considered because of declining crude oil production. "Officials of the oil industry have informed me, however, that oil output could be increased by 600,000 barrels a day if restrictions on production were removed," Brown said. "In that case, there would be no necessity for gasoline rationing at all."

Claims Plants Idle

Charges a refining capacity of 205,000 barrels of gasoline a day is idle in the midwest area, the only one in which refineries are not operating 100 per cent, were made yesterday by G. A. Primm, executive secretary of the Illinois Petroleum Marketers' association, comprising 700 dealers in the state. He demanded congress end the artificial shortage and called upon Illinois' representatives and senators to push such action.

Ceiling Price Increase Asked.

The group also unanimously adopted a resolution urging an immediate increase in the ceiling price of crude oil to stimulate production.

Rep. Fred E. Busbey [R., Ill.] recalled that Ickes has publicly indorsed an oil price boost of 35 cents a barrel, but said the request has been pigeonholed by "burocratic buckpassing."

"Ickes says he has asked the OPA twice to grant the boost," Busbey said. "The matter is now before Vinson [Fred Vinson, economic stabilization director] but it has been there for nearly two months. Next it will probably go to Byrnes [War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes] and lie there for months. We are not going to solve the oil problem as long as we have this burocratic setup. Apparently, things have been deliberately set up this way to give congress and the people the run around."

"Motorists Wouldn't Mind."

Rep. Lyle Boren [D., Okla.] said a boost of 50c a barrel in crude oil prices would mean an increase of only ½ cent a gallon in gasoline to the consumer.

"Motorists wouldn't mind paying the ½ cent because it would mean they would get enough gasoline," Rep. Brown commented.

LIST CHICAGOAN AS MISSING IN FORTRESS' RAID

Staff Sgt. Herbert W. Dulberg, 3845 Montrose avenue, a radio operator-gunner in a Flying Fortress, has been missing in action in the European theater since Sept. 16, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dulberg, were notified yesterday. Sgt. Dulberg, 29 years old, is a graduate of Lane Technical High school. He entered the army in May, 1942, and received training at Scott field. He is the father of a son 10 years old.

Sgt. H. W. Dulberg.

Staff Sgt. Leonard A. Baumgartner of Bensenville, also a gunner on a Flying Fortress, was killed during a raid on Regensburg, Germany, on Aug. 17, and given a military burial in North Africa, according to word from his brother, Staff Sgt. Orland Baumgartner. Orland, who has been stationed in England two years, interviewed Leonard's fellow crewmen. Survivors include the widow, Dorothy. Memorial services will be held Sunday in the Friedens Evangelical church in Bensenville.

CITY SEEKS 50,000 TONS OF STEEL SCRAP STARTING TOMORROW

Chicago, with a quota of 50,000 tons of steel scrap, was completing plans yesterday for an intensive drive beginning tomorrow and continuing thru Nov. 11 to salvage metals and materials necessary for war production. William L. McFetridge, salvage director for the office of civilian defense, said that iron, steel, copper, brass, aluminum, tin, and lead were needed and could be found in worn out or discarded tools, hardware, and household goods.

McFetridge also urged housewives to save all kinds of paper, fat, and tin cans. He said the paper shortage was particularly acute. Scrap collectors were asked to dispose of their salvage to junkmen immediately, give it to charity, or notify the salvage pickup office.

Farmers who contribute all available scrap metal during the drive are to be honored by the Illinois war council and the WPB. Placards signed by Gov. Green and other state and federal officials will be awarded. The state scrap metal goal is 250,000 tons.

Brian Donlevy in Chicago Hospital for Treatment

Brian Donlevy, Hollywood film actor, was admitted to St. Luke's hospital yesterday for treatment of a respiratory infection which Donlevy said he acquired on a recent army camp tour. His most recent appearance was at Chanute field, Ill. Dr. T. J. Coogan is his physician.

NEW TIRE QUOTA FOR OCTOBER IS SLASHED 20 PCT.

Cuts 829,000 Supply to 645,000.

An October quota that will reduce by one-fifth the number of new passenger tires available for rationing was announced yesterday by the office of price administration. In reflection of the low level of new tire supplies, the quota is 645,000 tires, compared with 829,000 for September.

The quota is based upon allotments assigned by the office of rubber director and is set in line with a recent OPA action to cut ration demand by raising mileage requirements. Beginning tomorrow, only automobile owners who must drive 601 miles or more a month qualify for new tires.

New OPA schedules effective Oct. 12 list reductions in poultry ceiling prices ranging from ½ cent a pound for "hard scalded" poultry to 3½ cents for the quick frozen varieties. The only price increase will be on dressed birds, which go up a cent a pound. Also changed in the OPA revisions were prices on drawn poultry, which were cut a cent, and those on quick frozen "eviscerated" poultry, reduced two cents at processor levels. Kosher poultry prices are unchanged.

All shoe retailers were reminded by the OPA yesterday that they must take inventory of rationed shoes as of the close of business today, but Raymond S. McKeough, Chicago regional OPA administrator, took cognizance of the fact that today is a Jewish religious holiday. Answering several inquiries, McKeough said that altho the inventory report must be as of Sept. 30, the actual count need not be taken on that day.

New posters showing retail ceiling prices for the more important meat cuts have been issued by the OPA and are available at local rationing boards. The posting deadline is tomorrow.

DON'T WORRY, TURKEYS WILL BE PLENTIFUL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—There will be plenty of turkeys for civilian Thanksgiving dinners despite the large number the army and navy are buying.

This assurance came from Grover B. Hill, assistant war food administrator, today in testimony before a senate agriculture subcommittee. He said the army and navy are buying the whole early turkey crop in order to be sure that every American fighting man, even in out-of-the-way places, has the traditional thanksgiving dinner.

But he said civilians need not worry. This year's crop is a record 37,000,000 birds, about 4,500,000 larger than ever before.

YOU WANT TO BE ALONE? THIS IS THE JOB FOR YOU

You Will Get Big Pay and No Boy Friends.

Calling all women who weigh over 200 pounds!

If you are built like an Amazon, enjoy outdoor work, and have no particular objection to the clinging aroma of garbage, the scavenger industry needs you! And it's not a bad job in the opinion of William B. Johnson, secretary of the Chicago and Suburban Scavenger association, 840 North Michigan avenue.

Plea to WMC Fails.

"I'll admit the girls will probably lose their boy friends because of the fragrance," he admitted. The pay is $8.50 a day for drivers and $8 for helpers, on a 48 hour week basis.

Johnson first appealed to the war manpower commission, he said, to have the scavenger industry declared essential. He was refused. Next he appealed to individual draft boards, seeking deferments for his employes. They suggested women.

Fourth of Employes Gone.

Dire possibilities are prophesied by Johnson if Chicago Amazons fail to respond to his plea. "The city," he said, "may be facing a very serious epidemic—more serious than the poliomyelitis one—unless the garbage industry is recognized as essential by the government, or unless women take over the job."

Twenty-five per cent of the scavenger employes have already answered the call of draft boards and war industries, Johnson declared, adding that 48 per cent of Chicago, and 80 per cent of all suburban scavenger business is handled by his organization.

FRAIN CHARGE DISMISSED.

A charge of reckless driving brought against Andrew T. Frain of the ushering service on Sept 13 when his auto struck a taxicab was dismissed for lack of prosecution yesterday by Judge Edward F. Luczak in Safety court.

FIRST CITY-WIDE TRANSFERS WILL BE USED TONIGHT

All Lines Launch System at Midnight.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

The Illinois commerce commission announced last night that a unified city-wide transfer system at a 10 cent fare would be inaugurated at midnight tonight by the surface, motor coach, and elevated lines all over Chicago. Operations will be under a set of temporary rules that will be completed today by the commission.

All the companies have agreed upon the unified transfers. With the subway nearing completion, their adoption is regarded as one of the most important improvements in local transportation in decades. In the formulation of the rules there was acrid debate on only one point: the number of colors to be used.

Agree on Color Setup.

The commission, which ultimately plans one color for each company, ruled that for the present the elevated and surface lines may hand out transfers of two colors [as the L does now], while the motor coach company may use a single color transfer which will be good on either of the other lines.

A passenger boarding a street car may ask for a transfer to the L or to the bus company at any point where the surface lines meet or cross those of the other companies. For the 10 cents he pays he will receive a blue transfer if he wishes to transfer to the L and a pink one if he wishes to transfer to a motor coach line. Surface line travel, wholly on that company's lines, requires only an 8 cent fare.

On the L, any person paying a 10 cent fare at or south of Howard street and at or east of Des Plaines avenue in Forest Park on the Metropolitan branch will receive on request, and without extra expense, a buff transfer if he wishes to transfer to the surface lines or a green slip if he wishes to transfer to a motor coach line.

Motor Coach Color Is Orange.

The motor coach drivers will issue on request an orange transfer good either on the L or on the surface lines.

A passenger transferring from any company to either of the others may return to the original company lines for a further ride, provided he continues in one general direction thruout his trip. He may not transfer to all three companies for one dime except in specific neighborhoods named by the commission.

Under the new plan, transfer points increase from 82 to 354. Of these 186 involve the surface and motor coach lines alone, an entirely new service. Altho the L has had a transfer system with the bus and surface lines for 8 years, its transfer points will be increased from 57 to 123. L-bus transfer points will increase from 25 to 45.

Loop Transfers Entirely New.

Wholly new is transferring in the loop area. A large traffic in transfers there is anticipated, particularly when the new subway is opened Oct. 17. Under the rules to be approved, elevated passengers and subway riders [the L is to operate in the tubes] may board west side cars at Dearborn street, to which they may walk from the east side of the loop.

The unified system of transfers was ordered on its own volition by the Illinois commerce commission, of which John D. Biggs is chairman.

"We regard the unified transfer system as a great forward step in Chicago's local transportation," he said.

Leland Boy, 2, Drowns in Rock Garden Pool

U. S. TO REDUCE CREAM SALES AS MILK CURB STEP

Move to Invoke June Levels Is Seen.

A federal order limiting Chicago milk consumption to June levels, which has been expected for weeks to be applied tomorrow, likely will be limited to cream and by-products, it appeared yesterday.

Roy Hendrickson.

While milk sales in Chicago this week showed a gain of 150,000 quarts over a week ago, experts held that the abnormal demand is temporary, chiefly the result of the warm weather. When the weather returns to normal, demand will drop to normal production levels, they indicated.

Plan 40 Per Cent Cream Slash.

The government order, which awaits only the signature of Roy F. Hendrickson, director of distribution of the war food administration, and under which dealers may be operating before the day is out, calls for a 40 per cent reduction in cream, cottage cheese, buttermilk, and chocolate milk sales.

In Washington, Hendrickson said his department would not announce the reductions in cream and the other by-products for another week. He added that the Chicago area milk producers and distributors themselves had suggested a 25 per cent cut on these products.

Paul Potter, executive secretary of Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., agreed, but said the 25 per cent cut, as it is called in the order, will mean an actual 40 per cent reduction for consumers.

Discounts Rationing Need.

Concerning reports that milk is to be rationed in November under conditions already approved by the offices of war mobilization and economic stabilization, Potter said:

"I can foresee no reason for it, however. The milk situation in this area is rather tense, it is true. But unless there is a big added demand for lend-lease or some other purpose that we can't foresee, we will be able to continue supplying the normal demand."

Housewives also were warned to prepare for additional delivery handicaps. An office of defense transportation order cutting deliveries to families to four days a week is to go into effect Oct. 11 and so far all protests have been futile.

Farmers in Washington.

Meanwhile, milk producing farmers' representatives were in Washington battling against a plan to pay government subsidies to make up for the difference in feed costs between the present and a year ago. A. H. Lauterbach, Chicago, manager of the National Coöperative Milk Producers' federation, numbering among its members some 13,000 local area farmers, advocated a price raise to the farmers for their milk rather than subsidies.

Lauterbach said a penny a quart increase would compensate the farmers.

COUNCIL ADOPTS RESOLUTION FOR TRACTION UNITY

By a vote of 40 to 3, the city council yesterday adopted a resolution stating that the city's traction problems can be solved only thru unification of the L and surface lines and that any proposals for separate reorganization of the surface lines will be opposed by the city.

The policy was outlined, along with a condensed history of traction, in a 13 page message to the council by Mayor Kelly. The action of the Illinois Commerce commission in turning down the latest unification plan was condemned by the mayor. He said that he believed "influential financial interests in surface lines bonds . . . can produce a constructive response" from the ICC. He added that if necessary he would present plans of a "revolutionary" but practical nature to attain unity.

POLICE, FIREMEN WIN SUPPORT IN PAY HIKE DRIVE

Ald. Quirk Would Place Issue Before Council.

Police and firemen, campaigning to increase their pay above the basic scale of $2,802 a year, last night were assured by Ald. Robert C. Quirk [48th], vice chairman of the police and municipal institutions committee, that he would seek to have his committee recommend to the council that increases be considered when the 1944 budget estimates are worked out.

Other aldermen expressed sympathy with the drive to boost salaries if it can be done without hiking taxes, but James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the finance committee and an administration spokesman, said the question had not "really been discussed" by the aldermen.

"Raises depend upon the financial condition of the city and until the budget estimates are in there is not much we can do," he said. "The men are entitled to more money, but our means of getting it for them are limited."

Quirk said he would ask that his committee meet and review the need for increased pay before the next meeting of the council, Oct. 13.

Points to Living Costs.

"We all know that the cost of living has gone up and if there is any way to take care of these men now we should act," he said. "The time is ripe to bring their pay up to par because the council soon will be busy working on the 1944 budget. I think that if an increase can be arranged it should be for about 12½ per cent of the present scale."

The pay scales in New York, Detroit, Boston, and other large eastern cities are higher than those here, Quirk said. Ald. Harry Sain [27th], chairman of the fire and civil service committee, declined to comment, but if Quirk's committee should act favorably and persuade the council to grant increases to the police department, the firemen would be raised automatically in line with the city's past practice of keeping the pay of the two services equal.

William S. Johnston, president of the Firemen's Association of Chicago, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, asserted there is no comparison between wages paid here and in many large cities.

"I know that firemen in New York receive $3,000 a year and they have been promised a $400 a year raise, while the scale in Detroit is even higher," he said.

"Last January the men were raised from $2,500 to the present scale, and while we knew then that the raise was not enough, we felt it was better than nothing. I think the public should take a greater interest in this matter, for it depends on us and I think both services have delivered."

Johnston said that higher pay would eliminate the necessity for men of both departments to seek outside employment in their time off in order to keep abreast of rising costs. Outside work is forbidden by Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan and Police Commissioner James P. Allman, and recently the American Railway Express company dropped 300 firemen and policemen who had been working there part time.

Pension Fund Deductions.

The police department, which has 6,752 employes, is operating this year on a budget of $19,642,458. The men work 6 days a week and 48 hours. Besides the federal income tax deduction, 5¼ per cent of their pay is deducted for their pension fund. First year patrolmen receive $2,400, second year men receive $2,532, and starting with the third year the scale is $2,802. The 485 sergeants get $3,252, 145 lieutenants receive $3,600, and the 56 captains receive $4,500.

The fire department is operating this year on a budget of $9,153,678. There are 2,806 men in the department. Their pension fund deduction is 4¼ per cent. Probationary firemen start at $2,400 and graduate to $2,598 a year at the end of six months. At the end of two years the scale jumps to $2,736 and six months later the maximum of $2,802 is reached. There are 282 lieutenants who get $3,252 a year and 191 captains receiving $3,660. The 56 battalion chiefs receive $4,500 and the 12 division marshals get $5,000. Firemen work 24 hour shifts and then are off 24 hours.

BOWLER FLOATS LOAN FOR UNPAID OFFICE WORKERS

Thanks to the personal interest of their boss, county employes in the office of Thomas J. Bowler, clerk of the Criminal court, will receive their pay checks by Saturday. But not from the county, however, since the finance committee again failed yesterday to find a source that it was able to tap for this purpose.

Bowler told his 45 office workers that the Terminal National bank will pay them their checks if they would agree to assign the checks to the bank as security. The service charge under this arrangement is expected to be less than 1 per cent of the checks.

THRONG TRIBUNE NAVY SHOW AS 1ST WEEK ENDS

War Equipment, Music, and Ships at Exhibit.

BOND SALES AT SHOW.
Sales of war bonds at the Navy-Tribune-Treasury show in the 24 hours ended at 4 p. m. yesterday totaled $51,265, sending the total for the first seven days of the show to $465,222. Attendance yesterday was 17,015, making the total for the first week 158,525.

(Picture on page 12.)

The "Back the Attack" navy show in Tribune Square ended the first week of its one month run yesterday. With the weather still smiling, the crowds continued to pour in.

A display that was receiving considerable attention yesterday, as it has thruout the show, was the two man naval aviation life raft with its emergency equipment. Here was graphic proof that the safety of its men is uppermost in the navy's mind and that everything that foresight and ingenuity can do for them has been done.

Emergency Raft a Marvel.

The rubber raft is a marvelous contraption that inflates itself! It is kept, deflated and packed, on the plane ready for emergency. When a distressed plane crash lands on the water, the raft is thrown out and the flyer has only to remove a flap and pull a handle. [He reaches it by swimming or by climbing out along the plane wing if the plane floats long enough.] The handle activates a cylinder of carbon dioxide attached to the raft. The gas quickly inflates the raft and provides a buoyant little boat about 8 feet long and 4 feet wide, with 15 inch gunwales. Two attached flaps turn into cross seats. Oars are packed in sections along the side.

When the flyers toss out the raft they throw out the ready packed bag of emergency equipment, too. On retrieving this from the water they find they are supplied with a bailing utensil, flashlight, jackknife, whistle, sun reflector, leak plugs, mending material, bandages, ointments, medicated tablets, emergency drinking water, pemmican [dried meat], malted milk tablets, chocolate, and sail cloth. The oars can be disassembled and used as masts and rudder.

War Bonds and Stamps Sold.

The navy show is sponsored by the treasury department in coöperation with THE TRIBUNE, and booths are provided where visitors may buy war bonds and stamps. The displays include navy planes, a captured Italian flying boat, instruments, weapons and gears of all kinds, coast guard equipment, an amphibious tank, ordnance, a replica of the prow and bridge of a patrol craft escort ship, and, from time to time, actual naval vessels. These last dock in the river beside the show grounds. The U. S. S. Wilmette, training ship of the ninth naval district, has been there for the last few days.

The exhibits are open from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. Admission is free. Bands from various naval stations in the Chicago district furnish entertainment at the music tent on the lower level. This noon and this evening the Navy pier band is scheduled for appearances there.

Teachers are invited to bring their classes to the show. The youngsters will find much to interest and instruct them.

OWI CHOOSES 10 AMERICANS TO STUMP ENGLAND

2 Month Speaking Tours Are Scheduled.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—The overseas branch of the office of war information announced today that 10 Americans will make two month speaking tours of England as part of a program designed to stir reciprocal enthusiasm in America and Great Britain for an accelerated war effort.

Each American, selected as informed on a particular aspect of war time life in America, will make speeches and answer questions before English audiences with similar interests.

For instance, Mayor Earl Riley of Portland, Ore., whose arrival in London was announced today, will speak to municipal groups about American cities' war time problems and post-war plans.

Upon return from England, each American representative is expected thru speeches or articles to pass on information gathered about war time England.

The OWI is paying the expenses of the 10 consultants who, it was announced, are serving without compensation.

Besides Riley, the Americans already in England are Dr. Margaret Mead, anthropologist now working with the national research council; George V. Denny, director of the Town Hall of the Air, and Henry Steéle Commager, historian and Columbia university faculty member.

Those yet to arrive in England are Allan Kline of the farm bureau federation, Mrs. Iphigenie Bettman of Cincinnati, O., representing women's interest; Robert Lynd, author of the sociological text, "Middletown"; Worth McClure, superintendent of schools in Seattle, Wash., and president of the American Association of School Administrators; Chester La Roche, New York advertising official, and Mark Starr, director of workers' education for the International Ladies Garment Workers union.

X-RAY PICTURES FLYER REACTION AT 38,000 FEET

N. U. Pioneers Research Thru Actual Films.

For the first time men theoretically flying at 38,000 feet in decompression chambers are being X-rayed to determine why pilots suffer the "bends" and other pains in the stratosphere, Dr. A. C. Ivy, who is directing this pioneer research in aviation at Northwestern university, said yesterday.

Dr. Ivy, a professor of physiology, asserted X-ray film used in the high altitude test chamber had disclosed marked and significant changes in the heart, lungs, joints, and muscles of volunteer "pilots," providing flight surgeons and research men with new clews in their battle to overcome hazards of stratosphere flying.

Gas Expands in Joints.

For some time, he explained, scientists have known many pilots experienced pain caused by the expansion of gases in different parts of the body at 38,000 feet. Particles of dissolved gases lodge in fat tissue and the joints expand as the outside pressure decreases. The resulting pain is described as worse than rheumatism. In some cases at 38,000 feet, Dr. Ivy said gas in a flyer's stomach expanded about six times.

Dr. Ivy expressed amazement at the size of some of the bubbles and air pockets shown in X-ray films. He said the trouble was readily discernible in knees, shoulders, elbows, and wrist joints.

Because findings now can be recorded on X-ray films, he said, physicians can make their studies from them leisurely and minutely in their own laboratories. Another advantage, in his opinion, is that a group of scientists, working on the same problem in various sections of the country, can exchange their films, study them, and collaborate on their findings.

Operation Scientifically Guarded.

The X-ray transformer, with the operator's control panel, is located immediately outside the test chamber, with shock proof high voltage cables connecting it thru sealed channels to the X-ray tube, mounted on an adjustable stand within the chamber. Since this tube is immersed in oil in a hermetically sealed casing, operation is free from any of the effects of high altitude.

The flyers take cassettes [plate holders], each containing a 14x17 inch X-ray film, with them when they go inside the chamber. When the subject is ready for his radiograph, he steps into position in front of the X-ray tube, places a cassette to his chest, knee, or stomach as directed, and the operator on the outside of the chamber operates the X-ray controls and timer switch to make the exposure.

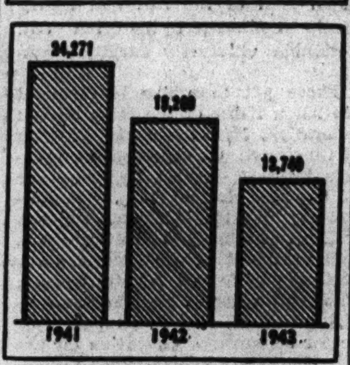
Col. McCormick Aids Research.

The first high altitude test chamber ever used was donated to the Northwestern university medical school three years ago by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, to further aviation research. Another model was the recent gift of George Horton, president of the Chicago Bridge and Iron company. The research is being financed by James McMillan, president of a pharmaceutical company; E. L. Dawes, plumbing manufacturer; Hill Blackett, advertising executive; Mrs. Marjorie Newman, and Col. McCormick.

Dr. Ivy is aided in his work by Dr. H. F. Adler, Dr. William Burkhart, and Dr. A. J. Atkinson, all of Northwestern, and seven coöperative young men.

Dr. Ivy said the staff conducts a variety of experiments in altitude pressure by means of its test chambers. For example, he said some of his "pilots" had endured pressure equivalent to diving an airplane at 1,700 miles per hour, but only because they had learned how to equalize the terrific pressure against their ears.

Fewer Killed



Traffic deaths in America for the first eight months of each of three years compared.

Traffic deaths in the United States during the first eight months of the year were 29 per cent below the same period last year and 43 per cent under the first eight months of pre-war 1941, the National Safety council reported yesterday. Fatalities for the first eight months of 1943 totaled 13,740.

Among the larger cities of the nation, Chicago ranked sixth in percentage reduction of traffic deaths. The toll here was 35 per cent below last year's figure. St. Paul, Minn., stood at the top of this list, with a 67 per cent drop in number of deaths.

The council reported 4,810 pedestrians were killed by motor vehicles during the first seven months of the year, a 21 per cent reduction from 1942. Nonpedestrian deaths declined 36 per cent in the same period.

PROBE HOARDING BY U. S. OF GOODS CIVILIANS NEED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—A congressional committee began looking under government stockpiles today to find out if things civilians need are being hoarded unnecessarily as war goods.

Chairman Wright Patman [D., Tex.] of the house small business committee said military officials and heads of government agencies would be interviewed because "it is a well known fact that there are surplus goods in many branches of the government."

"We intend to find out where it is," he said.

James V. Forrestal, undersecretary of the navy, assured the committee yesterday that his department has no surplus beyond its likely needs.

DEWEY REFUSES TO CALL SESSION IN AURELIO CASE

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP).—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declined tonight to call a special session of the legislature in the attempt to remove the name of Thomas A. Aurelio from the November election ballot.

Both Republicans and Democrats had sought legislative authorization for judicial conventions in the first district to reconsider their nominations of the New York City magistrate for the state Supreme court.

Dewey said a precedent might be set if the legislature were convened.

"The legislation sought is not of a general character," he stated. "It is designed solely to prevent one individual from being a candidate for judicial office. If this were to be done in this case, it could be in many others. It would permit the party in control of the legislature to pass special laws against the candidacy of any individual whom it disliked or feared."

SEEK SHOWDOWN ON BUS SERVICE TO RILEY SCHOOL

A showdown with the office of defense transportation on the problem of transporting Meadowcreek and North Lake children to the Riley school on Wolf road in Proviso township was authorized last night by Walter David, president of the district school board.

David attended a meeting of parents of 14 children who have been kept at home since the opening of school because the district was forced under an ODT order to abandon bus transportation for pupils living within a radius of a mile and a half of the school. After the charge was made that the ODT had changed orders on several occasions, David directed K. A. Montag, the superintendent; to make a new investigation of the regulations and confer with ODT officials in the matter of obtaining a bus to carry the children.

The action of the president appeared to mollify several of the fathers. They said they would use their own automobiles, beginning today, to haul pupils to school.

USE AIR POWER, NOT MAN POWER, DOWNEY PLEADS

Talks in Senate Against Draft of Fathers.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—Sen. Sheridan Downey [D., Cal.] accused the army high command today of making a "terrible blunder" in building a vast land army instead of concentrating air power against Germany.

Sen. Sheridan Downey.

The Californian told the senate that military land operations may bring millions of American casualties which could be prevented by proper use of aerial warfare.

He spoke in opposition to the fathers' draft, asserting that more men are now under arms in the continental United States than can ever be used.

Victory in 4 Months.

"If we now should concentrate upon Germany all our available bombers," Sen. Downey said, "within 60 days we could ruin at least 25 per cent of her cities and her production—within four months at least 50 per cent.

"And if that were not sufficient to force surrender, in a comparatively short time we could pound to rubble almost every city, factory, and building Germany possesses.

"After that, if our high command desired, we could march to the ruins of Berlin a few hundred thousands of the millions of allied soldiers now stationed in Africa and Britain, and, if it made our leaders happier, transport abroad a few token thousands of the many millions that would still be left in the continental United States."

Statements Challenged.

Sen. Downey's statements were frequently challenged by administration spokesmen, among them Sen. Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] the majority leader. Sen. Lister Hill [D., Ala.] demanded to know why Downey had not told high command leaders his views when they were before him during a year and a half of man power hearings by a military affairs subcommittee, of which Sen. Downey is chairman. Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] halted Sen. Downey to say:

"In view of the victories in the Southwest Pacific, I have complete confidence in the men who are running the army."

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], whose bill for the deferment of fathers until Jan. 1 is being debated, interrupted Sen. Downey's speech to read a telegram of defiance against the fathers' draft that Sen. Wheeler said came from Cecil L. Reid, chairman of the Fredericksburg, Va., draft board.

Refuses to Draft Dads.

The telegram told of draft dodgers in the government service and said of the families of fathers it has been ordered to draft:

"This board does not propose to turn these women and children out in the streets with a paltry $62 a month per wife and baby with these dodgers making fabulous salaries. And you can tell that to the President, congress and the whole world, including the marines. We are not going to make paupers out of them, and that is what we would do with living costs at the present level."

The message said in addition:

"Understand that Sen. Barkley desires that you name a government employe who is trying to dodge the draft. This board will be glad to have him inspect the files of this office and also show him the man, and he is not a rare bird."

Dodger Breeding Ground.

The message suggested taking Sen. Barkley to the naval proving ground at Dahlgren, Va., to see a place which it said should have its name changed to "dodger breeding ground." The message went on:

"Would also be glad to show him the efforts put forth by the army, navy, and marine officers to have single men 18 to 25 deferred. Some of their statements are so fantastic that, considering the gravity of the situation, Baron Munchausen's tales sound like quotations from the Bible.

"With slackers run out of government jobs, there would be sufficient men without calling fathers either pre or post-Pearl Harbor if married before receiving their questionnaire, or even men whose wives are entirely dependent upon them for support."

Downey's Conclusions.

Major statements in Sen. Downey's attack on the draft were:

That air power will soon be available to destroy all German's cities and production at a negligible cost in lives. That aircraft pressure on Germany is now less than one quarter of what can be developed, but the Germans may not even be able to bear this long.

That the destruction of Hamburg, achieved with a loss of 87 bombers, was a victory for which any allied commander would have been willing to sacrifice 20 to 30 divisions. That only air power saved the Americans from annihilation at Salerno. That while less than 30 per cent of American military power has been in air craft, bombers and fighters have inflicted more than 90 per cent of the injury suffered by the enemy. That American airplane production is 10 times that of Japan and five times that of Germany.

Rebukes Britain's Boosters.

That a slight lowering in army and navy standards would bring 700,000 more men who want to fight into the service. That the 446,000 fathers called for would not be needed, even under the army expansion program, if able men were replaced in nonfighting jobs with limited service men.

Sen. Downey rebuked administration leaders who charge that Americans are doing less in the war program than the British. With a population twice that of Great Britain and her dominions, Sen. Downey said, the United States is producing four times as much war supplies.

New Army Coat

New field overcoat which is authorized to be worn by army officers and WAC officers and personnel. The garment has the appearance of a trench coat, is made of olive drab cotton poplin or twill, has buttoned-in wool lining and detachable hood. It supplements other authorized coats.

WPB Bans Production of Unneeded Banners

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—To save materials for military uses, the war production board today banned production of advertising, theatrical, and "other unessential banners and flags." It also prohibited manufacture of any flag of over 150 square feet.

SERVICES BACK HIGHER GRANTS FOR CHILDREN

But Oppose Increasing Pay to Wives.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—The army and navy backed higher government payments to children of service men today, but opposed a boost for childless wives.

Maj. Gen. Miller G. White, head of the army's personnel branch, told the house military committee the war and navy departments generally favored the bill passed by the senate. This would continue at $50 a month—$28 coming from the government and $22 from the husband—payment to a wife, but would raise from $12 to $18 the monthly government payment for the first child and from $10 to $11 that for each additional child.

Would Separate Dependents.

In addition to an increase in payments for children, the general said payments should be raised for totally dependent parents, brothers, and sisters. He favored separating class B dependents [those other than wife and children] into two groups, one chiefly dependent and the other only partly dependent on a service man's financial help, with increased payments for those whose chief support comes from a service man.

White also favored the government's paying the entire first month's payment, without any deduction from the service man's check, and extending benefits of the act to dependents of all seven grades of enlisted men. Only dependents of enlisted men in the four lower grades now are eligible for payments. By requiring the government to make the entire initial payment, he explained, delay would be avoided and hardship averted.

The changes he supported would, he said, cost about $393,000,000 additional during the remaining nine months of this fiscal year.

Opposes Family Entanglements.

White opposed a suggestion that payments be withheld from wives who are financially independent or who prove unfaithful.

White was emphatic that the army did not want to become involved in questions of "domestic relations."

White also said he did not believe it would be wise to require the departments to determine whether a wife needed the allotment and allowance. The payments, he explained, were considered part of a service man's remuneration and no distinction should be made because of financial status.

Allotments Compared.

Following is a comparison of monthly allotments and allowances now paid to dependents of service men and the payments proposed [the amounts include the government's and the service men's contributions]:

Dependent—	Present.	Proposed.
Wife	$50	$50
Wife and one child	62	68
Each additional child	10	11
Former wife, divorced [if alimony is payable]	42	42
One parent dependent for chief support, with no class "A" dependents	37	50
One parent dependent for chief support, where there are class "A" dependents	20	37
Two parents dependent for chief support, where there are no class "A" dependents	47	68
Two parents dependents for chief support, where there are class "A" dependents	30	68
Two parents dependent for substantial support, with no class "A" dependents	47	37
Two parents dependent for substantial support, with class "A" dependents	30	37

Dependent brothers and sisters generally are treated as dependent children, the payments being based on the degree of dependency. A class "A" dependent is a wife or a child.

Overseas Soldiers Won't Get Gifts if You Delay!

Only 15 days after today remain for mailing Christmas packages and cards to soldiers overseas, Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen warned yesterday. The deadline is Oct. 15. Packages for sailors, marines, and coast guard personnel may be mailed as late as Nov. 1, he said. Gift packages should be plainly marked "Christmas parcel" to receive preferred handling. Shipping space for such mail must be secondary to that needed for arms and other supplies for fighters, Kruetgen pointed out.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

SERBS BATTLE TRIESTE NAZIS; GIVE UP SPLIT

Claim Successful Moves on Wide Front.

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP).—The Jugo-Slav army of liberation battled German troops over a wide front today, including the Italian city of Trieste, where its troops told of killing "a large number of Nazi soldiers."

The Jugo-Slav patriots continued successful operations in Montenegro, Hercegovina, and the province of Sandzak, said a bulletin released thru the Jugo-Slav government in exile tonight, but was forced to evacuate the Adriatic port of Split "to avoid encirclement." The reoccupation of Split was announced by the Germans yesterday.

Jugo-Slav fighters attacked and routed a German column in northern Dalmatia and killed 80 of the Nazis, the bulletin said, while 63 more were killed in Bosnia when two freight trains and an armored train were derailed. Another score of Germans was killed in Montenegro in a clash near Kolasin.

Use Top Nazi Troops.

The German radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, told of German SS [elite] troops being supported by the regular army in Dalmatia—an apparent confirmation that the operations of Jugo-Slav patriots had compelled Hitler to send for top grade troops into the area. This broadcast said the Italian city of Gorizia, 30 miles northwest of Trieste, as well as Split, were recaptured by the Germans in full scale battles of encirclement.

Swiss dispatches said the German controled press in northern Italy had published orders directing all members of the Italian air force, including those demobilized, to report for service with the German air force.

Berne dispatches said that in the confused period after the Italian armistice the Germans were able to gain control of most northern Italian cities by using loud speakers to trick the people into believing great Nazi forces were arriving.

Report Hungary Wavering.

A Budapest dispatch to the Swiss Gazette de Lausanne said that Hungary, now playing an increasingly isolated role in the Balkans, had refused to recognize Benito Mussolini's "Fascist-Republican" government of Italy. However, a dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio said the Budapest government had extended such recognition today.

From France came fresh evidence of increasing violence against Chief of Government Pierre Laval and his Nazi masters, with desperate collaborationists urging still harsher repressive measures against patriots scenting early freedom and trying to prepare the way for their liberators.

Belgian Patriots Active.

This description of conditions in rural France, where the peasant strength is stirring, was sent thru French and German censorship by a correspondent of the Madrid newspaper A. B. C.:

"City halls are attacked and sacked, fields and crops are burned, agricultural machinery is destroyed, tracks are torn up and trains are derailed."

The Belgian news agency in London also reported Belgian patriots damaged rail lines in their country.

An Istanbul dispatch said that Konstantin Sbarounas, until recently general secretary in the ministry of finance in the Athens government, told the United States Greek relief representative in Turkey that if the allies do not invade Greece and give the Greeks large scale relief from starvation and malnutrition before another winter, the Greek race would be threatened with extinction.

DOCTOR'S CHUTE OPENS; NOW HE'S CALLED 'RIPCORD'

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AT A U. S. BOMBER STATION SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 29.—"Ripcord Beckman" is what they call Capt. Wallace G. Beckman of Minneapolis, a doctor serving as flight surgeon at this Flying Fortress base.

Beckman earned the nickname when his parachute unexpectedly opened while he was riding in the nose of the plane during a bombing mission over Europe. At the time, the Fortress was being plastered by German anti-aircraft shell fragments, penetrating the gas tanks and fuselage and knocking out one engine.

"I thought I might be needing that parachute any minute and I didn't much like the looks of it spread out in the plane behind me," Beckman said. "Luckily, I didn't need it or I wouldn't be here to tell the story."

WAR BULLETINS

ALLIED.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 29 (AP).—An allied war bulletin said today:

GROUND — The 8th army continues to advance against weak resistance. The 5th army has driven the enemy out of his strong defensive positions in the mountains north and west of Salerno and forced an appreciable withdrawal.

AIR — Unfavorable weather over Italy hampered the operations of the northwest African air force yesterday. A few enemy aircraft were encountered and one was shot down. Fighter and fighter bombers attacked a train and a small motor transport convoy. Patrols were carried out in the battle area. None of our aircraft is missing.

ALLIED MIDDLE EAST.

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 29 (AP).—A middle east air forces bulletin today said:

During the night of Sept. 27-28, R. A. F. bombers attacked airdromes in Greece and the Aegean islands. Shipping and the port of Syros in the Aegean sea were bombed yesterday, explosions occurring among the warehouses. A small coastal vessel was sunk.

Enemy bombers yesterday attacked the Island of Kos [in the Dodecamese]. Spitfires forced some of the bombers to jettison their loads.

From these and other operations three of our aircraft are missing.

GERMAN.

Following is the Wednesday German war bulletin as broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press:

Continuous rain prevented extensive action on the southern Italian front. Despite difficult road conditions, our movements took their anticipated course.

HEAVY BOMBERS OF R. A. F. STRIKE AT NAZI TARGETS

LONDON, Sept. 30 [Thursday]—(AP).—R. A. F. heavy bombers, taking to the air again after a one night lull in the allied aerial offensive, bombed targets in Germany last night, the British announced today.

As usual, the preliminary announcement did not identify the specific objectives of the night raids, which followed a series of daylight forays by British fighters and fighter-bombers.

Spitfires, Mustangs, and Typhoons made low level attacks yesterday on German land and sea communications and damaged the locomotives of more than a dozen freight trains in occupied France.

Two large coastal vessels were seriously damaged by Typhoons off Holland. The raiders also shot up two other coastal vessels and several tugs, barges, anti-aircraft boats and torpedo boats. The operations were accomplished without the loss of a plane.

U. S. PLANE HAS NEW JOB: TAKES 150 PRISONERS!

Gunner Fires at Heels of Italian Troops.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—A navy flyer and his radio man captured 150 Italian soldiers and herded them to American lines without leaving their plane during the Sicilian invasion, the navy announced today.

The airmen were Lt. [j. g.] Paul E. Coughlin, Edina, Mo., and Radioman Richard Shafer, Albany, Ore., who directed the prisoners' march by firing at their heels. Coughlin told the story to his commanding officer:

"I circled past some of our soldiers, a forward patrol, on the beach at the foot of a cliff.

Italians Wave White Flag.

"They waved and pointed at the hill, which they were evidently having trouble gaining. I began to strafe this position, and after about four runs of fixed and free gunfire, white flags and Italians began appearing. I flew low and motioned for them to go in the general direction of our troops. Their movement was hurried and guided by the very accurate fire of the radioman.

"Looking about the top of the hill for a way to direct them, where they would be in the open, I saw white flags waving over four entrenchments and more Italians appeared.

"We rode herd on them. When one would start to stray or they would start spreading, shots were placed close to the stragglers. This worked very well and they gathered forces as they went forward, resulting in what appeared to be about 150 by the time they reached the American soldiers on the beach.

Machine Gun a Fake.

"At a critical point when they were scattering out, the free gun jammed. I told the radioman not to let them know, for they might try to escape. I circled low around them and told him to point the gun in their direction. As we got close to one who was making a run for it, I heard some shots fired. Looking back, I saw the radioman aiming the machine gun and firing his .45 beside it, making the fugitive run in the other direction.

"I went back over the hill and strafed the other positions, this time corralling about 30 stragglers. Looking quickly around the sky, I saw two German Messerschmitts closing on my tail. I put the plane into a steep dive. Five-inch shells from our cruiser began breaking between me and the enemy fighters, forcing them to turn away.

"As the planes disappeared I went back to find my prisoners gone, but a few shots and a little strafing of the vicinity soon rounded up most of them again."

ITALIAN FLEET SHOWS LITTLE DESIRE TO FIGHT

Develops Into Knotty Political Puzzle.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 29 (AP).—Disposal of the Italian fleet is developing into one of the knottiest political questions of the war.

So far the Italians have been allowed to keep their warships, which are admitted to be of great value to the allies, but they have shown little inclination to fight, in the Mediterranean or anywhere else.

The French, on the other hand, have pointed out to the United States and Britain that they have a reserve officer and sailor pool of 25,000 men willing to fight aboard the ships, either here or in the Pacific.

This situation frames a question which undoubtedly will be taken up by the Mediterranean commission being established by the allies.

The Dutch, Greeks, and Norwegians, all of whom lost their fleets on the side of the allies, also have reserve pools of sailors.

Ships Valuable in Pacific.

It would take considerable time to train crews to take over the battleships, but the small cruisers and destroyers, urgently needed by the allies, could be put into action quickly.

There is little inclination on the part of the allied chiefs to trust the Italian warships with the duty of guarding important allied troop convoys from air or undersea attack.

But the great speed of the Italian warships would make them especially valuable in the Pacific. Most of the Italian warships now are idle, altho a few destroyers are on missions.

Doubt Italians' Value.

In some military minds there may be doubt that the Italians are valuable enough militarily to justify the shipping space the allies have allotted them to keep them in the war.

The Italians already have requested that they be supplied with clothing for 300,000 persons, including troops who attacked Albania and Greece and were stationed there, but who now, disarmed by the Germans, have been returned to Italy.

REPORTS NAZIS MINE AIR FIELD OUTSIDE NAPLES

ALLIED HDQ., IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 29 (AP).—Fearful of an allied break thru to Naples, the Germans mined the runways at the Capodichino airfield three miles north of the city even before their own serviceable planes were able to take off, an Italian air officer who escaped from the city said today.

This officer told allied air officials that as a result of this action "there are dozens of machines—giant six engined Messerschmitt 323 transports, many Junkers 52s, Junkers 88s and Messerschmitt 110s at Capodichino." He added that "the ground is holed with craters which the Germans have not attempted to fill in. They preferred to burn the remaining aircraft."

At the even larger and better equipped Pomigliano airport 12 miles northeast of Naples, this report continued, "many German aircraft have been caught on the ground by our bombs, and the perimeter is a regular scrap heap of German aircraft and wrecked engines and fusilages."

THE MOST DELICIOUS STEAK YOU EVER TASTED WAS COOKED OVER AN OPEN FLAME!

Directions for "Sportsman's Steak"

Use charcoal; or hickory, cherry or apple logs for a delicate wood-smoke flavor. Burn fuel until you have bed of glowing coals. (If fireplace is wheelbarrow, fill partly with sand.) Place grill about 2 inches above fire, let heat thoroughly. Lay steaks on grill and turn as soon as seared. Turn again. Grill to suit individual taste. Season after removal from fire. (Some outdoor chefs pour ½ glass good pale ale over steak, after buttering, then knead steak gently until ale mixes with juices into a delectable gravy.)

NAZIS FLEEING; YANKS RACE FOR DOOMED NAPLES

U. S. Mobile Forces Plunge Thru Mountain Breach.

heavy rainstorm. By noon, Clark's men had captured Nocera, road center on the edge of the Naples plains 19 miles southeast of Naples and six miles south of Vesuvius.

Quick Use of Opening.

Castellammare, a city of 45,000 population with naval facilities capable of handling 330-foot ships, fell quickly.

Clark quickly capitalized on the break-thru and on German efforts to extricate their troops. Allied armor moved forward onto the Naples plains to exploit the situation. Armored and foot troops swiftly pushed the allied line to the Bay of Naples.

The only effective defense positions which the Germans could possibly employ between the charging allies and Naples appeared to be the slopes of Vesuvius. Even these positions appeared untenable because the allies were in position to drive onward on both sides of the mountain.

There was nothing to indicate that the enemy intended to risk a major stand anywhere near Vesuvius. Instead there was every sign that Marshal Albert Kesselring had completed all preparations to abandon the wrecked city, where for days his troops had been systematically destroying every installation of possible value to the allies.

Gain on Inland Front.

Altho the enemy appeared to be beating back toward the Volturno river, the 5th army may not be in a position to continue its heavy pressure far north of Naples until supplies and reënforcements can be brought up.

The crackup of German resistance was accompanied by sharp gains by American troops farther inland and by the British 8th army near the Adriatic coast.

United States troops on the 5th army right flank advanced six miles north against the crumbling German lines and last were reported within seven miles of Avellino, the road junction 25 miles east of Naples and back door to the port city.

The British wiped out a deep salient in the mountainous center, establishing a straight line between San Angelo, 45 miles east of Naples, and Melfi, 17 miles farther east. [Radio Algiers said San Angelo was captured.]

Along the Adriatic, the British drove without substantial opposition 12 miles north of Margherita di Savoia and occupied the fishing port of Zapponeto on the Gulf of Manfredonia, due east of Foggia.

Positions of New Battle Line.

On the basis of the latest announced places seized by the two allied armies, the battle line extended from Castellammare on the south shore of the Bay of Naples northeast thru Nocera and Montemarano to Tarella. From there, the front dips slightly to the southeast to San Angelo, thence east to Melfi. From Melfi, the line runs north of Foggia and then due east to Zapponeto.

For the third successive day, air activity was at a low level as bad weather grounded the predominant allied aerial armada. Only fighters and fighter-bombers got off the ground and they attacked a train and a small motor convoy. A few Nazi planes were sighted and one was destroyed.

No Large Numbers of Prisoners.

The military spokesman declined tonight to predict when Naples would fall.

"The stories out of Naples confirm that the enemy is not intending to hold the city, and the way he is making a shambles of it indicates he doesn't ever intend to return," the military spokesman said. "Reports from the front indicate the enemy's withdrawal is orderly and there is no suggestion of our taking large numbers of prisoners."

Both south and east of Naples, the Germans fought until the last minute before retreating.

"Every bridge, every culvert, and every road junction were blown up to slow down our advance," the spokesman said.

On the 8th army front in central and eastern Italy, the spokesman said German parachute troops were captured who "complained bitterly that their only job was to fight rear guard actions. One said there were only 17 men left in his company as the result of recent fighting."

FRENCH PRESS NAZIS INTO 15 MILE STRIP OF CORSICAN COAST

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 29 (AP).—The Germans now hold only a 15 mile strip along the east coast of Corsica, in the Bastia-Borgo-Folelli area, the French high command announced today.

The Nazis had speeded up their retreat from the strategic Mediterranean island, evacuating the mountainous area between Corte and the sea. Piedicroce, an important center of enemy resistance, was captured yesterday, the war bulletin said.

In the eastern Mediterranean middle east bombers attacked Greek airdromes, the port of Syros, and landing strips in the Aegean. The Germans raided Kos in the Dodecanese.

King Peter Reaches Cairo to Set Up Government

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 28 [Delayed] (AP).—King Peter of Jugo-Slavia has arrived here from London with his staff. The king reached Port Said aboard a British cruiser and motored to Cairo, where a villa had been prepared for him. The 20 year old king was accompanied by his premier and minister of foreign affairs, Dr. Bozhidar Puritch. With their arrival the seat of the Jugo-Slav government in exile is now transferred from London to Cairo.

Gold Coast Chief Climbs His Stool on Down Beat

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP).—The British colonial office announced that in a traditional day long ceremony with a lot of drum beating Daniel Agustus Opoku Ahyeampong was "enstooled" yesterday at Kibi in the Gold Coast colony as onanhene [chief of state] of Akim Abuakwa. Dan succeeds his late uncle, Nana Ofori Atta, who died last month. The new chief was invested with the name Ofori Atta II.

Leatherneck Writes to His Dog

Dear Old Pal:

You know, I've been wondering. When a guy's out here, a long way from home, he does a lot of thinking and a lot of wondering.

I've been wondering if Mom ever reads you any of my letters. Or maybe Mom, not knowing dogs like I do, sort of has it in her head that you wouldn't understand if she did read them to you. But I know different.

I've been wondering about something else, too. I've been thinking that this selective service thing doesn't go far enough. When a guy like me has got a dog like you, they ought to let us team up. I've been in a couple of spots lately where I could have used you . . . and how! And you would have loved it because you sure are fond of the gun!

And talk about fox holes! Gee, I've been in a lot of 'em lately, and when I get out of 'em, I don't always pick up the "scent." That's where you'd come in . : : with a nose like yours.

I've made up my mind to one thing. If ever I ran a war, I'd fix it so that pals like you could go along, because what's the use of having a lot of fun and excitement (and, believe it or not, plenty of beef) when you can't share it with your best pal.

Well, I've got to be a little careful what I write you because the censor reads all these letters, so take good care of yourself and guard the old homestead. Don't let anybody pull off any funny business while we guys with the tin hats are away.

And whatever you do, don't eat too much; stay in condition because this shindig is going to be over one of these days, and then I'll lay down this rifle and pick up the old scatter gun, and go out with you—just the two of us—and do some shooting that don't do too much harm.

So long, old meat dog. I'll be seeing you.

Your friend,
Jack.

P. S. Tell that fancy bench dog up the street that this is no place for him. You can't get very far in this man's war, being gun-shy. J.

REFUGEES TELL OF NAZI TERROR RULE IN NAPLES

Report Civilians Put Into Slave Labor Battalions.

WITH THE U. S. NAVY IN THE GULF OF SALERNO, Sept. 26 [Delayed]—(AP).—The once beautiful port of Naples is now a ravaged city of horrors. Desperate German troops—ruling the tortured city by terrorism—are spreading destruction, machine gunning women and children and forcing soldiers and civilians alike into slave labor battalions with death for those who refuse.

This is the story brought from Naples by terrified refugees who escaped in fishing boats, risking drowning at sea rather than face the fury of their one-time allies.

Many of the refugees were not so lucky. The Germans tossed hand grenades into their boats as they attempted to slip away from the harbor or machine gunned the frail craft.

Port a Shambles.

The port is rapidly becoming a shambles, refugees say, and harbor facilities and ships are being blasted and burned day and night. Great clouds of smoke drift over the city and make the smoke pouring from Vesuvius seem a puny effort. The rumble of demolitions is plainly audible on the island of Capri, which is becoming a haven for hundreds of refugees.

One refugee, who asked that his name be withheld for fear of reprisals against his relatives held by the Germans, told this story:

"There are many bodies of dead Italians lying in the streets of Naples. Some of them were shot down for no reason except that they were walking the streets. I saw a German shoot an Italian soldier who still had a rifle. A young man ran to pick up the rifle and he was killed, too.

"I saw a German soldier flip a cigaret butt into the street. A youth stooped to pick it up and he was shot. There is an absolute reign of terror existing. Food stores are being looted and the people are starving in their homes, afraid to go out on the street.

"The Germans are forcing every able bodied man to 'volunteer' for labor battalions. They are taking them north as pioneer troops and perhaps to force them to work in German factories. These people are becoming nothing more than slave laborers.

"A few days after the armistice some of our troops fought the Germans in Naples. But they had little ammunition, since the Germans controlled the supplies. The Germans soon overpowered them."

Allied bombings smashed most of the harbor facilities, sank many ships in the gulf and alongside docks and battered the railway terminals. What the planes did not destroy the Germans are trying to finish and from all reports they are setting the torch to many nonmilitary buildings such as the Naples opera house.

Torpedo Factory Blasted.

Great fires are burning in the southern part of the city where the Germans blasted a torepdo factory, the military arsenal, gas works, engineering works and many oil storage centers around the railway yards.

Obviously Naples' primary value to the allies is in its large harbor. Since the invasion, all troops, armor, guns and supplies have been moved across the beaches in the gulf of Salerno by shallow draft amphibious operations vessels. Once Naples harbor is seized, deep draft vessels can speed up the flow of supplies and material to the army.

The food situation in Naples is acute. No supplies are moving into the metropolis from the farms, where there are abundant harvests of grapes, apples, peaches, nuts, and vegetables.

Disease has broken out among the malnourished people to increase the fear and misery. Many refugees arriving at Capri are being segregated for fear disease will spread to the little playground islands. The influx of 100 to 200 persons each day is putting a strain on Capri's slender food resources.

The refugees arrive with only small bundles of valuables, 15 to 20 persons crowded into a small boat.

Hubby Must Work

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. ANNA PATROVSKY.

The day when a husband could come into court and get a sympathetic hearing on his plea that he couldn't find enough work to keep up his alimony payments has passed, Judge Robert J. Dunne said in Circuit court yesterday when in two cases he ordered men to get to work immediately.

Joseph Patrovsky, 41 years old, a butcher, hailed into court by his former wife, Anna, 28, of 4537 South Francisco avenue, for being $290 in arrears for support of his wife and daughter, Geraldine, 7, was ordered to find a job in 24 hours and pay $200 within two weeks. He also was told to quit drinking and go on a milk diet.

Joseph Shuman, 42, a printer, has a job that pays him only $78 a month, so Judge Dunne told him to get a better one. His wife, Jean, 36, a secretary living at 1320 South Troy street, is suing for divorce and asking temporary support for herself and their son, Morton, 9. He was forbidden to visit handbooks and ordered to pay $7 a week.

ADMIRAL SAVES CHICAGOAN FROM NAZI SHELL FIRE

But Lieut. John Shaheen Loses His Clothes.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SALERNO, Italy, Sept. 27 [Delayed].—Lt. John M. Shaheen, former Republican publicity man in Chicago, was apologizing today for wearing an enlisted man's dungarees instead of his regular uniform. But he had a good reason, for some German 88 mm. shells destroyed his luggage.

Lt. John M. Shaheen.

Shaheen and his comrades, including army Capt. [Jumping Joe] Savoldi of Benton Harbor, Mich., former Notre Dame football star; Lt. [j. g.] Harry Ringling North of Sarasota, Fla., a member of the circus family, and Ensign Anson Burke of Enfield, Conn., a Penn half back a few years ago, had just landed on the concrete mole of Salerno last week when the German guns opened up from the hills.

Shells 20 Feet Away.

The shells exploded around them, one only 20 feet away, and their gear went up in smoke from the shrapnel.

"We were in a tough spot," Shaheen said, "and there was no way of reaching our little assault boat. But just then a British rear admiral in a motor launch saw our position and ordered his crew to our rescue.

Gold Braid Welcome Sight.

"We piled into the launch and the admiral skilfully directed it in a zigzag course to avoid the shell fire and bring us safely to a larger vessel. I never was so glad to see gold braid in my life as I was to see that admiral."

Shaheen, who also participated in the Sicilian invasion, formerly lived in the Hotel La Salle in Chicago. His parents live in Tampico, Ill.

HE'S PARACHUTIST.

Lt. John M. Shaheen, of Chicago, was publicity director for the Illinois Republican party from 1938 to 1940. He was commissioned an ensign in 1941 and assigned to public relations duties in Chicago. He entered training for combat service last year. He won the parachutist wings of the marine corps, and became the first navy line officer to be certified by the army.

HINTS SUBS MAY HAVE DEALT HEAVY BLOW TO GERMAN FLEET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 29.—That the British "midget" submarines which recently attempted to attack a concentration of German warships in a Norwegian fjord, accomplished the major part of their mission was hinted today by Comdr. Kenneth Edwards, Daily Telegraph naval correspondent. The Germans had reported that all the submarines were destroyed.

Edwards recalled reports from Sweden which told of sabotage among German warships in Norway and of mutiny in which German military units were said to have participated. A further report that the pocket battleship Luetzow steamed south to a German port was regarded by Edwards as indicating that the strong concentration of German warships in Norway had been seriously impaired.

"It seems strange," he wrote, "that one unit from the German fleet should leave the harbor. While it may be too much to expect that the [battleship] Tirpitz, the [[battle cruiser] Scharnhorst and the Hipper class cruiser all have been disabled, there is no doubt that the situation of the German fleet in Altenfjord is far from happy."

NAZIS' ENEMIES INFILTRATE HIGH POSTS OF PARTY

Reports Reds in Germany Camouflage Resistance.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 29 (AP).—Secret enemies of the German Nazi regime are at work even in the highest positions of the various party organizations, including the Hitler Youth, Arvid Fredborg, Swedish newspaper man, says in his new book, "Behind the Steel Wall."

Some of them probably are protected by German military authorities because otherwise they hardly could continue their activities for months and years, Fredborg says, basing his conclusions on work and residence in Germany from February, 1941, to June, 1943.

Monarchists Lack Pretender.

German opposition against nazism consists roughly of four main groups, Fredborg says. The monarchists are strong, but handicapped because they are without a pretender.

The Liberals have no decided position on the question of state form. In most cases they are split on whether the fourth reich shall be a United National Liberal Germany governed from Berlin or a federative Germany.

The Social Democrats form a strong group among the workers, but the Nazis have been able to cripple it more than other groups.

Resistance of the masses to the Nazis, therefore, is comparatively weak.

Bore from Within.

Communist leaders are among those who want a total social and economic revolution. They are greatly aided by the fact that hundreds of thousands of persons have lost everything by air attacks or have been driven to desperation by the hard police regime.

There is great danger that anarchy can break out in Germany. The Communists have carried out intensive propaganda which is camouflaged as factual criticism of the Nazi system.

Active resistance must work under great difficulties. The first problem is how to disseminate information on the real state of affairs and avoid arrest by the Gestapo.

The opposition avails itself of every means. Propaganda of the underground radio stations especially is important. Hundreds of thousands of Germans live illegally. To a certain degree they are Jews but in most cases they are enemies of the regime. It is almost a miracle that they can solve the food problem. Black marketing is part of the explanation.

A great part of the resistance is helped thru sabotage in the leading circles. Many Nazis are trying to buy their future existence by serving the opposition.

How Youth Resists.

A German youth discussed politics maturely with Fredborg and explained that the opposition elements among the youth are numerous, that young groups are inclined to form circles of resistance, tho pretending to be Nazis.

Most Germans have turned their backs to the Nazi party. The misuse of power by the party and widespread corruption have aroused the bitterest feelings. There are three factors of direct political significance which are likely to outlive the Nazis—the church, high finance, and the army. In the fight for freedom of conscience the clergy, especially the Catholic church, has taken the lead.

DAN CUPID PLANS BRITAIN-TO-IOWA HOP TOMORROW

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 29 (AP).—Anne Peattie, Columbus, O., and John A. S. Wood, an R. A. F. pilot in England, will be married in Davenport by proxy, probably tomorrow. Representing Wood will be James M. Hengst, also of Columbus. The license was obtained here because proxy marriages are recognized in Iowa.

The marriage will permit Miss Peattie to join her husband provided she enters war work in England. She and Wood met in Canada several years ago, planned to marry, but the war prevented Wood from coming to America. Miss Peattie took matters in her own hands and won over many complications.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Peattie. Her father is a professor at Ohio State university.

GIRL'S LOVE LETTER TO NAZI SOLDIER HINTS AT WAR WEARINESS

BY DANIEL DE LUCE.

CORLETO-PERTICARA, Southern Italy, Sept. 22 [Delayed].—Near here lies a mangled Nazi army truck in which two Germans set out to lay mines to protect the Nazi retreat. Both the soldiers were killed by an allied air attack. Beside the body of one today I found a letter which cast an amazing light on the war weariness of the German home front. The typewritten note from a German girl, "Bobb," to her soldier sweetheart, "Mein Lieber Kurt," said:

"It's now weeks and months that my last two letters have gone unanswered. I had hoped you might surprise me by suddenly appearing on leave and I waited in the summer heat as if I were sitting on ice. Are our diplomatic relations broken off? Are they to be replaced by enemy activity? I hope that you are healthy, secure and in good circumstances and between times are well off under Greater Germany's korporal [Hitler?].

"Everything here is satisfactory . . . allied terror attacks are greater than ever. . . . Hamburg, which is spoken of as a 'general test,' suffered heavily . . . Everything is satisfactory except that my 76 year old father's home was hit and burned down. He was knocked unconscious and was taken to the hospital with grave burns.

"Reichsmarshal [Goering?] whose mouth was always so full of words is now silent. He is called 'Tengelmann' [name of a German chain of restaurants] because in so many towns he has had defeat."

Standley and Roosevelt Confer About Russia

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—Adm. William H. Standley, ambassador to Russia, made his first report to President Roosevelt today since his return from Moscow. He declined to reveal details of the conference. He plans to give up his diplomatic post and W. Averill Harriman, lend-lease coördinator in London, is being mentioned as his successor.

TWO GUNMEN GET $13.

Bliss Boering, 1349 East 53d street, clerk in the 1117 Dearborn North apartments, reported to police he was held up yesterday by two armed bandits, one carrying two revolvers, who robbed the cash drawer of $13.

HULL AVERSION TO FLYING MAY SHIFT PARLEY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—London, instead of Moscow, may be the scene of the forthcoming American-British-Russian conference.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull has informed colleagues he definitely expects to attend the meeting and, in view of his dislike for air travel, indications developed today that the conference might be shifted from Moscow to shorten his trip.

Hull will join Foreign Minister Anthony Eden of Britain and Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia in an attempt to promote greater coöperation among the three allies, both in the field of actual warfare and in the realm of post-war planning.

The conference is expected to prepare the way for another later in the year among President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, and Premier Josef Stalin.

FINDS FEW SIGNS OF GERMAN STAY ON ISLE OF CAPRI

Tribune Man Sees Naples Ruins Across Bay.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISLE OF CAPRI, Sept. 26 [Delayed].—Standing amid the ruins of Tiberius' palace atop this romantic isle, I could see other ruins in the making as flames and explosions seared Naples, northeast across the bay. Just a few miles away was the war at its worst, yet Capri was calm and untouched—now a haven for refugees, as for many years it had been for travelers from all over the world.

Turning from the sights of war, I viewed Capri, the little oasis by-passed by the war. The allies occupied the island a few days after they invaded Italy. There had been 164 Germans here and they pulled out without presenting any resistance.

Germans Leave Names.

There are only a few signs that the Germans had ever been in Capri. On some of the palace ruins German soldiers had scrawled their names—such as Otto Schmidt and Hans Mueller—inglorious inscriptions for these classic columns.

Men in allied uniforms now tread the paths where lovers once roamed and naval craft moved by the famous Blue Grotto. Italians who had been anti-fascist during all the period that Benito Mussolini was in power came here for sanctuary since the Germans left. Shop counters are piled high with coral, tortoise shell, linen, silk, plate, and inlaid boxes.

Some Foods Scarce.

The bars have champagnes, whisky, gin, brandy, and vermouth. Already there was a tendency to hike the prices for shoppers and imbibers but AMG [allied military government of occupied territory] representatives acted to halt the exorbitant rises.

Some food staples are difficult to get and most Americans and British brought their own rations, which the hotels and restaurants prepare for them. There was a sufficiency, however, of fruit and a bitter concoction which the labels call coffee.

Tiberio Morgano, rotund manager of a hotel, was glad to see the Americans and British, and the visitors were glad to see his clean beds and sunlit rooms.

BLAME FOR FAMINE IN BENGAL DIVIDES OPINION IN BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Who is responsible for the famine in Bengal, India—the Indians or the British government which rules India today?

Alfred Watson, who is described as an authority on Indian affairs, writes in the Daily Telegraph that the famine is the result of the "incompetence of the Indian administration of the province to grapple with the situation and of the greed of Indian speculators and hoarders."

The Daily Express and the communist Daily Worker take a different view. The former demands instant action to relieve the food shortage, saying "this is our affair touching on our honor and good name." The Daily Worker comments: "Had the British government of India been concerned as much with the saving of its subjects from dying as it was with jailing their leaders," it could easily have prevented the famine.

STEAL DOCTOR'S BAG.

A bag of instruments and medicines valued at $200 was stolen from the automobile of Dr. Max Schmidhofer, 2727 Giddings street, yesterday on Bell avenue near Van Buren street, he reported to police.

TOUHY DENIES AIDING DARLAK TO FLEE PRISON

The trial of Roger Touhy, William Stewart and Matthew Nelson, charged with aiding Edward Darlak to flee Stateville penitentiary when all four escaped last year, will be concluded today with closing arguments before Judge Roscoe C. South in Circuit court at Joliet. Each side has been given three hours for argument, and the case is expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Touhy was a witness for six minutes yesterday. Serving 99 years for the kidnaping of John [Jake the Barber] Factor, Touhy said he has been in prison since February, 1934, "because of fraud and conspiracy." This answer was ordered stricken, and Touhy said he did not know why he is in prison. He said he did not aid Darlak, a convicted murderer whose 199 year term will be incurred by the three on trial if they are convicted.

Touhy said he had been arrested only for some traffic violations before 1933, except once in Florida when police found a case of liquor in his home. The court allowed Touhy to say he was a navy wireless operator stationed at Harvard university in World War I., that he is 45 years old, married, and the father of two sons, 18 and 17 years old. Touhy was not cross-examined.

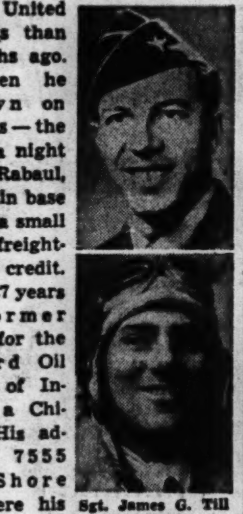
CHICAGOAN FLIES ON 14 MISSIONS IN TWO MONTHS

A West Sider Helps Him Bag Jap Ship.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Sept. 28 [Delayed].—First Lt. Harry N. Young came to New Guinea from the United States less than two months ago. Since then he has flown on 14 missions—the first one a night trip over Rabaul, New Britain base—and has a small Japanese freighter to his credit.



Sgt. James G. Till [top] and Lt. Harry Young.

Young, 27 years old, a former salesman for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, is a Chicagoan. His address is 7555 South Shore drive, where his wife, Frances, lives. The crew of his plane included a second Chicagoan, Tech. Sgt. James G. Till, 30 years old, a radio operator and waist gunner, of 3841 Adams street.

First Bomb Misses.

Their best mission was on Sept. 16 during daytime reconnaissance along the equator, about 40 miles from Jap held Manus Island, where they sighted three Jap ships of about 1,000 tons each. Young decided to pretend he did not see the ships and flew into a cloud where he set up the bombsights and put the ship on the automatic pilot to help the bombardier before emerging to make his run.

They dropped a lone 500 pounder on this run, missing one ship by a hundred feet.

"We did not want to miss again," Young said, "so we decided to go down and skip bomb. While the bombardier was back changing fuses we went about to 100 or 200 feet altitude and strafed all three ships. Then we made a second bomb run, but something went haywire and all three bombs went together. The last bomb caused one of the ship's plates to buckle and it began listing 16 degrees. So we made four more strafing runs at mast height, firing all our guns.

"We expended about 1,000 rounds of ammunition and knocked the mast off the other ships, as was shown later in photos. They'd been shooting at us, of course, and put a hole in No. 4 prop, five holes in No. 3 engine, a hole in the fuselage, and knocked a piece out of the nosewheel strut. We were over the ships about an hour. I think we certainly killed some Japs and sank one ship."

"Got Some Shots In."

We asked Till, whose last job in Chicago was that of a laundry clerk, whether he could see any Japs as the big Liberator flashed over the ships.

"I couldn't really see any Japs," he said, "but we may have shot one or two of 'em. We silenced one gun for a while, apparently until replacements got to it. We felt really good during that fight. Every one wanted to get down as low as possible. All the gunners got some shots in."

We began talking about Chicago.

"How'd you like to be walking down Michigan boulevard in the fall?" Young asked.

"The Gold Coast?" Till asked.

"The Outer drive," Young went on.

That was enough for Till.

"Don't talk about it," he said. Then he went back to what he was doing when Young had called him over for our chat—helping some of the boys build a floor.

GRADUATE OF CRANE.

Sgt. James G. Till entered the army air forces in June, 1942, and went to New Guinea last May as a gunner and radio operator on a bomber crew. A 1931 graduate of Crane Technical High school, he had worked in several printing shops in Chicago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sante Till. His brother, Joseph, is in the navy.

Sterling, Ill., Flyer Gets Medal for Aleutians Raids

AN ALEUTIANS BASE, Sept. 29 (AP).—Lt. Robert W. Rennan, a fighter pilot, of Sterling, Ill., has been awarded the distinguished flying cross for bombing and strafing attacks against Japanese installations in the western Aleutians area while the Japs were on Attu and Kiska, the 11th air force announced today.

Heroism on New Georgia

Yank Kills 20

U. S. ARMY HDQ. IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Sept. 29 (AP).—Sgt. James Burgess of Lakewood, O., is the newest one man army in the South Pacific. Burgess attacked a Japanese force of about 100 men, killed an estimated 20 and broke up an attack on a beachhead in the New Georgia campaign.

Corp. Andrew Genzoli of Ferndale, Cal., an army public relations man who reported the exploit, said Burgess volunteered to man a machine gun outpost protecting a beachhead supply dump. One night, an estimated force of 100 Japanese approached the beachhead. A Japanese probed Burgess' foxhole with a bayonet, almost touching him.

As soon as the Jap went far enough away, Burgess put his machine gun into action. He cut into the main body, dispersing the greater portion of them, killing an estimated 20, and putting an end to the attack on the beachhead. Given up for missing in action, Burgess reached his base four days later.

Win Hot Meal

U. S. ARMY HDQ. IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Sept. 29 (AP).—Seven American soldiers during the New Georgia campaign wiped out a nest of 12 Japanese, and then calmly sat down and ate the hot meal the enemy had prepared.

The report by army headquarters said the seven-man patrol noticed Japanese activity at a command post, and immediately began to storm it. Sgt. Arthur Richey of Steubenville, O., and Pvt. Paul Rickenhouse of Carlyle, Ill., fired continuously with Browning automatics. Then the Americans began tossing hand grenades into the three Japanese foxholes. A few minutes later the action was over.

The Americans, none of whom was injured, counted 12 dead Japanese. But what pleased the soldiers most was the presence of cooked rice, fish, beef and crackers. It was the first hot meal the Americans had enjoyed since the opening of the campaign for the Munda air field.

U. S. AND BRITISH BOMBERS RIP JAPS IN BURMA

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 29 (AP). —American and British air units struck again at Japanese supply lines in central Burma yesterday with attacks on rail installations and river transport, headquarters war bulletins announced today.

American Mitchells raided Myotha, highway hub and supply point on the railroad running between Mandalay and Myingyan to the southwest. Other United States 10th air force formations caused heavy destruction in rail yards at Taungtha, south of Myingyan. All of the American planes returned safely.

The British war bulletin said R. A. F. Beaufighters blasted enemy transport along the Chindwin and Irrawaddy rivers.

Japs Conscript Javanese.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Sept. 29 (AP).—The Japanese are conscripting East Indian natives for anti-aircraft defense and plane spotter work as the result of the mounting tempo of allied air raids in that area, The Netherlands news agency Aneta reports. Tokio broadcasts said all able-bodied Javanese men had been called for training for air defense duties, Aneta said.

New Zealand's Premier Bars Rivals in Regime

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Sept. 29.—Prime Minister Peter Fraser today spurned any suggestion of taking the opposition parties into his government. In a statement in the government organ, the Standard, he said: "We do not propose to be handicapped or trammeled in any way by sharing the authority for carrying out our policy and our legislative and administrative plans for its realization with any person or party which has opposed us and our program and which has been rejected by the people."

YANKS HURL 145 TONS OF BOMBS ON WEWAK JAPS

Destroy Munitions Depot and Fuel Supplies.

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 30 [Thursday] — (AP). — American bombers smashed again at the Japanese base at Wewak, New Guinea, and destroyed a large munitions depot there, Gen. MacArthur announced today. Pilots, who took part in the long range aerial assault, said they started the largest explosions ever witnessed in the Southwest Pacific.

In addition to the destruction of vital munition dumps, the bombers also touched off large fuel supplies and counted eight fires as they left for their home bases.

Drop 145 Tons of Bombs.

The war bulletin said 145 tons of bombs were dropped on the enemy's northeast New Guinea base.

On the land side, Australian troops battered their way thru fixed Japanese defenses to move within 600 yards of the main jetty at Finschhafen, Japanese shipping base overlooking their more important bases at New Britain.

The advance was the first reported for days after the Australian veterans ran into typical Japanese pillbox and machine gun emplacements.

Down Eight Planes.

The raid against Wewak was not without stiff opposition. The bombers smashed into a defending force of 40 Japanese fighters and destroyed eight of them.

Their aerial success added new gains to the imposing list of plane losses inflicted on the Japanese there, the losses now mounting far in excess of 400.

This raid on the enemy's operational base 325 miles up the coast from the present ground fighting scene followed quickly another on Monday in which more than 60 planes were destroyed and seven ships of a newly arrived convoy were sunk.

No Planes Lost.

In addition to the eight Japanese intercepting fighters shot down, three others were believed "probably destroyed." The allies lost no planes in the raid, but some of the attacking force limped home damaged.

The Australians, in their slow drive against Finschhafen from the north, captured additional Japanese positions south of the Bumi river. This drive, closest of three main attacks against the base, pushed into Salankaua plantation. Still another force coming up from behind made progress while the third force driving east from Lae advanced to Mango point.

The ground troops had the support of American attack and dive bombers that strafed coastal trails on which Japanese still contested the advance.

Farther to the northwest where allied forces were pointed toward Madang, heavy bombers dropped 24 tons of 1,000 pound bombs and caused extensive landslide obstructions along the narrow trails.

Bombers Raid Solomons.

Bomber planes from the South Pacific turned their attention to Bougainville Island in the Solomons and scored hits on supply and bivouac areas and gun positions at Jakohina and Kangu hill.

The Japanese offered aerial resistance, sending up 30 fighters to intercept, but the bombers went ahead with their task while American fighters engaged the Zeros and shot down two. We lost one fighter.

The Wewak raid, the 10th since mid-August, occurred Tuesday.

New Record Set in East for Ship Production

Baltimore, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP).—Launching of Bethlehem-Fairfield's 19th Liberty ship for the month today sets a new east coast monthly production record, yard officials announced. The vessel—the S. S. Horace Bushnell—was under construction 25 days, two days less than the average building time. Two other ships were launched in 23 days and four in 24 days, the yard reported.

SPANGLER SEES GOOD PROSPECTS IN 4 ELECTIONS

Confident of Successes for Republicans.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 29 [Special].—Republican National Chairman Harrison Spangler considers four approaching elections as important weather vanes indicating 1944 trends, and believes "if we [Republicans] win two of them we will be all to the good."

Before leaving for Detroit to attend a Michigan organization meeting, Spangler, whose home is in Cedar Rapids, summed up the situation as follows:

1. Special election of lieutenant governor in New York: "Our chances are excellent."
2. Gubernatorial election in New Jersey: "Good."
3. Gubernatorial election in Kentucky: "A close fight."
4. Election of mayor in Philadelphia: "We should win."

Sees Heavy Vote by Women.

Spangler cited a recent congressional election in Kansas as indicative of present trends. "In the same district in 1942, a Republican congressman was elected by 59 per cent of the vote," Spangler said. "The special election occasioned by his death resulted in a Republican victory by 69 per cent of the vote."

Spangler predicted women would cast 50 per cent of the Presidential vote in 1944.

Back Mackinac Resolution.

He said Republicans in both houses of congress were united "to a man" on the Mackinac Island resolution on foreign and domestic affairs, and that newspaper editorial comment had been 83 per cent favorable, 3 per cent unfavorable, and 14 per cent neutral.

Spangler will go from Detroit to Republican national headquarters in Washington.

WARN U. S. TO GET NOTHING FOR ITS WAR BILLIONS

Russell. "A high French official told us that the United States had better get ready for the peace. There are many problems of transportation, rights to bases, and things like that which will come up immediately after the war ends on which we should be prepared in advance or we'll be sorry."

"In other words," supplemented Sen. Brewster, "we need wise planning now for post-war aviation."

Supply 65 Per Cent of Oil.

Sen. Mead led up to the discussion of the Persian gulf oil matter by explaining that he and Sen. Brewster acted on the tour as emissaries for the Truman committee which is investigating the progress of the war.

He explained that altho the western hemisphere has only about 25 per cent of the world's oil, he and his colleagues discovered that we are supplying about 65 per cent of the oil being used on all fronts by the allied nations.

Sen. Russell cut in with the information that at the present rate of consumption our oil will be gone in 10 or 12 years. He said that more than 50 per cent of our shipping today consists of oil carrying boats.

"We would have to go out with a tin dipper and beg for petroleum if the United States had to fight another war 10 years from now, at the rate we are exhausting our reserves," Sen. Brewster declared.

Upholds MacArthur.

He said the oil fields at Abadan, Iran, a British monopoly and one of the richest oil fields in the world, could increase their output by, 40 per cent.

"We were told," he continued, "that they couldn't move the oil from there because of lack of shipping. But they say they now are able to get the ships. I hope greater use will be made of Persian oil from now on."

The senators agreed that Gen. MacArthur must have more ships and equipment. They said much of his supplies now must be paddled up to the fighting fronts in canoes.

They also declared that Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia never will stand for any reduction of the command of MacArthur in the South Pacific. Sen. Brewster said MacArthur made his statement about being satisfied to assume a subordinate role after hearing reports that Britain's Lord Mountbatten was to take supreme command, but that Curtin told him [Brewster] he never would approve such a move.

U. S. Participation Ignored.

The senators said that foreign news services and radio systems are not giving American fighting forces as much credit as they are entitled to, adding that many reports play down or ignore entirely American participation even in instances where America bore the brunt of the fighting.

They declared that this country has developed the "toughest fighting force the world has ever seen," with all branches working closely together. They said there is no friction between army and navy commands, but the lower ranks maintain some of the spirit of army-navy football rivalry.

They reported that the subject uppermost in the minds of the soldiers is when they can get home and that next among the things they talk about most is whether they'll get jobs after the war.

BURGLAR ESCAPES UNDER FIRE.

A burglar was fired on by Policeman Howard Rauhut but escaped thru a rear window of Ed Garrity's buffet at 5412 Lakewood avenue early yesterday with $28 taken from a jukebox.

A 1-MAN AMBUSH COSTS THE BLUE ARMY 25 TANKS

Fast Thinking Sergeant Tricks Enemy Column.

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

With the 2d Army in Tennessee, Sept. 29.—A long column of blacked out vehicles rumbled to a stop at midnight before Staff Sgt. Nicholas Oresko, Bayonne, N. J., detailed as a road guide by his Red infantry regiment.

"Which way?" called a voice from the lead truck. Sgt. Oresko gulped as he made out the enemy Blue markings on the truck. Then he did some fast thinking. Deciding the Blues mistook him for one of their scout patrols, he waved the column down a wooded lane.

Twelve trucks filled with paratroopers chugged down the little road. Twenty-five tanks followed. The road wound into a clearing. The men dismounted to find themselves surrounded by Sgt. Oresko's regiment. He had directed the powerful Blue force into as pretty an ambush as any since Delilah de-powered Samson.

Water Is Purified.

It takes more than six gallons of pure water per man daily to keep the army going. The method was described by Corp. Edwin Graham, Springfield, Mass., who, because of pre-army college training as a chemist, now directs a three man detail which operates one of six water purification depots needed by each division.

Corp. Graham had set up his equipment on the banks of a shallow stream. Gasoline driven pumps pushed water in a two inch hose thru a chlorine tank, then into a filter tank 3 feet tall and 18 inches in diameter. The water went in the tank the color of coffee and came out crystal clear. It was then pumped into a 7,000 gallon canvas reservoir for storage until picked up by trucks which shuttle it to the front either in 300 gallon trailers or five gallon cans. Corp. Graham's outfit produces 22,000 gallons of pure water daily.

Begin Winterizing.

As nights become chilly in the Tennessee hills soldiers at maneuvers headquarters are putting wooden walls and floors in tents used by headquarters personnel. Stoves will follow. The boys in the field will do their winterizing Oct. 16, changing from cotton to woolen uniforms.

First Lt. Spencer Burnham, 25 years old, was killed last night when an army car overturned near Scottsville. His mother was listed as Helen O. Burnham, 83 East Cedar street, Chicago.

The battle for the Cumberland river was over today, called off after the attacking force in two days shattered defense positions. The battle was the shortest in the history of the maneuvers here. Men didn't complain. Unless the next battle is advanced from its scheduled start next Monday, the soldiers will have a five day week-end.

Illinois Flyers in Pacific Win Oak Leaf Clusters

ALLIED HDQ. IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 29 (AP).—Two Illinois flyers on this front have been awarded oak leaf clusters in lieu of additional distinguished flying crosses. Flight Officer Donald N. Shaw of Springfield received the award for heroism in 50 operational missions which involved flying low over mountainous terrain, while Sgt. Harold Hopland of Rossville was decorated for 200 hours of long range bombing against Japanese airdromes, installations, and shipping.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Patricia Glafford, 5719 North Campbell avenue.]

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever brag you could do something and then have to make good?

WHERE ASKED.

Stony Island avenue at 79th street.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. James J. Grady, stenographer, 6317 Blackstone avenue—I often bragged to my fiance that I was a fine cook. He was going away to war and I thought I'd have time to learn about it. Last week we decided to get married. Now I've been trying to live up to that reputation.

Robert Wright, student, 6720 South Marshfield avenue—The other boys were all making high jumps with their horses. I had claimed that I was pretty good and now they were waiting for me to prove it. I knew the horse had made the jump, so I relied on him. He made it, but I didn't.

Lillian Regelbrugge, assistant file clerk, 2236 East 70th street—Every time I heard an accordion player in an amateur program over the radio I always said I could do better. Then my mother wrote in for an audition. I was frightened, but I made my word good and won a medal.

Mrs. John Pelikant, war plant worker, 13232 Burley avenue—The men at the plant were throwing rocks into the river. I boasted I was a good pitcher because I used to play baseball. They wagered I couldn't throw that far. I tried and hit a guard standing to the left of my target.

Mary Nischt, clerk, 6959 Merrill avenue—I was proud of my ability as a ping-pong player. I said I was good and frightened out most of the men players by challenging them. I'm afraid I overestimated myself for I was defeated time after time. Now I'm trying to improve my skill quietly.

Helen Di Nunzio, policy checker, 3108 Harrison street—I had prided myself on my ability to wake up at any early hour I set. I told every one that I was a human alarm clock. When ours stopped, everybody depended on me and as a result they were late for work and school.

NEGROES CHARGE PRICE GOUGING HITS THEIR RACE

Two hundred representatives of Chicago Negro organizations crowded a room of the War Agencies building yesterday to hear leaders of their race in emphatic complaints to office of price administration officials that Negroes are being charged excessive rents and must pay higher prices for food.

Speakers at the meeting, called by the Chicago branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, made charges of "gouging" by landlords and retailers, and demanded both stricter OPA enforcement and larger Negro representation on ration boards and price panels.

Jesse Johnson, research director of the Chicago Tenants' league, said Chicago Negroes pay rents 25 to 50 per cent above levels prevailing in other areas. He called upon the OPA to prevent evictions of persons ignorant of their rights as tenants.

Michael F. Mulcahy, metropolitan area OPA director, asserted food price violations are not widespread in metropolitan Chicago, altho a recent survey uncovered 377 cases. Of these, 20 were serious enough to refer to the enforcement division, he said.

John F. McCarthy, Chicago OPA rent director, said his office is familiar with Negro housing problems and is trying to correct conditions. He said that Negro civic and professional leaders are being appointed to rent offices.

SELFRIDGE FIELD COURT CONVICTS MAJOR OF FRAUD

Dismissal Ordered After Three Day Trial.

Selfridge Field, Mich., Sept. 29 [Special].—The third army officer convicted by court martial here in approximately two weeks was found guilty tonight of violating eight articles of war and was ordered dismissed from the service.

He is Maj. George A. Hartford, intelligence officer at this army air base until he was relieved of his duties last May 11 when charges were filed against him. He was convicted of presenting false expense vouchers and false statements from civilian employes. A charge of embezzlement was not sustained.

The major, who is 30 years old, is a native of Detroit and was employed as a linotype operator by a Detroit newspaper prior to his entry into military service as a second lieutenant on Nov. 27, 1941.

Trial Lasts Three Days.

The sentence was read tonight by Lt. Col. Robert G. Chambers, president of the court of five majors and two lieutenant colonels who had heard testimony for three days.

Most of the hearing was held behind closed doors, the presiding officer explaining this was for reasons of military security to keep secret discussions of intelligence operations. The press was admitted to the trial only yesterday during the presentation of most of the prosecution's case.

Numerous witnesses testified in support of six counts of presenting false expense vouchers. Defense counsel admitted the major didn't make some of the trips for which he collected expenses but contended he spent the money on other government business.

Lax in Handling Funds.

Other witnesses told of the major's laxity in handling funds under his control and of his "borrowing" from them. It was asserted he paid back these sums. The court found him not guilty of embezzling $403 from funds entrusted to him. Maj. Hartford had pleaded not guilty to the nine counts against him.

Other officers recently convicted at this post were Col. William T. Colman, commanding officer, and Lt. Col. Charles G. White, executive officer of the base during Colman's regime.

Col. Colman was convicted on Sept. 14 of drunkenness and careless use of firearms in connection with shooting his chauffeur, Pvt. William McRae, Negro, and was ordered demoted to the rank of captain for a three year period. Col. White was ordered dismissed from the service following his conviction of gross negligence in the enlistment and transfer of men.

9,000 British Strikers Urged to Return to Work

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP).—Union officials today urged 9,000 striking engineers at the Vickers-Armstrong arms factory to return to work, after a national arbitration tribunal failed to support the strikers' claim to higher pay. The workers have been on strike two weeks. Meanwhile 8,000 miners in Scottish coal fields remained away from work for a second day, protesting against imprisonment of a few fellow workers who refused to pay fines inflicted for participation in an earlier strike.

Twin Sisters Cut Twin Cakes on 93d Birthday

Two birthday cakes were cut yesterday by 93 year old twin sisters of McHenry county who have not been able to see each other for three years, because both are confined to wheel chairs. Mrs. Minnie Stoxen lives with a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Wholeben, in Union, and Mrs. Louise Brandes still resides in the 100 year old house in Harmony where she set up housekeeping as a bride. Each of the sisters spent the day quietly, with friends and relatives dropping in to deliver birthday greetings.

"NEVER THOUGHT I'D BE REGULAR AGAIN!"

Cereal Brings Relief After Years of Dosing

Even if you have suffered for years don't lose hope. Read this happy experience!

"I'd had common constipation so bad, I knew something just had to be done. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, and I was never so happy in my life as when I found I was joining the 'regulars' again. Because that was one club I never dreamed I'd be able to join." Mrs. Daisy Dean, Columbia, Tennessee.

How can ALL-BRAN'S amazing results be explained—when so many other methods fail? Scientists say it's because ALL-BRAN is a rich source of cellulosic elements—lack of which is a common cause of constipation. These special cellulosic elements help the intestinal flora fluff up and lighten the contents of the colon for easy, natural evacuation! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN does not "sweep you out." Not a purgative! It's a gentle-acting, natural "regulating" food!

If this is your trouble eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly! Drink plenty of water! See if you, too, aren't amazed at the results! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek!

Making new ones out of old ones

Old gondolas rebuilt from used materials in Santa Fe Shops

Many a veteran Santa Fe gondola, already marked for retirement, has had to take a new lease on life these days.

Battered, broken and ready to quit, these hard-worked cars no longer had the strength to hold their loads.

Somehow, these "old boys" had to be kept rolling!

So Santa Fe shopmen got busy. They took old steel ends from broken-down box cars, and rebuilt the old gondolas with steel sides, and a new, steel-reinforced floor—all made from old, used materials.

Now, these rebuilt old gondolas are proudly hauling coal and ore today to the mills, war material to Army camps, tanks and guns to waiting ships—and doing their part in binding an entire nation together into one unified war effort.

A
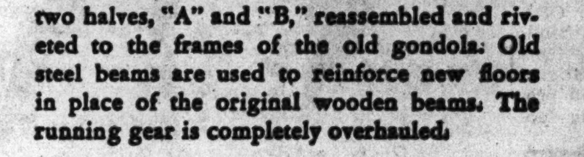
RECLAIMED FROM HERE
RE-USED HERE

Here's How It's Done



Old steel box car ends are cut in half, and the two halves, "A" and "B," reassembled and riveted to the frames of the old gondola. Old steel beams are used to reinforce new floors in place of the original wooden beams. The running gear is completely overhauled.

In Los Angeles—after he had given his blood
They found out he was a Marine furloughed back from war.
"I thought I was dead—but plasma saved me," he said,
"And I came in to pay back the blood I received."

And what have you and I been through for the war?
Worked a little harder? Given hours and effort?
The pleats off our pants? Extra butter? Some driving?
Tin cans, some sugar and junk—loaned some money?

The slender artist—she lost her fiance the day his wings
In the RCAF were to be pinned on his breast.
And then en route from camp to that funeral
Her younger brother crashed and died—only man in the family.

And what have YOU suffered or sacrificed?
Prompt laundry service, a juicy steak, can openers,
A few lost leisure hours in some war work,
Some frills on food and maybe some drinks!

His dad was a big shot and he could have stayed home
Holding down an office job—some sinecure—
But he fought, for he wanted to play his full part.
He's home now—having left both his legs in a foreign desert.

You aren't asked to lose your legs,
Or be mortally wounded and then give blood.
You aren't asked to puff out your life in a crash—
You're asked to sacrifice some things around you
So you can lend more money . . . not GIVE it . . . LEND it!

It's EASY to Buy BONDS

Just walk in and say "I want a War Bond!" Pay your money and you'll soon walk out proudly with proof that you're not letting others fight your war. The least we here at home can do is lend money. You lend $18.75 and get $25 back ten years from now. Or $37.50 and get $50 back, or $75 and get $100. Best of all, stretch and lend $750 for a $1000 bond. In case you need the money you don't have to wait ten years. You can get your money with earned interest earlier if necessary.

Can You Look Ahead?

If you could look ahead, you'd consider buying bonds now—more bonds—anything but a sacrifice. Ten years from now we should be surrounded with a new world—with wonders to make life more interesting and pleasanter beyond our dreams. Keep buying bonds—so you'll have bonds to cash in month after month ten years ahead. Sacrifice? What sacrifice is there in saving at interest while others die? Buy another bond today for tomorrow!

★ Buy a bond today no matter what it costs you in sacrifice and difficulty. Indeed, buy one BECAUSE it costs you sacrifice and difficulty. Let your spirit be lifted up, knowing you are straining and getting hurt—a little—to do your part. If the war were twenty miles away you'd sacrifice! Listen—it's closer to you than that. It's wherever the things you own and love and want are. It surges on the shores of every liberty and freedom and good thing in the world. Sacrifice, won't you, to smother it down? Buy a bond again. MURDER BY PESTILENCE.

It has now been scientifically established that the virus of infantile paralysis is present and active in the outflow from Chicago's sewage treatment works. If there ever were any doubt of it, the fact is now clear that the treatment of the city's wastes does not render them sterile.

In view of that fact, the administration that long ago of its own motion could have and should have ordered an increase in the diversion into the drainage canal and the congressmen of the rivers and harbors committee who refused to give the city prompt relief by recommending an increase have written themselves down as little better than murderers. We have in Chicago today an epidemic of infantile paralysis that may be water-borne. We can have at any moment plagues of typhoid and dysentery that will be water-borne.

The stubborn administration and the congressmen who could crack feeble jokes and play cheap, sectional politics in the face of a dreadful reality and the danger of worse plagues to come have demonstrated a degree of irresponsibility and heartlessness that almost defies belief. The fact that the refusal was demanded by greedy and envious interests does not lift responsibility from those guilty of inaction.

The lives and the health of a population of 4 million souls are at stake. In the circumstances, rational men would say that the jealousies of rival cities must not stand in the way of relief. Certainly the obvious fact that an increase in the diversion of Chicago can safeguard this community's health without causing the slightest harm to any one else, anywhere, ought to be conclusive.

The lakes today are high, dangerously high. We don't believe that a few thousand additional cubic feet of water per second, taken from Lake Michigan, will lower the lakes by even a fraction of an inch, but if that should happen it would be a blessing and not a catastrophe, as every dweller along the lake shore knows.

The refusal of the administration to act promptly, in the face of a grave menace, was as stupid as it was barbarous. They couldn't have disgraced themselves more completely if they had approved a law declaring that all this talk about germs and viruses is nonsense and another law condemning a thousand boys and girls to misery and death.

BROWDER'S CANDOR.

Earl Browder, the leader of the Communists in this country, has come to the middle west to deliver his message of disloyalty to America. He has already spoken at Orchestra hall in Chicago and at Gary. He has said that it is the highest duty of Americans to die for Russia, but we must not expect the Russians to make any sacrifices for us such as giving us bases from which to fight Japan. To save Russian lives we must pour out our blood in streams on the beaches of France. Our war policy, our domestic policy, and our foreign policy must all be formed with a view to Russian welfare.

Americans can rejoice that the Communist program has now been stated clearly. Sensible men have long known what the American bolsheviks were up to, but now that the party's policies have been given authoritative expression the last doubts of the last doubter have been removed. Americans can have no admiration for this jailbird revolutionary, but they can thank him for his present candor.

His speaking tour comes opportunely, in the wake of the exposure by THE TRIBUNE of the influence exerted by the Rhodes scholars in this country. Unlike Mr. Browder, the Oxonians are respectable. Like him they represent an alien influence. Together they are working to overthrow the Republic. Browder would make it the humble servitor of the soviets. The goal of the others is to return us to the status of a colony of the British crown. Against both these efforts Americans must rally.

GEN. MARSHALL'S SUCCESSOR.

The Roosevelt administration, inspired by political considerations and the persuasion of Prime Minister Churchill, apparently is determined to remove Gen. George C. Marshall as army chief of staff by elevating him to some type of global command.

If Gen. Marshall must be sacrificed to meet the commitments the President made to Mr. Churchill, America will expect Gen. Hugh A. Drum to be appointed chief of staff to succeed him.

Gen. Drum not only is the senior officer of the regular army but is widely regarded among military men as the most distinguished American soldier of the World war still on the active list.

Gen. Drum was born into the United States army at the army post in Fort Brady, Mich. He became an army lieutenant at the age of 19 after his father, Capt. John Drum, was killed in the assault on San Juan hill in Cuba. The son fought in the Philippines and on the Mexican border, and between wars was graduated from the Army School of the Line at Fort Leavenworth and the Army Staff college.

He took part as a captain and an aide de camp to Gen. Fred Funston in the 1914 expedition to Vera Cruz, and in 1916 became a member of the staff of Gen. John Pershing. He sailed with Gen. Pershing's original headquarters staff for France in 1917.

He organized French supply ports and organized troops for battle and, with the rank of colonel, became chief of staff of the 1st army in the American expeditionary force. As the organizing officer of an army of a million and a quarter men he helped to win the victories at St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne. He was a brigadier general at the close of the war, a commission made permanent in 1922.

During the peacetime years Gen. Drum continued in active army duty as a teacher, commander, and assistant chief of staff for army operations and training in Washington under Gen. Pershing. He took command of the 1st army after he had been commissioned lieutenant general in 1939, and directed 1st army maneuvers in 1940 and 1941.

Altho he fought in every American war since his birth, Gen. Drum made what is probably his greatest contribution to warfare in this one. It was Gen. Drum who perfected the art of massing and concentrating artillery fire which has given the American armies and their British allies the greatest victories. To this tactic the British acknowledged they owed the victory at El Alemein over Field Marshal Rommel.

Gen. Drum is a soldier who has demonstrated thru service to his country the right to command the operations of all our armies if Gen. Marshall is removed from that assignment.

BUTTER.

Since the middle of last week there has been a sign in the window of a Chicago grocery reading: "No Butter Today! Why?" The grocer and his customers did not find the answer to the question when they read in yesterday's TRIBUNE the announcement that, starting Sunday, a pound of butter will have a ration value of 16 points. It was raised from 10 to 12 on Sept. 3, having been advanced to 10 from 8 on Aug. 1. The latest advance in point value won't affect many people because they couldn't find butter on which to spend their points at the old price.

The shortage of this extremely important food is something of a mystery. According to government figures, civilians would have about as much butter as usual if it were not for the war—that is, a little more than last year, but not quite as much as the average from 1935 to 1939. Because of rationing and the lack of butter at the stores, we have not been eating it as freely as in other years. The stores have not been able to get the butter because the government has required the creameries to set aside for government use a large part of their production—recently 30 per cent, but earlier 50 per cent.

As consumption has been held down while production was fairly well sustained, an unprecedented amount has been going into storage. On Sept. 1 there was more butter on hand in the country than ever before. The total runs to 231 million pounds.

Thus, by all past experience, there is an oversupply of butter in the country. It isn't reaching the stores because the amount that is free to be purchased by civilian sources is the smallest since records were kept. Of the 231 million pounds, the government's three agencies which have been monkeying with the butter market for several years own nearly 165 million pounds and the army quartermaster corps another 61 million pounds. That makes a total of 226 million of the 231 millions in all cold storage warehouses.

The army expects to eat substantially all the butter it has and some of that possessed by the other government agencies. The lend-lease clients will get most of the remainder of the government's holdings. Thus, Russia alone has been allocated 90 million pounds, most of which has been held here for cooler shipping weather.

Butter making is highly seasonal. In the spring and early summer production is large and in the winter it is small. The season of declining production is at hand. It has never been possible to produce enough in these months to take care of the demand. The shortage has been provided for by setting aside part of the production in the high production months. As none has been set aside for civilian use the butter outlook for months ahead is grim. The only prospect for relief is to get the government agencies to disgorge a part of the supply they have hogged.

SIEGE OF CHICAGO.

[Indianapolis News.]

Little more than a glance at recent election returns is required to show that Chicago may well claim the distinction of being the capital of New Deal opposition. In general terms, opposition to the New Deal is strongest in the middle west, where the people are strong, self-reliant and completely indifferent to west coast crackpots, the politically paralyzed south and the imported grievances of the east coast.

What is the counter-offensive to the rising power of the middle west? A recent compilation of the infestation of Chicago by New Deal bureaus and pay roll riders gives a clue.

This report shows that the federal government is the biggest tenant in the Chicago business district. It has bought three downtown Chicago buildings outright and occupies space in 38 others.

The agricultural department has 2,050 employes in its Chicago marketing division, the treasury department has 12,000 employes. Even the railroad retirement board has 1,657 employes in Chicago, and the civil aeronautics administration has 1,345.

This survey indicates that 31 federal agencies have about 60,000 people on their Chicago pay rolls. This makes Chicago second only to Washington in the number of civilian employes on the federal pay roll.

Despite what the New Dealers may say about the war emergency, they are seeking to set up in the middle west a huge reservoir of federal employes to influence the outcome of next year's election. Half these people—according to the formula of the Byrd report—are mere parasites. They have sold their souls to the New Deal. And that is the tragedy of American politics—the great number of weaklings who will sell and the greater number of taxpayers who will put up the money.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 22.

1. Which one of these animals can freeze without harming itself?
   Bulldog Bird dog Cat Squirrel.
2. Which one of these regions is most noted for its oyster fishing Pacific coast Great Lakes Atlantic coast Gulf coast.
3. Scratch grain is usually associated with which of these creatures?
   Rabbits Cattle Sheep Poultry.
4. Which one of these words should be linked with "poky"?
   Lassitude Love Courage Speed.
5. The seeds of which one of these flowers is the largest?
   Poppy Marigold Zinnia Sunflower.
6. Try to identify the leaves sketched herewith, tho not to the same scale. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.

—— Sycamore; —— Tree of Heaven
—— Willow; —— Beech; —— Basswood.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

A SPARROW FALLS.

He was a freshman sparrow of this year's hatch, and he was out with his brothers, sisters, uncles, and aunts enjoying his first fall flocking. They were foraging under the noonday sun in a vacant lot when one of the grownups suddenly cheeped: "There is a fine stand of sunflowers in seed just around that corner. Let's go!" So away they went in a close flock with a flutter of small wings, full of hope and whoopee. Sunflower seed is prime eating.

The flock turned the corner of a garage, flying six feet or less from the ground. [We had to step back to avoid being struck in the face.] Immediately around the corner was a parked automobile. The flock zoomed over it neatly—all except the freshman in the rear. Either he was not fast enough on the zoom or the others had masked the car from his vision; anyway he hit the side of the car with a thump that we wouldn't like to get on the point of the jaw. Then he fell like a stone.

It was a painful little tragedy to drop out of a clear sky under our nose. We halted and gazed at the victim in dismay. He shuddered, went into a nose spin like a fallen airplane, then rolled over and sat up straight and motionless. We reached down carefully, but he did not jump in fright like a wild, wounded thing. He was still saying to himself, "Where am I?" We picked him up and held him a little while to warm him after the shock. Then we carried him over to the sunflower patch and put him down where he might find a seed, and also had space for a take-off if flight were possible.

Ten minutes later we returned to the patient. He was in the same place, but was looking brighter. He cocked his head and gave us two or three glances as if to say, "So you're going to capture me again, eh?" Then he was up and away, flying true and strong to a perch in the shelter of a back yard poplar tree.

* * *

It was thrilling to know that the fallen sparrow can rise again.

BOOS IN THE NIGHT.

The foghorn probes moody fingers thru the murk and gloom of the night,
Groaning doleful laments sans faith, sans hope.
I should, perhaps, think of it as a friendly warning to sailors on the unfriendly sea,
But all it calls to mind is a certain brand of toilet soap.
From some apartment above comes the fretful wail of a child
Startled from sleep by a nightmare of not having enough money to pay her bookie.
Can I read into this plaintive cry something springing from the depths of man's being,
When in about two seconds she is probably going to ask for a Salerno butter cookie?
From a radio across the court comes the mellow, soothing, infinitely sweet and tender crooning of a Negro quartet Singing the old songs, the heart songs that never fail to please;
But try as I might, I cannot relax and lapse into a restful slumber—
My nerves are taut, waiting for their song to turn into a parody on the virtues of something to dye celanese.
The far-off snuffling of speeding trains, the chilling whine of the fire siren, the off-key singing of some nocturnal wight
Cease either to reassure or intrigue me as they did before—
The ether waves are riding high tonight; the pounding surf is heavy—
The noise so great that I can sleep no more.

New Version of Birthday Trouble.

"Why is it?" asked Ferdinand, my silver tabby cat, "that MY birthday always falls on a Sunday? I've noticed that the kid's never occurs on the same day of the week. As for yours, my girl . . ."

"We'll leave me out of this discussion, if you don't mind. The explanation is simple. I had a houseful of week-end guests when you were born. It can be said that your mother and I both labored that day. In the confusion no one made note of the date, and that is why we just celebrate the first Sunday in October."

"Imagine it," he sighed. "I shall be 5 whole years of age."

"Did you know that a year in your life is the equivalent of seven in mine?" I asked.

"Are you telling me that I'm really 35?" he cried in horror. "In that case I should have registered for the draft. In fact I should be in active service right now."

"I wouldn't let it worry me," I soothed as he sat lost in a deep silence.

"That's not what is bothering me," he confessed. "The thing is this: Shall I remain 35 hereafter or start working backward as the ladies do, or take the plunge next year and see whether there's anything to this 'life begins at 40' business."

INDIAN POWWOW.

We've oft heard it said by men of some fame:
"Give back to the Injuns from whence it came
This land that now reaches from sea to sea,
This land that erstwhile enjoyed coffee and tea.
This land that gave freedom to all its slaves
Belongs to the chieftains, the squaws and braves."
There's much to be said for this noble view,
But Injuns, you know, are a wily crew,
And if we should proffer this land storm swept,
The question arises: "Would they accept?"

PROMISCUOUS USE OF THE SULFA DRUGS.

Autumn respiratory infections will soon be upon us. Head colds, followed by bronchitis, will recruit an army of coughers. In addition to the well accepted plan of raising resistance, we can think of the sulfonamides as helpful aids. But caution must be exercised lest these compounds be resorted to indiscriminately. They are so powerful yet so beneficial that we may become careless. Certain cases demand them. On the other hand, they will not be needed in 75 per cent or more of most of our troubles within the airways. We know that rest, plus a light diet and plenty of liquids, will oblige bacterial invaders to depart. It is only when the organisms are of a vicious variety that the assistance of potent preparations will be required.

Naturally, the physician will be on watch to make sure that the disease, whatever the cause, does not travel. Extension to the middle ear spaces may not be the result of carelessness. It usually comes subsequent to a combination of two factors—a weakened system and virulent germs. We are justified in prescribing the sulfonamides in order to ward off spread to "sacred" areas, particularly if streptococci are present. With involvement of the lungs, here again we may prevent a pneumonia, dangerous in type, with prompt recourse to these drugs.

When should we employ them and when not? With the victim becoming more and more toxic, with a rising temperature and increasing malaise, we realize that help is essential. But if the fever drops, the pulse slows down, and the patient exhibits a returning appetite and insists upon getting up—there is probably no occasion to load his circulation with anti-bacterial agents.

How much should be given? There is one fundamental rule in medicine. Whenever a drug is called for, it must be used to its full effect. There is little value in fractional amounts because they may not be sufficient to accomplish the destruction of noxious "bugs." Full doses should be utilized or none at all. Every doctor knows how to determine the quantity that is being absorbed and, when the maximum influence is produced, the remedy may be stopped abruptly. There is such a thing as chemical fever. In some peculiar way the medicine itself may be responsible for a reading of 100 degrees F., which will disappear as soon as further administration has ceased.

There are a few precautions. If a severe rash breaks out on the skin or if blood appears in the urine, we must discontinue the derivative until symptoms subside. The same may be said of vomiting. We can recall that we are dealing with lifesaving substances, which cannot be trifled with. Called upon to do a job, they will perform valiantly.

So many modifications are now available that if one proves irritating, another—which is well borne—may be substituted. We must not forget that kidney upsets are common, especially in children who have lost considerable fluid. But with a desperately ill youngster, we should not hesitate to use one grain per pound of body weight—at least, for the first 24 hours. It is important to secure a sufficient concentration in the blood to overwhelm the outlaw hordes.

POPPING JAWS.

E. N. writes: When I chew food, my jaws pop. Is this a forerunner of arthritis?

REPLY.

It may be bad jaw function caused by poor habits of mastication. The symptom can appear when the teeth do not meet properly. Avoid undue pressure and the episode may pass.

PALE NAILS.

A. E. writes: Can abnormally pale finger nails be remedied by eating certain foods?

REPLY.

Anemia should be suspected. A blood count will tell. A well balanced diet may need to be supplemented by additional quantities of iron, hydrochloric acid, and liver.

P. T. writes: I have been told that I ought to stop jitterbugging because I have a skipping heart. Do you think I should?

REPLY.

Sound advice. You may skip elsewhere if you don't watch out.

SORE SOLES.

N. S. writes: When I walk, the soles of my feet are as painful as a sore tooth. What can I do for relief?

REPLY.

Investigate plantar warts, calluses, broken arches, stretched ligaments, and poorly fitting shoes.

What to Do in Chicago.

A naval officer who had spent some months at a naval air station in an obscure region of Indiana was elated when he received orders transferring him to the brighter lights of Chicago and wrote to his aunt, a devout dowager in the east, of his good fortune. She replied by return mail, inclosing a note of introduction to an old friend of hers in Chicago. "I do hope she likes you," she wrote, "because if so, she will invite you to sit in her pew."

A Sailor and His Sea.

A girl who works in Montgomery Ward & Co.'s minor skyscraper on the Chicago river is married to a naval ensign stationed in Chicago. Some time ago he promised her that if he ever were so fortunate as to be in a warship on the river, he would signal five blasts [distress signal] on the boat whistle as he passed Ward's; at this she was to lean out the window and wave. The couple made these arrangements several months ago, and she thought no more of it until one day this week, when typing in an office full of dignitaries, she heard five shrill blasts outside the window. Tossing her work aside, she raced to a window and leaned out. There, on the river, was a rowboat with an outboard motor. A sailor was piloting it, and doing an awkward job of it, as the boat circled around and around as if caught in a whirlpool, and her husband was standing up, waving wildly in the wrong direction. In an effort to attract his attention to her window, she put her fingers to her lips and emitted a teamster's whistle, but to no avail. Later, annoyed at this sad denouement of their signals, she asked why he didn't wave at her. "Wave at you?" he asked. "Why, I looked at that building, and girls were hanging out the windows on eight floors, every one waving. Which one were you?"

Redcap.

Elmer T. Stevens, president of the State Street council, got off a train recently and noticed a bent, little man struggling with two large bags and not a redcap in sight. Over the old man's remonstrations he took the bags and carried them into the station and out to the cab stand. He then shook hands with the old man and started to walk away. Not until he had gone a few steps did he realize that a quarter had been pressed into his right hand. He contemplated this a few minutes and then, seeing a rather woebegone soldier, hurried up to him and said, "Here, buddy, buy yourself a beer." "Naw, buddy," the soldier said kindly. "Keep it. You worked for it."

She's a swooner, too."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

MR. ELSON REPLIES.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—In an editorial entitled "A Day With the OPA," THE TRIBUNE charged me with misinterpreting a decision of the Illinois Supreme court. THE TRIBUNE says, in effect, that I distorted the court's recent decision on the retailers' occupational tax. This charge is untrue.

The actual facts involved in the case decided by the Supreme court were as follows: A drug store delivered merchandise over a period of months to a buyer at an agreed price; the agreed price did not include any amount as sales tax; the buyer did not agree to pay an amount equivalent to the sales tax; the seller in his lawsuit did not claim that the buyer had agreed to pay the tax. The case never went to trial, but the court held that on the pleadings plaintiff could not recover the amount of the sales tax.

The Supreme court said: "The sole question presented for decision is whether a person engaged in selling tangible personal property at retail may collect from the consumer the retailers' occupational tax when added, as here, as a separate and distinct charge to the agreed price of merchandise sold. Defendant neither expressly nor impliedly agreed to pay the tax added. On the other hand, it affirmatively appears that he consistently refused to pay the additional charge and plaintiff continued to sell him merchandise despite his persistent refusal."

The court in effect says: The merchant is suing on a contract to sell goods at a price agreed to by the buyer; the agreed price does not include any tax; a buyer need pay only what he agrees to pay; not having agreed to pay the tax, he is not liable for it.

As regional attorney for the OPA, I was called upon to express an opinion as to the effect of the Supreme court's decision on OPA regulations. I issued the following statement [which, by the way, was incorrectly stated by THE TRIBUNE, although printed within quotation marks and purporting to be a verbatim quotation]:

"OPA regulations provide that a retailer may add to the ceiling prices provided by various regulations, the amount of any tax upon or incident to a sale, if the tax is stated separately and if the tax statute does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price. The Illinois retailers' occupational tax, while levied on the seller rather than on the buyer, is a tax upon or incident to the sale of a commodity, and under the Supreme court's decision there is nothing which prohibits a seller from stating the tax separately and passing it on to the consumer, providing the latter, either expressly or by implication, agrees to pay it. Any customer is, of course, free to refuse to buy unless the additional charge is omitted and any seller may, of course, refuse to sell under such circumstances."

In my opinion this statement is in no way contrary to the Supreme court decision. THE TRIBUNE makes the comment that "for a young and coming burocrat Mr. Elson is doing all right. He has kicked the Illinois legislature and the Supreme court out of the window and rewritten the tax laws of our state to suit himself. Such presumption should be rewarded."

While I am happy to have THE TRIBUNE evaluate my achievements and prospects in the government service, I must disclaim credit for the accomplishments attributed to me. The retailers' occupational tax act is silent on whether the tax may be passed on, and contains no penalties for adding it to the retail price. Neither does my opinion conflict with the Supreme court decision, as I have pointed out. But even if it did, no statement of mine could in any way affect the right of any buyer to refuse to pay the sales tax or test the question in the courts. In fact I expressly stated that the customer could refuse to pay. Nor is there anything in the statement which can in any way bind the attorney general of the state of Illinois or affect his right to take any action that he wishes. My statement was limited to the effect of the decision on OPA regulations, and the release embodying my opinion so stated. I cannot refrain from adding that as an individual I have always opposed the sales tax, principally because it discriminates against the poor man.

Most retail OPA regulations fix ceiling prices on the basis of margins added to cost. Where dollars and cents prices have been fixed, the figures are arrived at by adding uniform margins to the retailer's cost. Would THE TRIBUNE like to let the retailer increase his price by the amount of the tax? Then the consumer would really suffer. The tax might then become 6 per cent—for example, six purchases of 15 cent items each raised one cent would yield a total tax of six cents. Would THE TRIBUNE like to have OPA say that the margin of Illinois retailers should be reduced 2 per cent below those enjoyed by sellers in all other states? The OPA is constantly told that the net profit of many retailers is less than 2 per cent of sales. In other states which have sales taxes, the amount of the tax may be added to the selling price. Certainly it would be difficult to defend any ruling which created a direct discrimination against retailers in the state of Illinois and threatened their very existence. The Supreme court decision does not compel any such discrimination, and my opinion recognized that fact.

ALEX ELSON,
Regional Attorney.

CHARGES NAVY'S BIGWIGS FOUGHT BABY FLAT TOPS

Designer Bares 26 Year Delay in Adoption.

BY ROY GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 29.—John L. Bogert, oldest living American naval architect, today accused the navy department of needlessly sacrificing American lives and ships in the present war by failing to adopt his plans for an escort plane carrier earlier than it did. Bogert, who is 85 years old and an active member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, says he originally offered the plans to Josephus Daniels, 26 years ago when Daniels was secretary of the navy in 1917.

All present "baby flat tops" which are proving effective weapons against the submarine menace, Bogert claims, are slavish copies of his own combination cargo-liner and plane carrier on which he filed patent applications during World war 1.

Old Painting Depicts Model.

In alleged proof of his claims, Bogert points to an oil painting of his version of an escort plane carrier as he conceived it more than a quarter of a century ago. The picture depicts Bogert's escort carrier steaming along as part of a convoy with planes loaded on its deck. It also shows a plane dropping depth bombs on a German U-boat.

Bogert says his efforts to interest the navy in his carrier met with rebuff and that he was told at the time that only destroyers equipped with depth bombs were deemed necessary to combat the submarine peril.

Foresaw Convoy Duties.

Bogert says that at the time of his conference with Daniels and a board of naval officers he stressed the idea that destroyers were useless without the "seeing eye of a plane to spot lurking submarines." He says his correspondence also proves he told the navy department that only by having an escort carrier accompany each convoy could the U-boats be detected.

His listeners, however, Bogert says, were skeptical even that a plane could be flown on or off a vessel except in port, and urged him to leave navy problems to the navy.

Recalls Monitor Opposition.

"The navy did the same thing to John Ericsson, who came within an inch of not getting the Monitor launched during the Civil war."

[The battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac, Confederate ironclad, in Hampton roads in 1862 is considered to have ushered in the era of armored warships.]

Subsequent efforts, Bogert says to build his escort carrier with private capital also were repulsed when the government refused to permit any steel to be used for the purpose.

Bogert's original plans for the carrier were based upon conversion of the old, interned Kaiser Wilhelm II. His specifications, for which he made patent application in July, 1917, show that ship equipped with catapults and fore and aft landing decks.

Designed Arresting Device.

Along with his plans for the carrier, Bogert also submitted specifications for a plane arresting device to insure safe landings by planes in any type of weather.

This device consists of a grapnel let down 15 feet over the tail of the plane at the time it is ready to return to the ship to enable the plane to land in any kind of weather, Bogert says.

In particular it will make it unnecessary for the pilot to dive upon the stern of the carrier in order to come aboard during a storm when the may drop away as much as 15 feet, he says.

The grapnel, which is attached to the center of the plane on a braking reel, is intended to engage a hawser suspended between opposite posts on the stern of the vessel. Once engaged by the grapnel the hawser is paid out in stages by electric braking arms to bring the plane to an easy stop.

Present Method Difficult.

Present methods of landing a plane on a carrier, Bogert says, require that the pilot come in most accurately to engage arresting cables stretched only a few inches above the deck. As a result, he says, many pilots overshoot their mark with consequent crackups.

Bogert says he wants no reward for suggesting the escort carrier except recognition by congress that the idea was his. He says he has letters from the British government and one from Franklin D. Roosevelt, signed when the President was assistant secretary of the navy, praising him for the spirit behind his ideas.

The letter from President Roosevelt, received 26 years ago, he says, suggested that the navy could be trusted to further develop the carrier idea.

Indict Father in Plunge Death of Coast Baby

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 29 (AP).—Claude L. Dexter, 46 years old, was charged in a district attorney's complaint today with the murder of his 16 months old son, Johnny, who died Sunday in a plunge from a 10th floor hotel room. A coroner's jury yesterday decided Dexter, secretary of a cracker bakers' union, had thrown the child from the window. Inquest witnesses said Dexter was drunk.

ACT TO ARREST LEGISLATOR ON GRAFT CHARGES

Hear Former Lawmaker Is Accused in Michigan.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 29 [Special]. —Another warrant was in preparation at the attorney general's office today as a result of testimony taken during the current one-man grand jury investigation of legislative graft. It was learned that one sitting state representative and a former representative who served during the 1939 session will be charged with having agreed to sell their support of certain legislation during that session.

Both of the accused men are understood to be Detroiters and the warrant probably will be issued there on the basis of testimony supplied by an unidentified witness who, it was revealed by Herbert J. Rushton, attorney general, and Judge Leland W. Carr, presiding, has been granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for his promise to assist the grand jury prosecuting staff.

It was learned that State Senator Charles C. Diggs [D., Detroit] appeared in Recorders court, Detroit, today for arraignment on a charge that he was a party to solicitation of a $6,000 bribe during the 1943 session.

Sen. Charles S. Blondy [D., Detroit], named in the same warrant, is still in Bingham county jail at Mason, serving a 60 day sentence imposed by Judge Carr for contempt of court.

It appeared friction is growing between the attorney general's department and William C. Dowling, Wayne county [Detroit] prosecutor.

When Rushton sought issuance of a warrant for Blondy and Diggs, Dowling's office declined to give its approval without "an independent investigation."

WAR BOND OFFICIAL DIES.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 29.—Harold A. Sievers, 37 years old, chairman of the Porter county war bond savings staff and district agent of the Equitable Insurance company, dropped dead today following a heart attack.

LIQUOR DEALERS WANT SALES TAX CUT TO 1 PERCENT

A resolution calling for a reduction in the state occupational [sales] tax from 2 per cent to 1 per cent and declaring that the state's financial surplus made the larger tax unnecessary was adopted yesterday, at second day sessions of the two day meeting of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Protective Association of Illinois in the Morrison hotel.

The association also pledged support of the office of price administration and the state liquor control commission in their fight against the black market.

Officers elected at the meeting are: V. J. Moravec, Chicago, president; Edward A. Meyer, Chicago, secretary; Frank Vidmar, Lyons, treasurer; Frank Hamilton and Joseph A. Helbach, Chicago, and Louis Meyer, Addison, vice presidents; Dominic Lalumia, Chicago, sergeant-at-arms, and Albert Griffiths, Chicago, state organizer. Waukegan was selected for the 1944 meeting.

FIRE CAUSES WATER DAMAGE.

Water from an automatic sprinkler system did more damage than a small fire, caused by ignition of chemicals yesterday in the photo engraving plant of Thomas F. McGrath and Associates, 160 East Illinois street.

TWA ANNOUNCES
TO PHOENIX

TWA announces the inauguration of through plane service between Chicago and Phoenix, Arizona, providing a new air link between the Great Lakes area and the increasingly important Southwest.

The new TWA schedules to Phoenix, recently authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board, place the Arizona capital on TWA's transcontinental route and bring the important military training establishments of the Phoenix territory within easier reach of Chicago travelers.

Two round trips daily between Chicago and Phoenix are being operated by TWA, although plans are being made to increase these schedules as soon as conditions permit.

Edward A. Kelly Named to City Plan Commission

Edward A. Kelly, former member of congress from the 3d Illinois district, yesterday was appointed to the Chicago Plan commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Albert Lepawsky. Kelly was proposed for the place by Mayor Kelly and the city council acted on the nomination immediately. Kelly, whose term expires Jan. 11, 1945, also was named a member of the city planning advisory board.

ACTING SHERIFF IS QUESTIONED IN GAMING INQUIRY

Grand Jury Term to End Today; Quiz Goes On.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Acting Sheriff Joseph Higgins was a witness yesterday as the grand jury neared the conclusion of its investigation into the gambling operations of the Guzik gang in the county, the mystery of the seven roulette wheels, and what happened to 55 slot machines. The jury is to be discharged tomorrow, but State's Atty. Courtney said any unfinished business would be passed over to the new grand jury to be impaneled next Monday.

Before going into the grand jury room Higgins said that in the absence of Sheriff Peter B. Carey, who has been ill two months, he never had assumed any jurisdiction over the county highway police. He said the authority of Chief Hugh McCarthy of the sheriff's police was complete insofar as he, Higgins, was concerned.

Mystery Witness Called.

Chief McCarthy will be a witness today. Subpenas also have been issued, McCarthy said, for Lt. Peter J. Madura, newly hired head of the Morton Grove station, and for an unidentified witness. It was said these witnesses would be the last to be heard by the present grand jury.

Indictments charging malfeasance and conspiracy are expected to be returned by the grand jury, climaxing its investigation of the disappearance of seven roulette wheels found in a raid Sept. 8 on the Dome, a huge gambling house at 7466 Irving Park road.

The unidentified witness to be heard this morning was reported to have seen a large truck leaving the Dome shortly after the raid. Lt. Myles McDonough and Policeman Philip Schwartz of the sheriff's police have been suspended as a result of the disappearance of the wheels. McDonough was charged with malfeasance. Schwartz refused to testify before the grand jury, but no charges have been made against him.

Employe Refuses to Testify.

Another witness refused to testify before the grand jury yesterday, a former employe of the gambling house who gave his name as Sidney Love.

Mark Levy, real estate broker, was a witness, presumably on the subject of a lease on the premises of the Colony club, a Rush street night club formerly operated as a gambling house. The gamblers who leased the premises on Irving Park road [which is outside Chicago] also leased the Colony club recently, according to a statement by Assistant State's Atty. Francis McCurrie.

The grand jurors were trying to find the connection between Philip Katz, 215 East Chestnut street, and the two leases. Subpena servers couldn't find Katz.

Investigators said they learned from one source that Katz is a brother-in-law of Hymie [Loud-Mouth] Levin, who lives at the Chestnut street address and who is reputed to be a partner of Guzik in the syndicate despite the fact that he has been an invalid for some time. Other sources asserted that Katz was an alias sometimes assumed by Levin.

During the afternoon, county highway police of the Homewood station made certain there would be no need for a grand jury investigation about the three roulette wheels they seized Sept. 18 in a gambling house at 16 State street, Calumet City. Justice William Donohue imposed a fine of $100 on Harold J. Laube, who had been arrested as a keeper.

Officials Stay to End.

Then Lt. John Burns and Assistant State's Atty. Henry Zadek asked Justice Donohue for an order to destroy the gambling paraphernalia. When the order was signed, all went to a lot back of the station, and the wheels—made of highly polished wood with expensive inlaid and metal attachments—were smashed to pieces and the wreckage put in a bonfire. The officials remained until the roulette wheels, which are priceless because they are no longer being made, were reduced to cinders.

Earl Black, who was arrested the same day as Laube in an alleged bookmaking place at 12736 Western avenue, Blue Island, was fined $20 and costs by Justice Donahue.

John Dillon, 50 years old, 7656 Bosworth avenue, seized two weeks ago as the owner of a handbook in the Arlington club at Platte and North avenues in Leyden township, was summoned before the grand jury yesterday after Justice Joseph H. Jozwiak, in Niles police court, fined him $25 and costs. Two clerks in the handbook, Frederick Bondlow, 65, of 1406 Hunderson avenue, Berwyn, and Clyde Metz, 29, of 117 West 1st street, Elmhurst, were fined $10 and costs each.

Friend of the Yanks

F. A. P. writes: "I am a locomotive engineer with 25 years' experience, also hold a stationary engineer's license and have a good knowledge of mechanical engineering. I have been considering entering the maritime service and wish to know if I could enter as second engineer or higher? I served four years in the United States navy as a seaman."

ANSWER: You would not be rated higher than third assistant engineer on your first enlistment but upon completing six months of service, you could take the examination for second engineer. The maritime service has a training course leading to a license as third assistant engineer for men who hold a license as stationary engineer, if they have been employed in such activity for two years. Men with two years' experience as locomotive engineers are also eligible. The maritime service enrolling office is at 844 Rush street, Chicago.

M. L. writes: "I have been a machinist and mechanic all my life, have had charge of the municipal garage for eight years, and took care of all city air compressors, trucks, tractors, shovels and similar equipment. What kind of a rating could I get in the Seabees?"

ANSWER: Probably a chief machinist's mate as mechanic and foreman, depending upon how much of this experience is adaptable to navy needs. We suggest you talk it over with a Seabee recruiting officer, 321 Plymouth court.

I. M. T. writes: "I am 17 and enrolled in senior high school. A number of students in our school who will graduate in February and then enter the army wonder if it is too late to enter the U. of C. preinduction military training course? What is the cost?"

ANSWER: No, it is not too late. There are two sections. Section I. starts this evening; Section II. starts tomorrow evening. Those entering late are formed into special platoons. Registration may be completed as late as Oct. 6 and 7 without any serious loss. The regular fee for the full course is only $10 but high school students pay only $5. Men expecting to enter service three months from now ought to enroll before it is too late. The enrolling office is on the fourth floor, Cobb hall, 5758 Ellis avenue.

M. P. asks: "Is there any way an employer can amend his original replacement schedule with respect to increasing or decreasing the length of deferment requested on certain employes?"

ANSWER: Yes. If it becomes necessary for an employer to request additional deferment for an employe or request deferment for an individual not on the original list, a supplemental replacement list must be submitted to the state director for his approval. If the state director approves of the revision, the employer will then file such new 42-A forms as may be necessary under the approved revision.

THREE CAPTURED AS SLUGGERS AT TRIAL OF PALS

Witness Identifies Gang Members in Court.

Three spectators who went to court yesterday to watch the trial of two of their friends on disorderly conduct and reckless driving charges themselves were identified and arrested in court as members of a band of sluggers who two weeks ago beat two west side theater patrons.

Those arrested were Anthony Bruno, 16 years old, 1105 South Whipple street, and Dominick Dinardo, 16, of 2857 Polk street, both high school students; also Carmen Tufano, 21, of 1106 South Francisco avenue, a war plant worker.

They had gone to the court of Judge N. J. Bonelli to hear the cases of Andrew Briatica, 17, of 1217 South Sawyer avenue, and James Moccio, 16, of 1105 South Troy street.

Captured in Street Chase.

These two, with Joe Pinatale, 15, were arrested in Briatica's car after a wild chase from the Manley school Sept. 21 in which two other youths on the running board escaped. In the ride a loaded gun was tossed from the auto.

When the case came up yesterday, L. A. Schiff, manager of a theater at 3535 Roosevelt road, identified Briatica and Moccio as two of those who beat his patrons. While Moccio was protesting loudly and giving impertinent answers to Judge Bonelli, Schiff said:

"And there are three more of them, sitting in the court." He pointed out the three spectators, who were promptly arrested.

Then Judge Bonelli turned his attention to Moccio again.

Defendant's Toughness Questioned.

"So you're a tough guy, are you?" he asked. "You think you can fight?"

"Sure I'm tough, and I can fight," replied Moccio.

Judge Bonelli said he'd find another young man of the same age and weight and put the two in a ring in the gymnasium at the church at 2060 Roosevelt road. "We'll see how tough you are when the odds are even," he promised.

Meanwhile Briatica's case was continued to Oct. 7 for further investigation and Pinatale released.

CHARGES RACIAL RIOTS INCITED BY DETROIT REDS

Officer of Urban League Tells of Inquiry.

The Detroit race riot last June, which caused the deaths of 34 persons and injuries of 800, was inspired by Communists, it was charged here yesterday by Lester B. Granger of New York, executive secretary of the National Urban league.

Granger made his charge in an interview after an address at the annual conference of the league, at Central Y. M. C. A. In his address he disclosed an increasing number of attempts have been made lately by Communists to "take over" the 33 year old influential Negroes' organization. The most recent attempt, he said, was in New York Sept. 18.

Based on Investigation.

Granger said he based his charge on an investigation in Detroit by him and three members of the National Urban league's executive and research staff, before and after the riot. He said he "had seen the danger of a riot" two months before its outbreak, and had warned responsible individuals in Detroit.

"Badly over-crowded housing conditions built up the pressure which resulted in a condition ripe for trouble," Granger, who is a Negro, said. "This I observed when I visited the Negro sections of the city two months before the riot. The irresponsible, hoodlum element of both races was being infiltrated by known Communists and others, not known as such, but obviously of Communist beliefs, who were egging on these hoodlums to 'do something besides talk.'

Says Reds Incited Riot.

"Our investigation after the riot established beyond a doubt that these Communists were responsible for provoking the hoodlums to violence. Once started, the violence drew in many men of both races who normally would be considered fairly responsible persons."

The increasing number of attempts by Communists to "take over" the National Urban league invariably have been engineered thru the medium of new organizations with innocent sounding names, Granger told the conference.

The Negroes of America "have been sadly disillusioned by the unkept promises of the Democratic national administration and are no longer of a mind to follow the Pied Piper line from Washington at the next Presidential election," William H. Baldwin of New York, president of the league, declared late yesterday, between sessions at Central Y. M. C. A. He predicted there would be a wholesale switching of Negro votes to the Republican candidate in the next Presidential election.

Says Race Disillusioned.

"Negroes not only are disillusioned by the success of the southern Democratic congressmen in killing the bill that would have ended the poll tax," he said. "They also are troubled by reports from their sons in the army and navy about discrimination against them. The Democratic administration has made no attempt to do anything about this."

Edwin R. Embee of Chicago, president of the Julius Rosenwald fund, who also is chairman of the race relations committee appointed by Mayor Kelly, told the conference the committee had outlined work on six major fronts: Housing, health and welfare, easing of friction, employment, education in inter-racial coöperation, and impartial police action.

Industrial personnel men discussed employment with the executive board at a dinner meeting at Central Y. M. C. A. last night. Sessions today will open at the Park way community center, 5120 South Park way.

L'AIGLON OWNER FACES JURY QUIZ ON LIQUOR TAXES

Theodore Majerus, owner of L'Aiglon restaurant, 22 East Ontario street, where federal alcohol tax agents seized 325 cases of liquor in two raids last week, waived examination yesterday on charges of violating the alcohol tax laws and was held to the grand jury in $3,000 bond by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. The raids were made on Sept. 23 and 25.

Atlanta Shooting

(Story in adjoining column.)

[Associated Press Wirephotos.]

Dr. Bryant K. Vann (left) and his father-in-law, Henry C. Heinz.

PROBE GUN PLAY AFTERMATH TO HEINZ SLAYING

Atlanta Police Seek Banker's Killer.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 29.—Police authorities delved tonight into the circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting of Henry C. Heinz, 63 years old, past president of Kiwanis International and vice president of the Citizens and Southern National bank, and the subsequent wounding of his son-in-law in connection with a reported attempt to rob the Heinz home.

Dr. Bryant K. Vann, 40 year old Atlanta dentist and Heinz's son-in-law, is in a critical condition and has been unable to give an account of last night's shooting exchange in which he was wounded by two Atlanta patrolmen.

Daughter of Asa Candler.

Mrs. Heinz, daughter of the late Asa G. Candler, Coca-Cola capitalist, reported to police that she heard scuffling in the sun parlor of the home and discovered her husband grappling with a masked man. As she ran out to get a pistol, shots sounded. When she rushed back, she found Heinz lying on the floor and the intruder gone.

Heinz was shot twice in the left breast, once thru the heart and once thru the right arm.

Police Chief M. A. Hornsby said Radio Patrolmen M. W. Blackwell and W. M. Miller answered a call to the Heinz home. He said they reported:

Blackwell went in the house, got a description of the masked assailant, ran back out and broadcast it from the radio car, then ran back of the house. He was fired upon from the shrubbery. He returned the fire and a man ran from the shrubbery. Then Miller ran up and both fired at the man.

Struggles with Officers.

Detectives R. E. Hulsey and I. A. Thomas said they arrived a moment after this and found the two patrolmen struggling with Dr. Vann on the ground. They said Dr. Vann shouted: "Let me up. I'm not the burglar."

They said Dr. Vann had a .45 caliber pistol. His home is about 300 yards from the Heinz residence.

Finger print experts found a black smudge on a window ledge and this led to speculation the intruder, reported as a Negro, might have been a white man with blackened face and hands.

Police reported burglars have entered the Heinz home twice in recent years and that two other attempts to break in had failed.

Patrolman Blackwell said he had made it routine to check the estate each night. Last night, he told Chief Hornsby, he had driven up to the house a short time before the shooting and Heinz had told him everything was quiet.

MADMAN LOOSE; GUARD CARDINAL AT PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP).—Police guards were placed around the home of Cardinal Dennis Dougherty, archbishop of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Philadelphia, last night after a madman who had threatened him several times escaped from Norristown, Pa., state hospital.

Sgt. Charles Beckman of the detective bureau said the fugitive, John Havidich, visited the cardinal's home several times in 1933 and demanded $50,000, and later wrote him a letter containing a death threat. Havidich was captured on the grounds of the cardinal's home and committed to the Norristown institution.

In 1935 he escaped and appeared at the Catholic seminary of St. Charles Borromeo, Overbrook, Pa., where he demanded $10,000. Priests kept him in conversation until police arrived.

WIFE PAYS BIOFF'S $20,000 EXTORTION FINE IN U. S. COURT

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—A $20,000 fine imposed almost two years ago on Willie Bioff, west coast labor leader, was paid today in federal District court here. Assistant United States Atty. Boris Kostelanetz said payment of the fine by Bioff's wife saved him from the possibility of serving 10 years in addition to his current 10 year prison sentence, and made him eligible for parole in the spring of 1945.

Bioff was convicted of extortion and sentenced to 10 years and fined $20,000 by Federal Judge John C. Knox in November, 1941. Kostelanetz now is preparing to try eight men, named as accomplices of Bioff, on charges of extorting more than $1,000,000 from the motion picture industry.

Court Refuses to Send Witness to Milwaukee

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday refused to order removal of William B. Johnson, 48 years old, 1325 Thorndale avenue, to Milwaukee, Wis., as a witness in a bankruptcy hearing. Johnson contended that he was served with a subpena without being given the witness' fee to cover expense, and asserted he never actually was treasurer of the Republic Match company of Sheboygan, Wis., involved in bankruptcy.

SHIPPER HOLDS LAKE CAN SPARE WATER TO CITY

Diversion Won't Affect Navigation, He Says.

Immediate diversion of 5,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan into the Chicago river, drainage canal, and Calumet river would have no injurious effects upon great lakes shipping or harbors now that lakes are at their highest levels in years, a spokesman for the Gartland Steamship company, which operates eight cargo ships on the lakes, said yesterday.

The diversion increase from 1,500 cubic feet per second to 5,000 is being sought by Chicago in order to carry away increased war plant pollution and human wastes and aid in alleviating an epidemic of infantile paralysis.

Continue Capital Hearing.

The house rivers and harbors committee at a hearing Tuesday in Washington, D. C., on a resolution which calls for increased diversion, heard Chicagoans ask for increased flowage and then continued the hearing until Nov. 19 to give attorneys for objectors time to assemble evidence and witnesses to fight the proposal.

Atty. Herbert H. Naujoks, 1 North La Salle street, special counsel for the attorneys general of Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, and New York, was one of the anti-diversionists who aided in gaining the measure's delay.

Naujoks, who resides in Wilmette, was educated at the University of Wisconsin. At his Chicago office it was learned that he was a former assistant attorney general in Wisconsin and had represented that state in several water diversion cases.

Harbor Group Opposed.

Another active group opposing water diversion is the Great Lakes Harbors association. Daniel W. Hoan, former Milwaukee mayor and president of the organization, also demanded a delay in the hearing. Opponents of diversion assert that lowering of the lake level would injure harbors, lower levels in rivers, and affect riparian rights.

Other association officers, a United States engineer corps report shows, are William George Bruce of Milwaukee, honorary president; H. C. Brockel, Milwaukee, acting secretary, and John C. Beukema, Muskegon, Mich., treasurer. Raymond Carroll is shown as its Washington representative. Twenty-five cities are represented in the organization, Hoan said.

In a letter yesterday to Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, the City Club of Chicago demanded that he appeal to the United States Supreme court to grant increased water diversion as a war time emergency measure. Finding of infantile paralysis virus in treated sewage only emphasizes the dangers of untreated sewage which is being dumped into the south end of the lake, the letter pointed out.

Nine New Polio Cases.

Meanwhile, in Cook county nine cases of infantile paralysis, but no deaths, were reported for the 24 hour period up to 9 a. m. yesterday, as the epidemic continued to wane. Eight cases in Chicago raised the city total to 804 with 76 deaths since the outbreak. One new case was reported on the west side, six on the north side, and one on the south side. All victims, except one, were under 15 years old. The county total outside of Chicago was raised to 224 cases with the report of an additional case in Berwyn. There have been 18 deaths in the county area.

9 CHICAGOANS HURT IN C. & N. W. TRAIN WRECK

Sanborn, Minn., Sept. 29 [Special].—Nine Chicagoans were among the 15 persons injured today when two coaches of a Chicago and North Western train overturned in a ditch four miles west of here.

Eastbound from Tracy to Mankato, the train is believed to have been wrecked by a broken rail.

The injured included the following Chicagoans:

Edwards Lockhart, fractured ribs and back injuries; Andrew J. Kelly, 4918 Superior street, general yardmaster of the railroad, chest and shoulder injuries; Mrs. A. J. Kelly, injured shoulder; Ernest C. Cook and Eugene Wood, shoulder contusions; Robert Wood, brother of Eugene, knee bruises; Howard Rosenberry, knee and bladder injuries; Peter Mandas, scalp lacerations, and Mildred Lien, a WAVE, contusions.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Lizzie T. Barbe.

Mrs. Lizzie T. Barbe, a leader in Jewish circles in Chicago for 50 years, died yesterday in her home at 1356 Hyde Park boulevard. She was 86 years old and the widow of Martin Barbe. She had been ill for several years. Mrs. Barbe was one of the founders of the National Council of Jewish Women and was the first woman to be elected a director of Sinai temple. She also was chairman of the women's board of Michael Reese hospital. Two sons and two daughters survive. The funeral will be private.

John David Frankel.

Services for John David Frankel will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. from 936 East 47th street. Frankel was a civilian pilot for the 4th ferry command, with headquarters in Tennessee, and was killed Tuesday in the crash of a plane he was piloting near Springfield. His mother and two brothers, one of them Dr. Marshall Frankel of 5110 Dorchester avenue, survive. Pilot Frankel was 30 years old.

Sgt. Seymour Wadler.

Services for Sgt. Seymour Wadler will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 3125 Roosevelt road. Sgt. Wadler, 19 years old, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wadler, 1633 South Avers avenue, was one of nine men killed Saturday when an army bomber crashed near Columbus, Tex. Sgt. Wadler was stationed at the Kearney [Neb.] air base. A sister, Leona, also survives.

Thomas Seltzer.

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—Death of Thomas Seltzer, 68 years old, retired book publisher, author and former magazine editor, on Sept. 11 in Kings County hospital became known today. Seltzer, a native of Russia, was once a partner in the publishing firm of Boni and Liveright.

Oscar W. Berlin.

Oscar W. Berlin, 43 years old, part owner of the I. S. Berlin Printing and Lithographing company, 426 South Clinton street, died of a heart attack last night in his home at 1444 Fargo avenue. He is survived by his widow, Gertrude and two children.

7 ARMY FLYERS DIE IN CRASH OF HUGE BOMBER

Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 29 (AP).—Seven army flyers were killed today in the crash of their four-engined bomber 10 miles north of Pueblo. None of the victims was from the middle west.

Naval Machinist Killed.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 29 (AP).—Three Pensacola naval air training center flyers were killed and two seriously injured when a patrol plane crashed and burned near Fort Barrancas Monday night. The plane, returning from a night flight, was attempting a landing in the dark. Among the dead was Wayne Lee Edwards Jr., aviation machinist mate, first class, United States navy, who leaves his mother, Mrs. Laura Squire, Cisne, Ill., and his widow, Mrs. Wilma Mae Edwards, 47 East Pearson street, Chicago.

CIRCUIT JUDGE S. H. KLARKOWSKI IS IMPROVING

Circuit Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski was in improved condition yesterday in the Norwegian American hospital, where he is being treated for stomach ulcers. He suffered a hemorrhage last Sunday at his farm near Oregon, Ogle county, and was taken to the hospital. On Monday he was given a blood transfusion. It is expected he will be away from the bench another 10 days. Judge Klarkowski is 51 years old and lives at 1325 North Ashland avenue.

7 Women Are Injured in Street Car Collision

Seven women riding in a Western avenue car were injured last night and rush hour traffic was disrupted for a time when the car collided with another street car in the intersection of Armitage avenue. Most seriously injured was Norma Knight, 17 years old, 1730 North Artesian avenue, who was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital. The others, after receiving first aid, returned to their homes.

Berwyn Cyclist Is Killed in Collision with Truck

Joseph C. Kaufmann, 20 years old, 3744 Gunderson avenue, Berwyn, was killed yesterday when his motorcycle struck a truck driven by Charles Terry, 26, of Elgin, at 22d street and 17th avenue, Broadview. The driver was held for the inquest.

WOMAN REVIVED BY FIREMEN.

Mrs. Jennie Silverman, 52 years old, was revived by a fire department rescue squad under Lt. Charles Bratt last night after she suffered a heart attack in her home at 1152 South Troy street.

COUNCIL DEFERS WARD CHANGES UNTIL WAR ENDS

Holds Voters' Shifts Defeat Purpose.

Redistricting of Chicago's 50 wards will be postponed until after the war, the city council decided yesterday when it tabled by a vote of 37 to 3 a motion by Ald. James B. Waller [43d], calling for the redistricting that the law says must be made every 10 years.

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the committee on rules, to which Waller's motion had been referred, told the council that redistricting would be useless because of shifting population during the war. He said estimates his committee had received indicated some war plants would increase employment by 300 per cent by the first of the year, with many families moving to new homes near their work.

He also said that the election commission, because of a lack of help, could not handle the changes in registration that redistricting would necessitate.

Authorization for improvement of Kinzie street from State street to Milwaukee avenue at an estimated cost of $260,000 was given to the department of streets by the council. The money will be taken from the motor fuel tax fund. The project was presented by Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the council finance committee, on recommendation of Ald. George D. Kells [28th].

The council authorized the purchase of 20,000 wooden "no parking" signs costing $3,675, on the recommendation of the council finance committee. Lloyd M. Johnson, commissioner of streets and electricity, said the city could get no priorities to buy steel signs.

A recommendation from City Clerk Ludwig D. Schreiber that 550,000 engraved vehicle tax stickers for 1944 be purchased from the American Bank Note company at a cost of $10,958, was approved by the council. The purchase, Schreiber said, will represent a saving of more than $14,000 from a 10 year average cost of the sticker now in use.

City Controler Robert B. Upham was authorized by the council to advance $1,260,448 to the Chicago Welfare administration, to provide for 40,000 persons receiving public relief for the remainder of the year. The money will be repaid thru the sale of 1944 tax anticipation warrants.

CHICAGO DRIVER, 2 OTHERS KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH

Mishawaka, Ind., Sept. 29 [Special].—Three persons were fatally burned today when a New York Central train bound from Chicago to New York hit a gasoline laden truck and trailer at the Carlton street crossing. They were:

Thomas Pennoyer, 7545 South Hermitage avenue, Chicago, driver of the truck, who was employed by the James A. Hannah Motor Truck Service of Lemont, Ill.

Daniel A. Holloway, engineer, of Etna Green, Ind.

W. C. Moore, fireman, Elkhart, Ind.

All three were taken from the flaming wreckage to St. Joseph's hospital, South Bend, where they died a few hours later.

E. M. WILLOUGHBY SKYSCRAPER IS LEFT TO FAMILY

Edward McKean Willoughby, who died Sept. 16, left the 38 story Willoughby Tower building at the northwest corner of Michigan avenue and Madison street in trust for his widow, Harriette, and his three daughters, it was disclosed yesterday when his will was filed with Frank Lyman, clerk of the Probate court. Mrs. Willoughby will receive 85 per cent of the income from the building and the daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Goodsmith, Mrs. Walter B. Campbell, and Mrs. John S. Gosselin, will share the remainder of the income until Mrs. Willoughby's death, when the full trust will pass to them. The remainder of the estate was left to the widow.

CAR CONDUCTOR IS FOUND SLAIN; INQUEST CALLED

An inquest will be held today into the death of Patrick McGrath, 51 years old, 3156 Jackson boulevard, a street car conductor for the last 30 years and a veteran of the last war, who was found dead, with his throat slashed, in an alley at the rear of 217 South Kedzie avenue early yesterday.

Patrick McGrath.

Dr. Jacob Goodman, a coroner's physician, said McGrath probably had committed suicide by slashing himself with a razor blade which was found near the body.

Police ruled out a theory that McGrath had been slain by robbers after they found about $7 in his clothing. McGrath, who was unmarried, came to Chicago from Ireland in 1910. He was wounded in action while serving with the AEF.

START INQUIRING INTO LAUNDRY INSURANCE FEES

An investigation of alleged insurance rackets being practiced by Chicago laundries and dry cleaning establishments is under way, the Chicago office of the Illinois department of insurance, reported yesterday.

The investigation was prompted by hundreds of calls received by the Chicago Better Business bureau to the effect that many laundries charge customers for insurance on damage and loss to articles when the companies actually carry no such policies. Some of the firms, it is charged, print a warning on bill heads that their insurance covers only fire and theft, but print the warning in extremely small type so it won't be noticed.

Kenneth Barnard, general manager of the bureau, said many customers report that when they complain to the laundries and dry cleaning establishments about being defrauded they get no satisfaction. Complaints have been lodged against large as well as small companies.

CHICAGO FLYER AMONG 14 LISTED AS DEAD IN ASIA

Lt. Robert A. Hermann, 23 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Hermann of 7750 Saginaw avenue, was killed in the Asiatic theater on Sept. 21, the army announced yesterday. The names of 13 other American officers and men who died on the same date also were made public. It was presumed, in a dispatch from Washington, D. C., that all were in an army transport plane which crashed at Calcutta, India.

Lt. Robt. A. Hermann

Lt. Hermann learned to fly in Chicago in 1941 and held a private pilot's license before joining the army. He became a member of the army air forces ferry command in September, 1942. Much of his work consisted in ferrying planes to the African front.

KILLED IN ELEVATOR SHAFT.

Leo La Budda, 45 years old, 5435 South Winchester avenue, was found dead of a skull fracture yesterday at the bottom of the elevator shaft in a laundry at 1824 Wabash avenue.

GAINS RECORDED BY INVENTORIES IN 3 BIG ESTATES

Inventories in three large estates were filed in Probate court yesterday. In each case the estate was larger than original estimate indicated.

The largest estate was that of Paul K. Richter, former president of the Chicago Bolt and Nut company, who died July 18. He left $1,500,000, most of it in government and municipal bonds, equally to his widow, Anna, and his son, E. Edward Richter of San Marino, Cal., where he lived after he retired.

William B. McIlvaine, attorney who died May 6, left an estate of $500,000, more than half of which was in United States government bonds. It also included 260 shares in the First National bank, valued at $81,500. The estate was left to his widow, Julia, 1029 Green Bay road, Winnetka, and their four children.

Martin M. Gridley, veteran Illinois jurist who died Aug. 2, left an estate of $310,000, or double the original estimate. One half was left to his widow, Ruth Farwell Gridley, 425 Grove avenue, Evanston, and the remainder to his two daughters.

Policeman for 21 Years Discharged for Absence

John L. McMahon, a policeman at the Stanton avenue station and a member of the force for 21 years, was discharged by the civil service commission yesterday on charges that he was absent without permission and failure to report for duty on Aug. 31. McMahon had been suspended on four previous occasions and twice had won extra compensation awards for bravery.

When at times they see me smile;
Little do they know the heartache
That my smile hides all the while.
How often do I tread the pathway
That leads me to his grave,
Where rests the one I loved so well
But whom I could not save.

SOMETHING GOING ON EVERY MINUTE

Action! . . . Entertainment! . . . Instruction!

In the first week, more than 150,000 persons attended the U. S. Navy Show, presented in Tribune Square by the Treasury Department in co-operation with the Chicago Tribune. Last Sunday's crowd of 55,134 broke all records for one day at any Tribune Square war show.

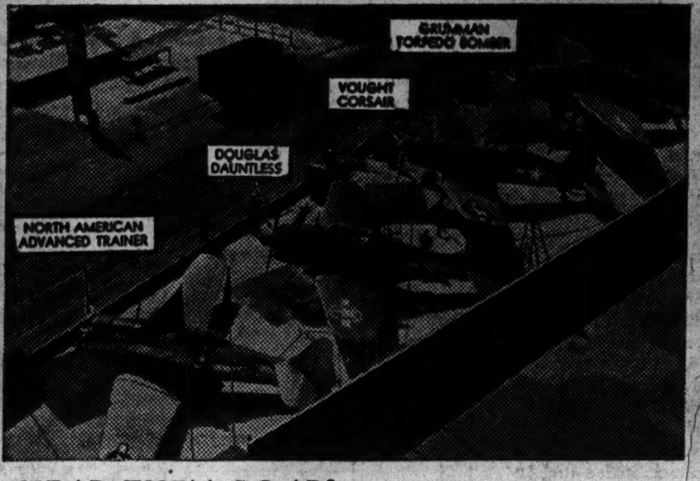
Don't miss this great show. Something going on every minute—action, entertainment, instruction—morning, afternoon, and evening. Come any time, especially in the middle of the week, when crowds are smaller and you can inspect each exhibit at your leisure.

For your convenience, the Treasury Department maintains facilities at the show where you can buy or order war stamps and bonds. But there is no obligation to buy anything. Bring the family today!

EVERY DAY 10 A. M. TO 10:30 P. M.—Admission FREE

COME ABOARD! Walk the bridge of this actual size replica of the Patrol Craft Escort of the type now guarding convoys from U-boats on the Atlantic. Built by Pullman-Standard Car Mfg. Co., Chicago.

TRY YOUR SKILL! Buy a war stamp at the show and you can test your gunnery skill on this gun turret trainer!



HEAR THEM ROAR! See this display of Navy air power! Hear the engines roar in their daily warm-up. A thrill you will never forget.

FIRST TIME SHOWN! See the Navy's new 40 MM. quad mount rapid fire anti-aircraft gun. Built by York Safe & Lock Co., York, Pa.

TAKE A FLYING LESSON! Buy a war bond at the show and take a flying lesson in the Link Trainer, used to teach blind flying.

MANDEL'S

NOW "working" women can keep that "younger" look!

In spite of long hours, hard work, you want to look your best...to retain your radiant, feminine charm. Science can help you. The Endocreme laboratories have found the wonderful "vitalizing" substance that gives the "bloom" to pretty, young skin. The counterpart of this natural substance is called "ACTIVOL*," found only in ENDOCREME. When it is absorbed by the skin, results are often astonishing! There's nothing like it to help firm and freshen tissues, to make many skins begin to look smoother, younger. And ENDOCREME only costs 11½¢ a day to use. Buy your jar today.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

Career Girl at Home.

The girl was pouring out her troubles to her companion on the suburban train. She just couldn't study at home, she said. She knew absolutely that if she could go away to school she could get better marks. But at home—well, there was housework to do and so forth. Her companion asked what she was studying. Her answer was: "Home economics."

Court Reporting.

Here is a bit of advice from one court reporter to the aspirant who said, via the White Collar Girl column, that she would like to become one. If she has to work while going to school she should get a job as a straight stenographer in an active law office to familiarize herself with legal terminology and also to get shorthand practice as she goes along. Almost every day there are ads for legal stenos from $40 to $45 a week. Then she should take a court reporting course at night to build up her vocabulary, to learn technical and medical dictation and reporting shortcuts. She should build up a shorthand speed of 200 words per minute on court testimony. Then she will graduate from her course of study and can take her pick of the $75 per week jobs waiting for her. This is one career that is not overcrowded. But warn her she won't have time for typewriter drawing and doodling while she is studying. C. R.

Ideal Supervisor.

From our suggestion box the composite picture of an ideal supervisor seems to be: Not too young [older women don't take direction well from younger women] . . . not too old [at least not so old as to have forgotten the problems of youth] . . . reasonably nice looking and appropriately dressed . . . not catty . . . some one fair who plays no favorites . . . one who returns the girls' loyalty by sticking up for them in a crisis . . . one who knows the job but doesn't think she knows ALL the angles . . . a woman who's not curious about the girls' personal lives . . . not maneuvering to keep in the good graces of the boss . . . some one with a sense of humor, kind and competent who has the confidence of the employer and the employes.

THE THIRD FLOOR BACK.

On the Sinatra Scene.

Item 1. When Frank Sinatra was in town last week he stopped in St. Luke's hospital to see the new baby of a friend. No one has reported—as yet—whether the baby [a girl] sighed in admiration, but a white capped white collar girl reports that all the nurses did.

Item 2. Sally submits the new Sinatra theme song: "My Time Is Sigh Time."

Item 3. H. B. queries:

Is the voice of democracy
Merely Sinatra-cy?

And with this, I guess we can go back to work.

Silk, Nylon Collections for War to End Today

Silk and nylon collections for war uses will stop today because hosiery manufactured in recent months has not contained these materials, Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, chairman of the conservation committee, Illinois war council, said yesterday. Illinois, contributing 100,975 pounds, was first in collections among the states in the WPB 6th region in the nine months from Nov. 16 to Aug. 14, while national collections totaled 2,300,307 pounds, or about 46 million pairs of stockings, Cross said. The silk and nylon were used for parachutes and gunpowder bags.

Sally Requests Clothing for Two Aged Men

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Several elderly men have requested our assistance in finding suitable clothing.

Mr. W. is in need of a winter suit, size 38 or 40. He is of medium build. Altho he is employed, his salary is not sufficient to provide for all of his needs.

Mr. C. is 65 years old, and because of his illness he attends a clinic regularly, and is on relief. Because of his physical condition, he is extremely sensitive to cold and has asked our assistance in obtaining an overcoat, size 44.

If any reader has a sewing machine to dispose of, Mrs. G. would be very happy to have it. She is the mother of three small children and is dependent upon a public agency for support. As the budget is extremely limited, it is necessary for her to repair and remake the children's clothing.

Mrs. W., on the south side of the city, is a widow with one small child. She also receives public assistance. If she could locate a sewing machine she could work in her home as a seamstress and feels that then it would no longer be necessary for her to request public aid.

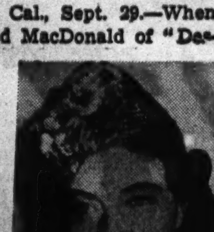
N. U. Puts T. A. Gonser in Public Relations Job

Thomas A. Gonser, assistant to the president of Northwestern university since 1924, has been made vice president in charge of public relations and developments, President Franklyn B. Snyder announced yesterday. Mr. Gonser was graduated from Northwestern in 1924 and has been associated with the university since then. In 1926 he organized and became executive secretary of the school's foundation fund.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 29.—When Lt. Col. David MacDonald of "Desert Victory" fame was here, Metro wanted him to linger on and supervise a picture of Malta. MacDonald said it couldn't be done in this country. Now it has been switched to England under Alex Korda's banner, and will probably star Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh, and they'll get actual scenes of Malta in the film. . . . I hope it's true that Harry Cohn has bought the life story of D. W. Griffith, the daddy of all films. It's called "Silver Glory" and was written by Lillian Gish. Lillian has finished her picture job and starts a lecture tour in Texas, which will keep her busy until long after snow flies. . . . Red Skelton is now a SPAR. During a personal appearance in Portland, he was invited to launch a Victory ship. This is traditionally a woman's privilege, but Red allowed himself to be done up in a frowsy blonde wig, a boa hat, and satin gown. The delighted SPARS immediately decided to make him one of their own, and he was sworn into their ranks.



Lillian Gish.

Tallulah Finds a Genius.

Tallulah Bankhead is the latest to have star dust in her eyes while talking about Director Alfred Hitchcock. She said, "If that word 'genius' wasn't so overworked in Holly, that's the term I'd apply to him. Not since David Belasco has there been a man who understands actors like Hitchy. Imagine playing a whole picture in drab clothes in a lifeboat without going stark, staring mad! He's even conquered the elements." They went out to sea for some fog scenes. Fog was too thick, so they came back and made their own in the studio. "It's more like a play than a picture," says Tallu. "Just like 'Little Foxes,' there's a great part for every member of the cast. This is what I've been waiting for. He's a man of such taste and judgment you can't even give him an argument." And that from Tallu, who'd rather argue than eat, is really something.

How It's Done.

John Hodiak, who plays opposite Tallu, has one of those discovery stories that could only happen here. For 11 years he wanted to be an actor, and got as far as radio in Chicago. Finally Metro took him on from there to New York, and made a test with the colored actor Canada Lee in a scene from "Liberty Ship," which hasn't yet been produced. Hodiak was signed by Metro, and given bits in three of their pictures. Hitchcock saw the test of Canada Lee, not only signed him but got John Hodiak as leading man of "Life Boat."...Metro's been wildly looking for a man to star in "Quo Vadis." Somebody mentioned Hodiak's name to a top producer at Metro, who asked where he was. "He's at Twentieth," was the reply. The producer called Twentieth to ask if they could borrow him and the answer was, "I don't see why not—we borrowed him from you!"...Now that Hitchcock's used him in a star part, Hodiak's next will be opposite Lana Turner. And he won't know it until he reads this....The day "Life Boat" started, he came on the set looking hollow-eyed. Hitch asked what was wrong. "O," said he, "I didn't sleep last night." Hitch said, "Well, what are you worrying about? This is just another picture." Then he added, "But the one on which your whole screen career depends!"

Now I've Heard Everything.

Ben Schulberg will produce "What Makes Sammy Run," written by his son. Well, it was Sid Grauman who put "Once in a Lifetime" on the screen—and he's still living....Charley Grapewin began playing George Raft's father in "Three Cheers for the Boys," saying there's nothing like hard work to keep you from brooding about your sorrow. Charley lost his wife only a few weeks ago....While Orson Welles and Marlene Dietrich were doing their woman-sawing act, Raft walked on the set to say hello. It was the first time he and Marlene had met since "Manpower." They went into a clinch; Orson glowered and yelled, "Get that riff-raft out of here!"

Turnabout.

When Doodles Weaver played in "Meet the People," a young girl asked for his autograph at the stage door. She said some day she'd be an actress. When Doodles began work in "Two Sisters and a Sailor," he met the same girl—Gloria De Haven, one of the stars of the picture....Virginia Hill threw another of those huge parties for the international set. It was a costume affair. Rex St. Cyr, done up as a western cowboy in maroon and black satin stripes, won first prize. Jan Miller, as a Spanish dancer, got first for the ladies. There were no picture stars present. During war time when the need is so great, I think it behooves the international set to pipe down and think of entertaining some of our wounded instead of whipping up parties for each other—or is that too much to ask of the pampered darlings?

Good Morning!

"The silly thing!" Red Skelton's fans remark fondly, and settle back admiringly to enjoy the type of nonsense the red headed clown has made popular both over the radio and on the screen.

It goes without saying that any vehicle presenting a grownup broad shouldered male who says "I dood it" would be light headed as to plot. This movie proves no exception. BUT, I would have you know, the piece has a little war angle all its own which sees to it that the funny man is hailed as a hero. All this—and he gets a reward and the girl too. [WHOA there—don't be giving secrets away, Miss Tinee!]

The story's about a pants presser in a large hotel who adores the dancing star of a Broadway stage success.

Constance Shaw is engaged to her leading man—but when she discovers he is trifling with her young affections, doggone if she doesn't up and marry the tall red readed stranger in a filched dress suit whom she has been led to believe is a gold miner. How COULD she wot that he is from the valet shop, has seen the show some 300 times and is letter perfect in the role of the northern officer, played by [tho none suspect the fact!] a SABOTEUR! . . .

Poor Joe Rivington Reynolds! Just when he thinks happiness is about to up and clap him on the shoulder it mows him down. . . . BUT—you'll be SURPRISED! . . .

The picture packs several rib-tickling situations. Note the one in which Joe struggles with the inert body of his bride who has, by mistake, taken sleeping tablets she'd meant for him. . . . Then there's the one in which he contends with false whiskers and a bottle of glue.

The cast is splendid. Eleanor Powell's dancing, charms. Jimmy Dorsey et al provide down beat for hep cats. . . . Negro artists headlined by Hazel Scott and Lena Horne are featured in an audition episode. Good, too!

Red's clowning has this trip, a new human, hapless, Chaplin heart gouge to it which lifts him out of the buffoon class and transforms him into an actor.

See you tomorrow.

School Age Workers Will Be Discussed by Woman's City Club

At their opening fall meeting, scheduled at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow, members of the Woman's City club will consider the problem of the return to school of young people who have been working thru the summer. Mrs. Henry C. Dormitzer, chairman of the public education committee, and Mrs. John Gutknecht, chairman of the child welfare committee, are in charge of the program, and have secured as guest speakers Lester J. Schloerb and Leland L. Medsker, director and assistant director, respectively, of the bureau of occupational research of the Chicago public schools.

Mr. Schloerb will tell of plans for integrating part time work with the school program, and of efforts to induce students to complete their education.

Millions Working Harder, Yet, May Not Be Eating Enough—Try A Few Extra Slices Of Bread Every Day—It Can Supply Up To 35% Of Your Total Energy

Science Finds It Takes Vitamin B₁ To Help Properly Transform Bread Into Energy For Body And Brain

Get Your Extra Energy From Wonder Bread Because It Contains More Than Enough Vitamin B₁ For Its Own Conversion Into Energy For You

Do you have all the energy you should? Enough for the day's work? And enough left over for the children or a movie at night?

Or, like millions in these days of rationing are you doing more work than before—without eating enough more energy food to make up for the extra energy you burn?

One aircraft-worker survey shows 78% did not get the energy requirements set by the National Research Council's Food and Nutrition Board. This may be true in your case.

To get more energy eat more bread. Because bread can supply up to 35% of your daily energy requirements.

Vitamin B₁ Key That Unlocks Bread's Energy

Eat a few extra slices of bread every day. But, make sure the bread you eat contains enough Vitamin B₁. Because science finds the human body cannot transform bread into energy properly without its help.

Before, people could obtain enough Vitamin B₁ by eating plenty of meat, liver and certain other foods. Today, however, you may not get enough.

Thus, you are urged to buy and eat Wonder Bread. Because it does contain more than enough Vitamin B₁ to help the human body convert it into energy properly.

Tastes Better Because Doubly Fresh

You'll rave about the flavor of Wonder Bread, too. Because it is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it.

For Wonder Bread is made the famous slo-baked way. Baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Then, too, Wonder Bread is made with the famous Earle Patented Process Flour . . . the sensational discovery which brings you more natural food value and more natural vitamins. Wonder Bread's natural color shows you the difference.

Get Wonder Bread from your grocer today—you'll be glad you did.

Only WONDER BREAD Makes this Guarantee

$1,000 GUARANTEE

The numerous analyses we have made of representative loaves of Wonder White Bread show in every case a Vitamin B₁ content equal to or in excess of the minimum requirement of Vitamin B₁ as recommended for bread by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

We will pay $1,000 to any charitable organization named by the citizen of the United States first to disprove the above statement prior to December 31, 1943.

Announce Eleanor Cochran's Troth to Ensign Hemingway

BY JUDITH CASS.

IN the midst of her duties as head of the scenery department for the St. Luke's Fashion show next Wednesday, and as president of the Casino club, which opens for the season tomorrow, Mrs. John Lewis Cochran has the added responsibilities of arranging the trousseau and forthcoming wedding of her elder daughter, Miss Eleanor Cochran. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran today are announcing their daughter's engagement to Ensign Louis Lee Hemingway Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hemingway of New Haven, Conn.

Ensign Hemingway, who is instructing at the naval reserve midshipmen's school at Northwestern university, received his commission there. He and his fiancée have known each other during the last year, while he has been in Chicago. Miss Cochran, who was introduced to society two years ago next Christmas, attended Miss Walker's school at Simsbury, Conn., and Mills college. She and her younger sister, Miss Nancy Cochran, both are pursuing business careers, taking time out with a group of close friends to edit and publish a newsy little letter, "Something for the Boys," which carries local news to friends in the army and navy. Miss Cochran's own engagement will make an interesting item.

Ensign Hemingway was graduated from Deerfield academy and Yale university, with the class of '42. His navy orders will determine the date of the wedding, which is expected in the immediate future.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Field Lum of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Mills, to Lt. [j.g.] George Edward Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Doyle of Cohoes, N. Y. Miss Lum is a graduate of Arlington Hall Junior college in Washington, D. C., and of the Career institute. Her fiancé, who received his commission from the naval reserve training school at Northwestern university, recently returned from 16 months' active duty in the Southwest Pacific, and has departed for further active duty. He is a graduate of Albany academy and Union college.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Lindstrom of Skokie have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Colin I. Finlayson of Decatur, Ill., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Finlayson of Chevy Chase, Md., formerly of Wilmette. The news was told last Saturday in Granville, O., at the wedding reception of Miss Betty McCann Williams and Miss Lindstrom's brother, Lt. John A. Lindstrom. Miss Lindstrom was graduated from Denison university and her fiancé from Northwestern university. Their wedding is planned for Oct. 30.

Weddings.

Mrs. Edward M. Tourtelot Jr. and Helen Forsyth Case are arriving today in Daytona Beach, Fla., where young Mrs. Case will be married on Saturday to Lt. Comdr. Porter Wilson Maxwell, U. S. N. Plans for the wedding were arranged so suddenly that neither the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Forsyth of Evanston, nor her sister, Mary Jane, who just arrived at home from New York, are able to go south for the ceremony. However, Lt. George H. Forsyth Jr. may fly down from Washington, D. C., where he is stationed with the navy. The ceremony will take place in the home of Lt. and Mrs. Robin Lindsey, and Mrs. Lindsey will be the bride's only attendant.

Young Mrs. Case is the widow of Lt. Frank D. Case Jr., who was killed in a navy plane crash three months after their marriage. A graduate of Stanford university, she has been working for the navy department in Washington. Mrs. Tourtelot joined her in New York for the drive south. Lt. Comdr. Maxwell, son of Judge and Mrs. Haymond Maxwell of Charleston, W. Va., was graduated from Annapolis in 1936 and has been on duty in the Pacific. He and his bride will live in Deland, Fla., where he is the officer in charge of training at the naval air station.

Until Joseph Augustus Thunder's military orders come thru tomorrow, he and Miss Genevieve Donnersberger won't know whether they can go ahead with their plans for an 11 a. m. wedding on Saturday. However, everything is in readiness for the morning ceremony in St. Mary's Catholic church in Lake Forest. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas V. Shannon will celebrate the solemn high mass, which will be followed by a wedding breakfast.

The bride, the fifth of the George Donnersbergers' six daughters to be married, will have two of her sisters, Mrs. Charles Cretors and Miss Florence Donnersberger, as attendants. Miss Mary Jane Brummel will be the third. Richard Thunder will come from Detroit, Mich., where he is an instructor of aviation, to be his brother's best man. They are sons of James A. Thunder of Chicago and of the late Mrs. Thunder.

On the Calendar.

With a club program that includes on its lecture series list the name of Mme. Wellington Koo and a Red Cross unit that is starting its third year of continuous work, the Woman's Athletic club is preparing for a busy fall and winter season. The ever popular Tuesday morning lecture series will begin on Oct. 12 with Louis Fischer, foreign correspondent and author, as speaker. "The Russian Enigma" will be his subject. Luncheons will be served as usual following the lectures. Mr. Fischer's talk should get the series off to a good start as he knows the middle east and Europe well and is the author of "The Soviet in World Affairs."

Mme. Koo will speak on Nov. 23 with "America's Opportunity in the Pacific" as her subject. Julien Bryan and Otto Hapsburg will precede her at the club and among other speakers to follow will be Col. Carlos P. Romulo.

In addition to the lecture gatherings, the club is starting a series of Thursday night dinners, by reservations only. The first of these is planned for Oct. 7. Mrs. William Wrigley Jr. is one of the club's members who have been rolling bandages and sewing for the Red Cross constantly all summer. Production will be stepped up by three meetings a week, beginning next Monday, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. A special luncheon at 60 cents is served to the workers.

"Without him, we couldn't put the show on," said a member of the St. Luke's fashion show committee. She was referring to Edward Beck, who each year volunteers his services in teaching the amateur mannequins to walk like professional models and thereby add smoothness and polish to this annual parade of fashions. Mr. Beck will conduct a rehearsal at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Casino, after which the models will remain for cocktails as guests of Mrs. Walter B. Wolf and Mrs. Frank Hibbard. The show will be given at 2:30 and again at 8 p. m. next Wednesday at Orchestra hall.

Birth.

Lt. and Mrs. James Evans Cooney [Catherine Marie Anderson] are being congratulated on the birth of a son last Sunday at St. Luke's hospital. The baby is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo A. Anderson and of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Cooney. Lt. Cooney will hear of his son's arrival in the North Pacific war area, where he is on active duty with the navy.

Attractive Black Chiffon Velvet Dress

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

This black chiffon velvet teatime or party dress is designed with young and fetching simplicity. The bodice top is cut with very short sleeves that button down the side. A skirt is gathered simply to a narrow belt. Two shell pink cabbage roses fastened at the side provide contrast. The dress is available in a Chicago shop.

250 Hair Stylists Told Flat Top Will Be Choice of Women

Milady's new hairdo will be the flat top, a coiffure reflecting a return in hair dress to the simplicity of clothing fashions forced by OPA dress restrictions, M. Louis, one of the nation's better known hair stylists, said last night.

Louis, who is director of America's Hair Fashion center in New York City, spoke before 250 hair stylists who attended his regional beauty demonstration in the Drake hotel.

For those unable to launch a new hat from the flat top hairdo, Louis offered his own patented triangular curl hairdo. Another alternative is the candy pop, which he termed always dressy and gay. But he predicted that in the future it will be flat top that will be first in every circle.

Dr. Douglas to Speak at Sunday Evening Club

Dr. Lloyd C. Douglas, author of "Magnificent Obsession," "The Robe," and other best sellers, will speak at 8 p. m. on Sunday in Orchestra hall before the Chicago Sunday Evening club, opening the organization's 37th session. His talk on "My Post-War World" will follow a 7 p. m. song service conducted by Dr. John R. Mott. A choir of 125 voices will be included on the program. The club is maintained by a group of Chicago business men to provide a popular Christian service in the center of the city. Admission to the programs is free.

Beads Flash from Dresses This Season

BY REA SEEGER.

Beadwork devised by imaginative designers not only achieves flashing decorative motifs, but combines the practical with decoration. For instance, an elaborately beaded dress has millions of twinkling tiny jet beads only in the all-over pattern on the exact front half of the dress. The back is of smooth dull crepe. But the massed designs of beads on the front more than make up for the unadorned back section. This handwork of beading is a revived fashion. Nearly all the season's smartest short length party and evening dresses flash and twinkle in the light, because of this fine and exacting handwork.

Lovely scarlet crepe models are alive with matching tiny red beads. Each movement catches the light to reflect the shimmer of thousands of beads carefully attached in handmade embroidery. Diagonal bands, flowers, Chinese characters and motifs, butterflies, Greek key bandings and the all-over patterns are effective designs to go with beads.

Color is added with the black models. One stunning black beaded dress has black beads in front, and has a band of vivid orange velvet ribbon crossing the chest to tie in a soft bow at the vee of the neckline. Another uses lovely old blue satin ribbon with an added design of beads, a third is of putty beige with black beads and so on.

Even the dress parade velvet dresses in short length boast a bit of the beading so popular and so effective this season. Beads flicker on bags of the pouch or drawstring variety, on slipper buckles, on belts, gloves and hats. They're even sewed to feather headdresses. If you've longed to wear beaded creations, this is your chance.

Two Women's Groups to Hear Else M. Roed, Norwegian Journalist

In compliment to Else Margrete Roed, Norwegian journalist, members of two organizations—the Cordon and the Woman's University club—will gather for a 1 p. m. luncheon on Saturday at Cordon headquarters. Following the luncheon, Miss Roed, the former editor of the leading women's magazine of Norway and an Oxford graduate, will discuss her recent dramatic escape from the Gestapo operating in her country.

Mrs. John Delph, the Cordon's new social chairman, is in charge of the luncheon, and Miss Mabel Blazier, program chairman of the Woman's University club, will introduce the special guest. The presidents of the two groups, Miss La Verne Hand of the Woman's University club and Mrs. Roy Dickey of the Cordon, will be seated with Miss Roed at the speaker's table.

Miss Emma Neve Named Museum Guide Lecturer

Miss Emma Neve of Des Plaines, Ill., has been appointed as a guide lecturer on the staff of the James Nelson and Anna Louise Raymond foundation for public school and children's lectures at the Field museum, according to an announcement yesterday by Orr Goodson, acting director of the museum. For the last three years Miss Neve has been an instructor in the public schools of Elmhurst.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Women representing many degrees of technical skill and varied professional and personal backgrounds now are enrolled in the Chicago Board of Education's tuition-free, war training courses, and others are invited to enter the classes.

Helen Jedynak.

Thirteen war production courses, under the direction of Philip L. McNamee, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of vocational training, are available under sponsorship of the United States government: Aircraft engines, aircraft sheet metal, aircraft woodwork, blueprint reading, chemicals and explosives, electrical armature winding, floor assembly, machine tool operation, mathematics related to machine tooling, radio and communications, testing and inspecting, tool and die design, and electrical arc welding.

The courses have been established since six months before the United States entered the war, and have been the prototype for similar instruction in other cities. These are the schools in which classes are offered: Austin, Crane Technical, Englewood, Lane Technical, and Tilden Technical High schools; Chicago and Dunbar Vocational schools, and Washburne Trade school.

Classes are given from mid-afternoon thru the evening hours, except at Tilden, where all sessions are held at night.

Demonstrating the fact that students in these war training courses have been engaged previously in a wide variety of civilian jobs is Miss Helen Jedynak, who, before she entered a class in radio assembly, was a salad maker in a large hotel.

Mrs. Helena Smolk, a deaf mute, is learning electric motor armature winding. In spite of her handicap, her instructors report that she is a better than average student.

Mrs. Viola Pyzik decided to take up war training when her husband went overseas with the army. She used to operate a mangle in a laundry, but now she's a tester and adjuster in a war plant and attending war production training classes to develop higher skill.

The only woman in the machine shop at Tilden is Mrs. Bertha Clausen.

Mrs. May Washer works in a factory from 11:30 p. m. to 7:30 a. m., then does her housework and sleeps until 4 p. m., when she leaves to attend evening war production classes, learning to be a precision inspector.

Mrs. Daphne Himley is studying radio assembly in the same class in which her two sons are enrolled.

Persons interested in these courses may make application for enrollment at either the school nearest their homes or at Mr. McNamee's office, Board of Education, 228 North La Salle street. Dearborn 7801.

Statistics of the United States department of labor show that more than four-fifths of the net addition of 1,833,000 to the working force in American factories from April, 1942, to June, 1943, were women, a marked increase over previous figures. Approximately 2,000,000 women were engaged in June in the production of basic war materials, including planes and other implements of war.

Almost as many women, approximately 1,454,500, were at work in the textile, apparel, and leather industries, making uniforms, tents, and other equipment for the fighting forces. In the food industries, 262,100 women were employed for the same period.

Thru the Looking Glass

Fatigue is a nasty enemy of woman. It sneaks up on her health, her good looks and personality. She won't be charming if she's weary, and if she permits weariness to become chronic she is sure to spoil her disposition and her well being.

Women are inclined to waste their energies, as we all know, or to be extremists. It has been a bad feminine trait always, but never was it as bad as right now, when so many women are called upon to do so much.

If you know that you're getting frazzled, force yourself to rest. If you're a housewife, lock your bedroom door for 15 minutes a day, at least, and let the world go by. If you're a working woman, and feel that your endurance is not what it ought to be, check over your schedule to see what's wrong. Maybe you're not eating properly, or getting to bed early enough. Maybe you work without relaxation for too long periods.

Learn to knock off when time permits. Perhaps you can't stop to relax at noon or to snatch more than a breath midmorning or midafternoon, but you can have a regular rest session when you get home at night, before dinner.

For this relaxation period, whenever you can arrange it, try lying on your bed, with pillows under your hips, your head flat but your feet on the headboard. This is wonderfully refreshing, and 10 minutes of it will make a big difference. It's particularly good if your back and legs are tired.

It's important for women to learn to stop working before rather than after they are exhausted. Every wise woman who wants to run her house or her job efficiently will see to it that her schedule provides one period a day for rest. She'll be a better worker and a better looking one if she acquires the habit of relaxing when she should.

"The Chimney Crashed"

SYNOPSIS: Lady Hyacinth calls at the office of her husband, Peter Gloam, and demands money for a venture in shipping antiques to America. She is accompanied by two cousins, Joanna Fripp and Cyril Brockett. Wren Dancey is Peter's secretary; Sam Molesey, the bookkeeper, and Harold, the office boy. The office has been bombed. Ronald, now Capt. Warre, calls to see his uncle. The sound of falling bricks is heard in the inner office, but Lady Hyacinth prevents any one from entering. She and Peter are quarreling. There is a loud thud, and then Lady Hyacinth calls for help. Peter has suffered a stroke. Before he is buried, and during a violent air raid, Lady Hyacinth arranges for removal of their furniture, by van, to a Dorset cottage. Parker, the cook, tries to tell Wren of the amazing things Lady Hyacinth has been doing, but, interrupted, she runs to the air raid shelter, and on her way there is murdered. One of the van drivers, Mike Riley, is the next victim of foul play. A bomb has sent Lady Hyacinth to the hospital with a broken leg. She sends Wren to Dorset to look after the furniture. Wren is happy to be alone, but her rejoicing is cut short. Joanna descends upon her and settles down. Wren is aware of strange noises in the cottage, and then a thump on the door. The local constable warns her of a light showing in the cottage. She investigates the loft, finding nothing. While Hez Thrush displays his mystic talents he falls near a brush, under which is found the body of the constable. Cyril, his arm in a sling, arrives with Lady Hyacinth's cat, as an excuse. Sam Molesey drives him down.

INSTALMENT X.

MAKES COTTAGE LIVABLE.

"See here, my man," warned Cyril Brockett, "if this is murder, the body mustn't be moved. Ring the police at once." Mrs. Swayne explained that the nearest telephone was at The Thistle.

"The Thistle? I rather think that's my pub. If you like," Cyril offered, "I'll do the telephoning, provided one of you men will drive me back."

Swayne nudged the van-driver; but Lem Gallus was gazing pallidly at their revolting find. "Pigstuck — same as my pal," he croaked.

Wren caught a stomach-heaving glimpse of the dead constable's garish red hair, shockingly contrasted with the livid white of the face. She heard the farmer remark that Joe seemed to be holding something.

"A-shining 'tis—like gold."

"Gold?" It was a senile cackle from the forgotten Hezekiah. "Knowed it! Gold! He, he!"

Some small object tinkled between the sticks. "Careful," Cyril bent over the fish. "It's not gold, tho. See? Only a button off a coat."

"Button.." Swayne sounded let down.

"Service button," Cyril declared curtly.

Entering Foxgloves, Cyril found Wren returned from a wicked but triumphant cat-chase, and at once began uncorking a bottle of Peter's whisky and doling out drinks.

"Where," Wren demanded, "did you connect with that?"

"The whisky? I've other stuff in the car. Where's Joanna? Quite so, gone back to bed." Still staring fixedly at Wren. "And now, will you kindly elucidate my cousin's presence in this cottage?"

"You'd better ask her," Wren said shortly. "She just left Framleigh and came here." With a ray of hope she added, "As you seem to have got Lady Hyacinth's car, couldn't you take her wherever she means to go?"

"What's that?" Cyril roused from glum meditations. "My dear girl, I've this minute used the final drop of my petrol! J'y suis, j'y reste."

"I was only thinking of your arm," Wren lied. "I didn't tumble to the fact that you'd actually broken it."

"How could you know?" Cyril said forgivingly. "In that incredible muddle and stampede!"

"What beats me," Wren explained, "is how you managed to drive all this distance with only the one hand?"

"You don't faintly imagine I drove myself? I was lucky enough to scrounge a chauffeur."

"Who drove you down?"

"Why, the old boy's bookkeeper, of course!"

"That amuses you, does it?" Cyril said touchily.

"What has happened to Groucho?" she asked suddenly. "Don't tell me this cottage has got rats?"

From down the narrow hall came a flash of sullen amber eyes. The black Persian glued his nose to the floor and continued to claw.

Cyril glanced round the disheveled room. "What," he inquired, "do you intend doing about this?"

"Me? Nothing at all."

Wren showed him Lady Hyacinth's wire. Cyril scanned it and gave an indulgent laugh.

"How utterly like her! Of course, it's fantastically absurd. For one thing, you're in duty bound to cover up these windows. Let's see . . . Help me with this bundle, will you? Ah, here we are, the good old strawberry silk!"

"See here," Wren demurred. "Are you taking full responsibility?"

"What about? O, this! I'll ease your mind at once by saying that I've spoken to Hyacinth and assured her I'd do all in my power to help turn this dismal place into a home."

Thru the open front door Lem Gallus had tentatively ventured. On hearing what was required he fell to with cheerful alacrity. Wren decied to leave Cyril a free hand. He'd come over in a positive sunburst of friendliness. It puzzled her until she got the answer, then she understood. Cyril might be putting up at a country pub, but while he was down here he expected to do a fair amount of lounge-lizarding in his relative's cottage, and ugliness hurt him even worse than it hurt her.

Uneasily Wren remembered that Constable Podder's last known action had been to do an official prowl round these premises. Her breath caught sharply. What about the mysterious lights said to have been noticed coming from Foxgloves on Tuesday night?

Behind her, furniture-shifting was proceeding with zest. But what on earth was Jo up to now? From the other side of the door came mice-rustlings—the furtive opening of drawers.

Cyril spoke, just behind. "I'm looking," he said, "for the needlework stool." Tapping on the door he called crisply, "Joanna, may we come in?"

In the room he stared frigidly.

"O," he remarked. "In Heaven's name, what are you giggling about? Surely you've seen a delivery van before?"

Joanna went on staring thru the window and making peculiar sounds.

"Look, look," she gibbered, her rigid forefinger pointing. "It's there, printed on the side!"

The motor van, stopped at the gate, was black, its lettering blood-red. Cyril shrugged pettishly.

"There you are!" Traveling Butcher! Tr-raveling Butch——"

Shrieking like a maniac, Joanna beat her head against the wall.

In the kitchen Cyril surveyed a single ration of juicy steak and asked testily, "Where the infernal mischief did she conceive that idea?"

"Ask me another," Wren replied. "She didn't seem to take the smallest notice of what Lem Gallus was saying. She must have done, tho, and she's been brooding over it ever since."

"Ah, I'm beginning to understand!" Lowering his tone Cyril said, "Quite so, Lem seems to have been forcibly struck by the remarkable similarity between the constable's injuries and those inflicted on his friend."

And right this minute you can buy a share in that Victory at the lowest cash prices ever offered. Just step up and purchase a few of Uncle Sam's War Bonds and see. Buy at least one hundred dollars worth more than your regular purchases—now—during this present drive. This advertisement contributed by the makers of Sani-Flush and Mel'o.

Back to Mother . . . Heartbroken

HER BLISSFUL MARRIAGE WRECKED! But she didn't know she was to blame for her husband's gradual coolness . . . that her own "one neglect" (carelessness about feminine hygiene) was the cause. Today, so many modern wives use Lysol disinfectant. It cleanses quickly, thoroughly, and deodorizes, too. Yet it's so gentle it won't harm sensitive vaginal tissues—just follow easy directions. Costs so little. Write to Lehn & Fink, 683 Fifth Ave., New York 22, N. Y., for FREE Feminine Hygiene Booklet (in plain wrapper).

Cheddar Pudding, Tomato Sauce: Cook 1 pint of milk, ½ cup cornmeal, 1 tablespoon margarine, and ½ teaspoon salt in top of double boiler until thickened. Remove from heat and add 1 well beaten egg and ½ cup grated cheese. Pour into shallow greased pan to the depth of 1 inch and chill. When cold, cut into squares, place in a large shallow, greased baking dish. Cover with sauce made as follows: Heat 1 can condensed tomato soup, add ¼ cup milk, ½ cup grated cheese, ½ teaspoon celery salt, and a dash of pepper. When cheese is melted pour over cornmeal cubes. Bake dish at 375 degrees F. for 20 minutes.

Keep that carving knife sharp so that it will be ready for slicing a roast any time you have points enough to buy one. Keep it in a rack, not in a drawer where it may knock against utensils which will dull the blade.

Roasts which are allowed to stand in a warm place for half an hour after removal from the oven may be carved more easily than those taken directly from oven to table.

A roast always should be cut crosswise of the grain. Slices which are very thin seem more tender than thicker slices, and also look neater. Two thin slices of meat look more imposing than one thick one, too.

Cranberry season is coming on. Don't forget that cranberries help make a pot roast tender and lend a delicious flavor to the gravy. When you've browned your floured pot roast in fat, add salt, pepper, 2 cups of tart, strained cranberry sauce and ¼ cup of water. Put a cover on the pan and cook very gently until the meat is tender, about 3 hours. When done, remove the meat to a hot platter and thicken the liquid in the pan for gravy. Do the thickening with a flour and water paste, beaten or shaken until smooth. You don't want lumps in the gravy.

A little wine can make a plain pot roast taste enticing. After browning the meat on all sides add ¼ cup red or white wine and cook gently for an hour or so. Then add another ¼ cup wine and continue the braising until the meat is tender. The wine flavored gravy made from the drippings is delicious. Sherry, claret, and sauternes are favorite wines for cooking. A dry wine usually is better than a sweet one for all cooked dishes except desserts.

If you want to make "pot roast" out of a thick slice of ham, cook it in cider. Rub the meat with brown sugar and stick it with a few cloves. Pour 1 cup cider over and around it, cover and bake slowly in a 325 degree oven for an hour.

Or broil your ham slice until brown on both sides, and serve it with a cider sauce. Thicken some of the broiled ham drippings with flour and add cider to make "gravy." Raisins or chopped prunes may be added to the ham sauce, and a spicing with cloves and a little cinnamon won't come amiss.

on the Aisle

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Perhaps the suggestion of flying is what attracts earthbound angels to ballet, which they back with a prodigality few other branches of the arts are able to challenge, much less rival. Sometimes the Maecenas touch is distinctly inadvertent, but effective just the same. One of the gayer passages in Ganna Walska's endlessly quotable autobiography, "Always Room at the Top," reproaches her third husband, Alexander Cochran, for failing to live up to newspaper claims that he left her $3,000,000.

"It would not have been like him," she writes, "for it would have been an indication of human feeling. Knowing that I needed money to give great music to the world, he would have been doing a consciously normal act." "Nevertheless," she adds triumphantly, "destiny decided that, in spite of him, his money would help art, after all."

What happened, you see, was that Cochran left his money to his nephew, whose widow is Lucia Chase, chief backer and one of the dancers of the shining and enormously expensive Ballet theater, which often designs for her limited talents such successful roles as the frivolous queen in Fokine's "Bluebeard" or the prim elder sister in Tudor's "Pillar of Fire."

But this advent of a fairy godmother whose golden wand bedazzled the future of Ballet theater threatened to leave the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo in the lurch—in fact, it was sitting like Cinderella in the ashes, without a pumpkin coach to its name. So it is a relief to hear that the Russians, due at the Civic Opera house Oct. 15, have acquired a slipper that fits. Gossip—pure, unadulterated, delightful gossip—says that the new costumes and bright new productions, even to fresh décor for "Swan Lake," stem from the interest of a brand new angel, whose name might be Doris Duke Cromwell. As Mrs. Cromwell is known to be backing a major musical now in preparation, it sounds plausible, and it certainly sounds interesting for audiences who enjoy being pampered above and beyond the price of their tickets.

One of the most costly luxuries known to theater, ballet never pays its own way and never has, from the days of the czars thru Diaghileff and De Basil right down to the less heady ventures here in Chicago by Ruth Page and Catherine Littlefield. Yet its fascination, even to nondancers, is endless, and when one backer backs out, another steps in.

You may remember reading, a few weeks ago, about the attempt Carla Bradley is making to start the Chicago Ballet company, and how she had brought Bronislava Nijinska here to give the group a distinguished début. Just back from New York, Miss Bradley has a lot to report. Costumes and stage designs are being chosen for "Vision," the Nijinska ballet which will open the season, and an orchestration is being made of the Brahms' Sonata to which it is danced. Furthermore, Nijinska will come back to Chicago to design a second ballet, and will remain to supervise the performances. The plan now is to present four ballets about the first of December, always providing a suitable theater is available, and if this proves successful, to return with an extended repertory in February or March.

"The Skin of Our Teeth" will pause abruptly in Boston Saturday night, unless the producer comes up quickly with a replacement of Gladys George, who replaced Miriam Hopkins, who in turn replaced Tallulah Bankhead. Miss George, it appears, has laryngitis and second sight. She seems to know that altho she can keep it under control until the end of the week, at that time she will be utterly unable to continue.

Fritz Leiber, who was briefly the most handsomely subsidized Shakespearean actor in Chicago's history, may be returning in "Crescendo," the play by Ramon Romero and Harriet Hinsdale described as a pathological drama with a musical background. At any rate, Howard Lang says so, and Mr. Lang, a coproducer of "Good Night Ladies," is having the piece doctored in advance of a San Francisco opening.

Indiana Woman Heads American War Mothers

Mrs. E. May Hahn of Indianapolis, Ind., was elected president of the national organization of the American War Mothers yesterday at the convention in session in the Sherman hotel. Organized in 1917, the American War Mothers have chapters thruout the country. Thirty states are represented by 400 delegates here.

Jewish Rites Mark Closing of Year 5,703

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Chicago's Jewish community moved toward temple and synagogue last night as the setting sun brought the Jewish year 5,703 to a close. Today, Jewish new year, or Rosh Hashana, will see similar throngs at their devotions. Rosh Hashana will be observed by many thruout tomorrow. It initiates a 10 day period of penitence prior to Yom Kippur, day of atonement, which opens on the eve of Oct. 8, most sacred day of the Jewish year.

Many rabbis last night reviewed the advance of Anglo-American arms and its lifting of discriminatory laws and edicts in Africa and Italy, and its promise of greater alleviation of Jewish suffering during coming months. Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur, the great high holidays, however, emphasize peace and its requirements.

Dr. Louis L. Mann told his congregation of 2,200 persons at Chicago Sinai temple that the foundation of true peace is found in the decalog; that so long as there is a moratorium on the 10 commandments and men worship a false god, the state, and refuse to call upon Almighty God for guidance, death and destruction will reign.

"When the architect of the future will search among the ruins and debris of our present civilization for the reason for its collapse he will be reminded of the psalmist: 'Unless the Lord build the house, they that build it will labor in vain,'" Dr. Mann declared.

Four different services opened observances at Temple Anshe Emet, Pine Grove avenue and Grace street. These were conducted in the synagogue, the community hall, the chapel and in the Essex theater, 717 Sheridan road. At the last named the children's service was conducted solely by children, supervised by W. A. Nudelman. Rabbi Solomon Goldman and Ben Aronin officiated at the other services. Provisions for 3,500 worshippers were made.

The Men's club of Anshe Sholom, 3808 Polk street, conducted the high holiday services with Samson Krupnick in charge and Rabbi Shlomo Rapaport of Chicago Jewish academy chanting the traditional prayers. Cantor Samuel Vigoda, formerly of Budapest, Hungary, interpreted the ancient liturgical hymns last night at the Austro-Galician congregation, 1357 North California avenue. He will sing the liturgies thruout the high holidays.

Private homes will be opened to service men for the high holidays thru arrangements made by staff members of the 203 North Wabash avenue United Service organization.

Seats for last night's and other services were arranged in 40 synagogues. Rabbi G. George Fox of South Shore temple, 7215 Jeffery avenue, preached to a crowded temple last night. Other services will be held at 10 o'clock this morning, with the children's services this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

Mrs. Elinor T., Chicago—I have found that the old English custom of coating brass with a film of paraffin is a help in warding off tarnish. I first polish the brass, then wash and dip in hot water. After drying I dip a cloth in hot paraffin and apply to the brass.

Kitty H., Creston, Ia.—Here are two economy tips I'm practicing. I plan my meals well in advance to keep ahead on ration points and make them go further. And I cook my meats slowly so they don't shrink as they do with fast cooking. And one more: I set an alarm clock if I'm busy and apt to forget to take a piece of meat out of oven. This keeps it from getting too hard cooked, and shrinking some more.

Mrs. Fred S., Gary, Ind.—This is a trick my husband taught me. When an electric plug is hard to get out I rub sides of the prong with a soft lead pencil. This lubricates parts, and prongs are easier to slip in and out.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

In a great many cases, the most important feature of squeeze plays is timing. A card led too soon or too late, even by as little as one trick, may throw the entire mechanism out of kilter. Consider how close to victory the declarer was in the following deal:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 7 6 2
♥ A Q 8
♦ K 7 6 2
♣ K 8 3

WEST
♥ K 4
♦ J 9 8 5 3

EAST
♠ A 5 4
♥ J 9 6 3 2
♦ 10

SOUTH
♠ K Q J 10 9
♦ A Q 4
♣ A 10

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
4 spades	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass	Pass

North's bidding deserved no medals, his jump to six spades being particularly unrestrained, but the fact remains that the slam contract should have been fulfilled against the opening lead that was made and the favorable position of cards declarer found.

West, with little to go by, led a low club, and declarer captured East's queen with the ace. The spade king was laid down; East won and returned a club, declarer played the 10, West the jack, and dummy the king. Now, obviously with the hope of getting a 3-3 diamond break and a successful heart finesse, declarer ran every trump, discarding a heart and a club from dummy. The heart finesse was on, all right, but needless to say West held on to his diamond stopper and declarer was helpless.

Careful analysis of this deal discloses that even if declarer concedes himself a 3-3 diamond break, he still requires the heart finesse, since he would have only four tricks in spades, four in diamonds, and two in clubs. Observe the vast difference if the unavoidable heart finesse is taken earlier in the play. After knocking out the trump ace and winning East's club return with the king, declarer leads a trump to his own hand and takes the heart finesse then and there. When it succeeds, he draws the last trump, cashes the heart ace, then cashes the ace and queen of diamonds, getting the "news" about the diamond break. Now only one hope is left: West, who has been shown to have the diamond stopper, must also have the club nine. Declarer cashes his remaining trumps and West is squeezed. Declarer's holding, after his last trump is played, consists of a low diamond and the heart 10. Dummy, waiting to discard after West, has the K-7 of diamonds and the eight of clubs. West has the Hobson's choice of unguarding the diamond suit or relinquishing the club nine. Whatever he does, dummy does the opposite, and the contract is home.

B'nai B'rith Auxiliary to Hold Party Monday

The Benjamin Cardozo women's auxiliary of B'nai B'rith will celebrate the culmination of its "summer parade of dimes" for war service emergency with a party on Monday night at the Hamilton hotel. The summer fund, totaling approximately $700, will be contributed to medical and hospital units, to allied war relief, to U. S. O. parties, and to furnish "in-camp" rooms. Mrs. Philip Mitchell is auxiliary president, and chairman for the party is Mrs. Samuel Glickman.

Wise Parents Are Impartial to the Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"He's the best baby, isn't he?" said a friend admiring the little boy in his play pen. "Do you find him easier to manage than you did Sue at his age?."

"Indeed I do. He's been splendid," came the mother's prompt reply. "When I think of all the trouble I had with Sue from the time I came home from the hospital, always crying and needing attention, I'm thankful. Donnie is contented and happy-go-lucky. Sue is excitable, difficult to manage and somewhat resentful of Donnie. We have to watch her."

You hear this type of conversation so often. Frequently the second baby is a winner of hearts, and parents do not realize the bad effect this may have on the first born.

This baby's mother has profited by the raising of her first child. Her early anxieties over every seemingly unusual occurrence have been replaced by a new confidence in herself and her ability to care for the child properly. Experience has taught her many things. Altogether his days are more normal than were his sister's at the same age.

But this does not account for every contrast between an older and a younger child. The difference between them may be deep-seated—one of temperament, perhaps. The older child may be more sensitive, more highly keyed, more thoughtful. She may have inherent qualities which make her a more difficult child with which to deal. She may need more intelligent handling.

Also, if she constantly hears her little brother's praises being sung, she is almost sure to resent it unconsciously and show it in difficult behavior. Don't be too critical and scold or punish when your older child acts up. Try to help him to see that he holds a definite place in your heart.

The older child is apt to suffer—and may carry the scars thru life—unless you are patient and tactful in your management when jealousy raises its head in the family circle, or you find that the disposition and general makeup of one child is radically different from that of another.

Archbishop of Canterbury Invited to Speak Here

The Most Rev. William Temple, archbishop of Canterbury, has been cabled an invitation to be a lenten preacher in the Episcopal diocese of Chicago in 1944, with services under the auspices of the Episcopal Church club of Chicago. Action to extend the invitation to the British primate was taken yesterday by the church club at the University club, with John D. Allen, chairman of the board of the club, making the announcement. The archbishop visited Chicago in 1936 when he was the archbishop of York.

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin

SPANISH LIVER FOR CHILLY DAYS
Nothing seems to make the house more cozy on chilly days than the fragrant aroma of Spanish sauce simmering on the stove. And nothing helps us more to prepare for health during the cold months than eating the right kinds of food. Perhaps we have been a little lax in using the nutritious variety meats during the hot weather. If so, the first cold days should see this corrected to give extra protection to the family's health.

CHILLY DAY MENU

IT'S TRULY DELICIOUS
The flavor of Spanish Sauce on crispy brown fried liver is worthy of great enthusiasm. Here's the way to make it.
4 tbsp. fat
4 medium onions
1 lb. liver, sliced
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
1 green pepper
2 cups tomatoes
2 tbsp. flour
1 tsp. sugar
Slice the onions very thin and brown slightly in the fat. Remove onions and save for sauce. Salt and pepper the liver, roll in flour and brown well on both sides in the fat. Cut 4 rings, ¼ inch thick, from the peppers and remove the seeds. Chop remaining pieces of pepper for the sauce. Cook tomatoes, onion, chopped green pepper and sugar, thicken with flour. Place pepper slices on liver, fill with tomato sauce. Add ½ cup water, cover and simmer 30 minutes.

A DISH OF FLUFF
To make cooked rice dry and fluffy and have each kernel stand out by itself, cook only until done, turn out into strainer and let a generous amount of hot water run through it. Drain well and serve. To reheat rice, put in strainer over boiling water, covering rice with a clean white cloth. Easy to do and what a difference it makes!

GLORIFY THE PIE
Instead of a top crust on the pie, mix together ¼ cup flour, ½ cup light brown sugar (or equal parts of dark brown and white sugar) and ¼ tsp. cinnamon. Blend in four tablespoons of Wilson's Clear Brook Butter or Wilson's Certified Margarine and sprinkle over the apples. Bake as usual.

CHECK JACK FROST
Don't let an early frost blacken the precious parsley that edges your Victory Garden. You can use every frill of it to flavor soups, stews and dressings this winter. Pick over, nip off stems, spread leaves on cookie sheets or in shallow pans and place in a very slow oven (165° F.), leaving the oven door open a few inches. After two hours, reduce temperature to 140° F. Turn leaves occasionally. When crisp and dry, remove from oven. Cool thoroughly, crumble between fingers and store in tightly covered jars.

SOX HALF GAME OUT OF 3D; SPLIT WITH YANKS

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS PICKED FOR OVERSEAS

Appling, Grove and Bithorn Among 36.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The cream of the big league crop will serve during the junket which will carry baseball to the United States service men in the South Pacific this winter. The selection of 18 players was announced in Chicago yesterday by Will Harridge, president of the American league. A similar list of appointees for the coveted jaunt down under was made public in New York by Ford Frick, head of the National league.

All additional arrangements, such as the getaway date, point of embarkation, itinerary, and mode of travel for the two teams, which will be managed by Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox and Uncle Frankie Frisch of the National league Pirates, are in the hands of the war department. Presumably the trip, of about 80 days' duration, will start shortly after the pending world series is completed.

Six Yankees in Squad.

Three Chicago athletes—Luke Appling and Orval Grove of the White Sox and Hi Bithorn of the Cubs—were picked from the list of volunteers, which embraced more than half the players in the two leagues. All eight clubs are represented on the National league team. The American league passed up both the St. Louis and Philadelphia clubs, preferring to believe the service men would be better pleased with a close-up of individuals in Yankee uniforms. Six Yankees will make the journey, this being twice the number of Cardinals on the National's squad.

Orval Grove. Hi Bithorn. Luke Appling.

Travel details, such as telling the boys what time the plane or ship leaves, where and when the next meal will be available, will be handled by Earl Hilligan of the American league office and Leo Ward, secretary of the Cardinals. Other appointees are Umpires Bill Summers [American] and Larry Goetz [National], Ralph McCarthy of the Boston club as trainer of the American's squad, and Charlie Jorgensen [Pirates] of the National's players.

Landis to Send O'Connor.

Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis announced that Leslie O'Connor, secretary-treasurer of Baseball, also will make the trip and will be in charge of the teams so far as baseball is concerned.

With Stan Musial of the Cards and Appling included, the service men will see the two batting champions. Also on the list are Spud Chandler, the Yanks' ranking pitcher; Rudy York, the league's home run specialist; Charley Keller, the Yanks' home run menace; Johnny Vander Meer, the Reds' southpaw; Truett Sewell, the Pirates' rainbow pitch artist, and the one-time famous Joe Medwick, who now is chasing flies for the eighth place Giants. The squads will be made up as follows:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Pitchers—Spud Chandler, New York; Dutch Leonard, Washington; Tex Hughson, Boston; Dizzy Trout, Detroit; Orval Grove, Chicago; Allie Reynolds, Cleveland.

Catchers—Bill Dickey, New York; Rollie Hemsley, New York; Jake Early, Washington.

Infielders—Rudy York, Detroit; Bobby Doerr, Boston; Joe Gordon, New York; Luke Appling, Chicago; Bill Johnson, New York.

Outfielders—Charley Keller, New York; Pete Fox, Boston; George Case, Washington; Stan Spence, Washington.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Pitchers—Truett Sewell, Pittsburgh; Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati; Bucky Walters, Cincinnati; Al Javery, Boston; Al Gerheauser, Philadelphia; Hi Bithorn, Chicago.

Catchers—Walker Cooper, St. Louis; Ray Mueller, Cincinnati.

Infielders—Lou Klein, St. Louis; Elbie Fletcher, Pittsburgh; Eddie Miller, Cincinnati; Bob Elliott, Pittsburgh; Dick Bartell, New York.

Outfielders—Stan Musial, St. Louis; Vince Di Maggio, Pittsburgh; Augie Galan, Brooklyn; Dixie Walker, Brooklyn; Ducky Medwick, New York.

White Sox Buy Dickshot, Coast League Outfielder

John Dickshot, an outfielder, has been purchased from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league and will report to the Sox for spring training next year.

Rejoice will we when she leaves something

RE-INFORCEMENTS ARE COMING UP

These gay little soldiers—the Wake books of 1943—have been giving their all on the newsstands during the last two weeks. And they're just about exhausted. But re-inforcements are on their way. The entire original edition—as large as it has been in any previous year—is just about gone. No more mail orders will be accepted.

Arrangements have been made, however, to rush additional copies to the newsstands on Saturday. If your news dealer is out of Wake books now, try him again Saturday. This 64 page volume, which sells for 15 cents, contains the best items published in the Wake during the last year. Watch for more copies. You still have a chance to get the

His Greatest Thrill.

Dear Arch: I've had my share of exciting experiences on the gridiron but my greatest thrill was receiving the All-Star trophy the night the college boys beat the Redskins, 27 to 7. The way the fans sat in the rain proved their regard for the All-Star game. If that occasion marked the end of football for me, it was the best possible exit a player could make. I would like to put a few more trophies in my collection, tho—a few Jap planes or warships. If I am that fortunate, you'll receive a souvenir from whichever I get and I hope it will furnish you at least a little of the enjoyment you have given me.

BOB WIESE FITS INTO NEW SPOT FOR MICHIGAN

N. U. to See Him as Blocker Saturday.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The merits of the respective linemen may be a proper subject for debate before Michigan makes its conference football debut Saturday afternoon in Dyche stadium. There is no doubt, however, that the Wolverines will present the finest back field in the Big Nine and for this reason, above all others, Michigan rates as favorite.

Three universities have collaborated to produce this all-conference back field. Capt. Paul White and Bob Wiese are holdover members of Michigan's 1942 squad, Elroy Hirsch, who sparked Wisconsin's attack last season, and Bill Daley of Minnesota, complete the quartet of ball carriers.

In 1941, his junior year, Daley was ranked as the best full back in the conference. Last season he was shifted to left half, the key position in the Minnesota offense, where he had indifferent success because of his lack of ability as as forward passer and his only fair average as a punter. Now returned to full back, Daley is not concerned with these skills.

Wiese Prospers as Blocker.

When Daley was assigned the full back spot, Coach Fritz Crisler moved Bob Wiese, Michigan's 1942 full back, to the blocking back position where in two games he already has shown the skill of such predecessors as George Ceithaml and Forrest Evashevski. White plays right half, the position he held a year ago, and Hirsch, who undoubtedly is the fastest back in the Big Nine, again is at left half.

While the individual statistics on Michigan's attack may be misleading at this stage of the campaign, since the Wolverines ran over Western Michigan last week, 57 to 6, after beating Camp Grant in the opening game, 26 to 0, they do show that this quartet of backs neither needs nor have had much assistance.

Daley and White, according to the figures, have averaged six yards a play. While Hirsch's average for the 15 times he has carried is only 1.6 yards, he leads the team in scoring with four touchdowns. Wiese, who naturally is not a ball carrier, has scored one touchdown.

Nussbaumer's Out with Injury.

Daley has carried the ball 26 times for 186 yards. White has carried 17 times for 108 yards. White and Hirsch have thrown six forward passes and completed four of them. The first replacement in this back field has been Bob Nussbaumer, sophomore from Oak Park, who will not play against Northwestern because of injury.

Northwestern's starting back field normally would not compare with Michigan's, and it has been weakened by the injury to Lynne McNutt, regular quarter back. Jerry Carle, a substitute at Minnesota a year ago, probably will advance to this position. Don Buffmire apparently will replace Vic Schwall at full back in the starting lineup.

Buffmire and Schwall are agile players but they are built more on the physical lines of a half back.

Graham Needs Some Help.

Graham and Herman Frickey, Minnesota right half in 1942, complete the Wildcats' back field. Michigan rightly fears Frickey's ball carrying ability for he contributed largely to Minnesota's victories over the Wolverines in 1941 and 1942. Graham is an excellent defensive back—he is Northwestern's safety man—and he is a threat whenever he can get past the line of scrimmage. Northwestern's line didn't get any one in this position in the Indiana game, which was won by forward passes by Graham.

Graham set a conference record last year against Michigan by completing 20 passes in 29 attempts, but the number of his throws reveals the impotence of Northwestern's ground assault that afternoon. The Wolverines dominated the game and won, 34 to 16, principally on line smashes at the Wildcat guards.

Michigan will complete its preparations for Saturday's game this afternoon and will arrive in Chicago at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The squad will be quartered at the Sovereign hotel and will not work out before the game.

PART OF TILDEN'S POWER

Tilden Tech's City league central section champions will open defense of their title tomorrow night against Du Sable in Shewbridge field, and here are some of the members of the Blue Devils' strong forward wall. SPORT FOR BOYS GETS GOOD START 700 Flock to Parks for Football Lessons.

The Chicago Sports association's first venture, football schools for youngsters from 12 to 15 years old, started yesterday afternoon in six parks. More than 700 eager boys showed up, leading to predictions from Vice President Pete Miller and Secretary Harry Berz of the association that this number will be more than doubled at Friday night's sessions in the same parks.

The biggest turnout was at Hilburn stadium, where Red Grange was on hand along with Miller. Nearly 300 youngsters turned up there, some wearing old helmets and shoulder pads and other assorted football gear. The same picture was observed at the other parks.

Grange said he will appear at all of the parks in the course of the schools. He will be at Rockola stadium, 4200 North Central avenue, at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Columbus Park Second.

Columbus park took second honors for attendance with more than 150. Rheingold stadium had 81, Douglas park 75, Rockola stadium 61, and Washington park, for Negro boys, 49.

Coöperating in operating the schools were the Chicago park district, the board of education physical department, and members of the Cardinals and Bears football teams.

At all parks the program included talks by the instructors and demonstrations on fundamentals. Grange emphasized the necessity of clean living and training. Then the group was divided and every boy got a chance to handle the ball.

"The policeman near Rheingold stopped to watch and pointed out a couple of the boys whom he said had been his biggest troublemakers," Berz said. "He was so impressed he said he was going to post one of our bulletins in the station house and ask all policemen to tell the kids on their beats about the schools. I have decided to send bulletins to all police stations as a result of that incident."

Boys Go for Grange.

"Grange did a marvelous job at Hilburn," said Miller. "It was a revelation to watch him roll up his sleeves and show those kids how to play the game. Even the kids' parents were on hand to watch and those kids took in every word he said."

Among the football stars, past and present, who assisted were: Duke Slater, Sol Butler, and Chet Bulger and Gilford Dugan of the Cardinals at Washington park; Clint Wager, Cardinal end who assisted Jim Kelly and Erwin Weiner at Columbus park; John Grigas, Cardinal full back, who was assisted by Athletic Director Grover Clark at Douglas park; Connie Mack Berry and George Musso of the Bears at Rockola; and Freeman Rexer, Don Pierce and Art Albrecht of the Cardinals at Rheingold.

Cooper Will Aid Adams in Handling Red Wings

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 29 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings announced today that Scout Carson Cooper would assist Manager Jack Adams in preparing the club for defense of its National Hockey league title, succeeding Eddie Goodfellow.

Tilden to Meet Du Sable in League Opener Tomorrow

The Tilden Tech Blue Devils, defending City High School league football champions, will open defense of their central section title at 8 o'clock tomorrow night by meeting Du Sable in Shewbridge field.

The Blue Devils, City league champions for the last two years, have come up with another formidable team. On the basis of Tilden's decisive 20 to 0 victory over Crane and its 7 to 0 conquest of Lindblom on successive Saturdays, prep followers have installed the Blue Devils favorites to win their third straight title.

With Leo, defending Catholic league champion, again looking the best of the league, Tilden waits to win the City league title and again engage the Lions in the annual city-wide charity football championship game which is sponsored by Mayor Edward J. Kelly. Leo defeated Tilden, 46 to 13, in 1941 and repeated last year, 27 to 14. The Blue Devils want revenge.

Coach Harvey Has 50 Players.

Altho graduation and the services took 10 of his 11 regular starters, Coach Charles Harvey has a squad of 50 youngsters, some of whom saw considerable service last season. The only returning regular is Capt. Norman Krueger, the center. Krueger is 4-F in the draft. He gave a splendid performance in the Leo-Tilden game last November and is rated one of the finest centers in the City league. There are only five seniors on the squad.

Playing on the first string team are four seniors and seven juniors. Bud Jaderholm and George Shizas, a pair of juniors, are at guards. Jaderholm supplies extra points after touchdowns. Jim Rizzo, a senior, and Ralph McGhee, a junior, are the tackles. They are hard tacklers and blockers.

The flanker positions are handled by Ches Maciuszek, a senior, and Ted Sadjak, a junior. Both are capable receivers and excellent blockers. These boys understudied Tilden's great ends of last year, Bob Charvat and Dick Peterson.

A sophomore who is rated better than Eddie Uvodich, one of last year's stars, is in Eddie's old left half back position. This newcomer is Mike Swistowicz. Swistowicz will handle most of the passing and kicking chores in addition to his ball carrying duties. He is a fast, shifty runner and when the occasion calls for it can really smack the line.

At full back is Chuck Weiss, a 210 pound junior. Weiss was used only sparingly last year because of jolting Ray Schumacher, all league full back. John De La Paz, a junior, is the right half. He saw limited service last year but is considered a capable runner and an excellent blocker. Ray Stahnik, senior quarter back, is the steadying influence on this young back field. He played quite a bit as a relief for Mike Bracken last season. Stahnik is grooming Bill Gay, a sophomore, as an understudy. Gay is one of the most promising sophomores on the squad. Another back to whom Harvey is devoting considerable attention is Bob Adams, 180 pound junior.

18th Year for Harvey.

Harvey, beginning his 18th year at Tilden, has directed four City league champions and seven sectional winners.

After meeting Du Sable, the Blue Devils play five more sectional rivals of which only Phillips is expected to cause Tilden any trouble. Phillips led Tilden, 12 to 0, last year at the half but succumbed to the Blue Devils' ground attack in a second half rally which enabled Tilden to win, 23 to 12. Tilden's schedule:

Oct. 1—Tilden vs. Du Sable, Shewbridge field, 8 p. m.; Oct. 9—Tilden vs. Kelly, Shewbridge field, 8 p. m.; Oct. 16—Tilden vs. Phillips, Soldiers' field, 2:30 p. m.; Oct. 23—Tilden vs. Englewood, Shewbridge field, 12:30 p. m.; Oct. 29—Tilden vs. Gage Park, Shewbridge field, 8 p. m.; Nov. 5—Tilden vs. Farragut, Shewbridge field, 8 p. m.

RED BIRDS WIN PLAY-OFF; BEAT INDIANS, 2 TO 0

Columbus, O., Sept. 29 (AP).—The Columbus Redbirds tonight shut out Indianapolis, 2 to 0, to win their third consecutive American association playoff championship. The Redbirds took the title in three straight games, winning the first 9 to 3, the second 3 to 0 and finishing play with tonight's shut out.

They will enter the little world series against Syracuse, winner of the International league playoff title, tomorrow night in Syracuse. The first three games of the four-of-seven game series will be played there and then the teams will move to Columbus for the remainder.

LOSE, 4-0, AFTER DIETRICH WINS OPENER, 3 TO 0

Appling Gets 6 Hits in 8 Attempts.

[The Cubs and Giants played to a 3 to 3 tie in 14 innings in Wrigley field yesterday. Story on page 31.]

New York, Sept. 29 [Special].—For an afternoon that resulted in nothing better than an even break, the White Sox really can term the day worth while, for the Chicagoans not only clinched a first division berth, but rose to within a half game of third place when the Cleveland Indians dropped twilight and night encounters to the Washington Senators.

The Sox took the first game, 3 to 0, behind the seven hit pitching of Bill Dietrich and lost the second, 4 to 0, when Charley Wensloff duplicated the performance for the American league champions, but that wasn't all. The Sox saw Luke Appling virtually clinch the league batting championship by pounding out three hits in four attempts off Lefty Marius Russo and John Murphy in the first game and then repeat the performance against Wensloff in the second game.

Hodgin and Kuhel Help.

But, while Appling received some help from the rest of the boys in the opener, he was left holding the bat towards evening, as Hodgin and Kuhel failed to coöperate in the manner that produced the early victory. The trio accounted for all the fireworks in the first game, collectively gaining all the hits and runs. Aside from his three singles, Appling scored twice. Hodgin hit two telling doubles and added the third run, while Kuhel smacked a hit and fly that delivered the entire three tallies.

Russo and Dietrich were knotted in a scoreless duel, with the Yankee lefty seemingly getting the better of it, when suddenly the Sox, who had gotten just two skimpy singles in the first six innings, exploded three successive hits for two runs. Appling slashed a single over third and scooted into third as Hodgin's windswept fly eluded Keller and bounced into the left field seats for a ground-rule double. Kuhel then drilled a single thru the right side, driving in both runners.

After Russo had retired for a punchless pinch hitter, the Sox went to work on Johnny Murphy for their clinching marker in the ninth, Appling beating out a hit to short, Hodgin doubling down the right field line, and Kuhel hoisting the R. B. I. fly to left.

Jake Wade Routed in Fifth.

The second game was just the reverse—only worse, inasmuch as Jake Wade's losing performance couldn't compare with Russo's fine effort in the opener. The lean Chicago lefty was pummeled for nine hits and four runs before running to cover with none out in the fifth. A sparkling relief job was turned in by Bill Swift.

The Yanks had nicked Jake for a run in the first on three singles and then really went to work on him with their extra base barrage. Joe Gordon's 16th homer made it 2 to 0 in the fourth, and then a double by Wensloff and triples by Stainback and Stirnweiss in the next brought Swift rushing in. The veteran kept Stirnweiss glued to third and the score down to 4 to 0 by disposing of Johnson, Keller, and Gordon in fancy fashion.

The Sox blew some early scoring opportunities presented them thru Yankee errors by flubbing into four twin killings in the first five innings. Thereafter, Wensloff had little trouble with any one but Appling, and Luke couldn't do it all himself.

CABIN CREEK PROVES HE CAN GO DISTANCE, TOO

Sprinter Wins at 1 1-16 Miles at Hawthorne.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Cabin Creek, a stake winner during the Arlington meeting, demonstrated once again yesterday that a high class sprinter can beat less accomplished distance performers even if the route is a mile and a sixteenth.

If the Summit purse at Hawthorne had been at seven furlongs, Cabin Creek would have been no better than 3 to 5. As it was he went to the post at 6 to 5.

Nothing to It.

There was nothing to it. Paul Keiper sent him to the front immediately after the break and opened up a lead of five lengths during the run down the back stretch and around the last turn. Tho he tired in the late stages, Cabin Creek still was plenty good enough to beat Tex Hygro by two lengths, Chief Bud being third, four lengths further back.

Hometown, a fast and handsome filly owned by Leslie Combs of Lexington, Ky., got up to beat Mixer by the margin of a blown out nostril in the first division of the Lyons purse.

Higley Wins Again.

Under Jesse Higley's riding she followed the early pace setters—Navy Cross, Mixer, and Hour Al. Then she came on in the stretch and in the last stride she stuck out her nose and puffed just enough to get the decision by a microscopic, but nevertheless clearcut, margin in the photo. Navy Cross was third in this dash of 6 furlongs.

Higley accomplished the feat of riding the winners of both divisions of the Lyons purse when he brought in Playground a half hour later.

Daily Trouble and Ball Player came in at 111, and the others in the field of 12 scaled down to Knightfors at 98.

Irish Work on Defense for Georgia Tech

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 29 [Special].—A brief line scrimmage and further work on defense against Georgia Tech pass plays kept Notre Dame busy today leading up to the opening home game Saturday against the southerners.

Standout work at right tackle by Ziggy Czarobski of Chicago and Center Herb Coleman featured the line scrimmage, as the first and second lines collided.

Coach Frank Leahy had Johnny Lujack working out at quarter back and left half back. The chances are that he will see action in both spots as he did against Pittsburgh last Saturday.

With Angelo Bertelli slated to be transferred to Parris Island after the Navy game, Lujack will get as much work as possible in relieving Bertelli, in order that he will be able to take over Angelo's work.

BLUEJACKETS SEEK DEFENSE FOR PITTSBURGH

The Great Lakes Bluejackets rigged up their defense for Pittsburgh's new T offense yesterday without even a reasonable facsimile of Clark Shaughnessy's system to scrimmage against. Not one member of the squad has had enough experience with the T to lead the reserves in an impersonation for benefit of the varsity.

Shirts Retain First Place in Classic League

Washington Shirts retained their one game lead in the Classic Bowling league last night at Logan Square Recreation, 2552 Milwaukee avenue, winning two of three games from the Thompson Restaurants. The second place Meister Braus had a similar record in their match with the defending champions, the Monarch Beers.

Meister Braus had the high team total with 2,973, aided by Paul Krumske's 641, high individual score.

In the third scheduled match Stan Rudicki's United States Brewery lost two games to the National Bowling Equipment, losing a roll-off for the third after the teams had tied with 997 totals.

ALL-STAR PIN MEET ATTRACTS NATION'S BEST

Bowlers from Coast to Coast Compete Dec. 4.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The third annual All-Star individual match game championship bowling tournament, sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, already has enlisted an entry of national scope for the sport's No. 1 show when it gets under way on the 12 alleys of the Auditorium Service Men's center here on Dec. 4, continuing thru Dec. 12.

The following cities already have indicated their intention of sending their top strike-and-spare artises to the tournament: San Francisco, Cal.; Houston, Tex.; Findlay, O.; Detroit, Mich.; Nashville, Tenn.; Denver, Colo.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Bayonne, N. J.; Kansas City, Mo.; Fargo, N. D.; Tulsa, Okla.; Newark, N. J.; Philadelphia, Pa.; South Haven, Mich.; Oakland, Cal.; St. Louis, Mo.; San Diego, Cal.; Terre Haute, Ind.; Gary, Ind.; Goshen, Ind.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Valparaiso, Ind.; Moline, Ill.; New York City; St. Louis, Mo.; Dayton, O., and Evansville, Ind.

Plan Elimination Series.

Within the next two months, sectional tournaments will be held thruout the country to determine the 120 men who will join the 24 bowlers who are seeded into the event off of their performances in the 1942 tournament. This total of 144 will roll an elimination series on the first four days of the tourney—Dec. 4, 5, 6, and 7. They will bowl in groups of 12 men, bowling across 12 alleys, six games a day, making a preliminary competitive schedule of 24 games. In case of a tie, it will be rolled off on a three-game, total-pin basis immediately after the last squad has finished on Dec. 7.

The semi-finals will be held on the fifth day, Dec. 8. This will involve 48 bowlers with the highest scores in the four day preliminary bowling. Twelve games will be bowled on the 8th, six in the afternoon and six in the evening, running the total for gaining entrance to the finals to 36. The bowler with the highest pin total for these five days will be awarded $200 and a trophy.

Three Bowlers Are Seeded.

The 13 highest bowlers in the field of 48 semi-finalists will then join the original three seeded players in the finals. This trio is composed of Connie Schwoegler, winner of the 1942 championship; Ned Day and Johnny Crimmins.

The 16 finalists will bowl four game matches across the center eight lanes [3 to 10] on a round-robin basis.

Illini Lose Bujan; Eliot Shifts Backs

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 29 [Special].—George Bujan, Illinois first string quarter back, will not be able to play at Purdue Saturday, the Illini learned today, because of a leg injury sustained in the Seahawk game last Saturday.

CYCENAS' KNEE STILL WEAK.

La Fayette, Ind., Sept. 29 [Special].—Hope that two injured back field veterans, Ed Cycenas and Leo [Rocky] Milla, might be able to rejoin the Purdue squad for the Big Nine opener with Illinois here Saturday, was abandoned today following brief trial performances in scrimmage.

Cycenas, veteran Boilermaker right half back, found that his knee, injured just before the Great Lakes opener, failed to hold up, and the team physician indicated that Ed may be out for the season. Milla, Marine V-12 trainee from Missouri, handicapped by a foot injury, was likewise given a shot at scrimmage and found that he still lacked the necessary leg drive.

Perfecting defensive setups against the high spirited Illinois youngsters, who scored three touchdowns on the Iowa Seahawks, occupied the main attention of the Boilermaker coaches during the afternoon's scrimmage.

With Cycenas eliminated, Coach Elmer Burnham indicated he would stick to the same starting combination which appeared against Marquette last Saturday night.

HOOSIERS WORK ON PUNTING.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 29 [Special].—Kicking, blocking for the kicker, with accent on Robert Hoernschemeyer, whose punting was below standard in the Northwestern game, besides defensive spacing and a scrimmage in which formations the Hoosiers plan to use here Saturday against Wabash, was the order of the day in the Indiana football camp.

Coach Bo McMillin explained that Hoernschemeyer's kicking failed in the clinches last Saturday night and thus particular attention is being given to it this week.

WISCONSIN GETS SIX NEW MEN FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29 (AP).—Several experienced and promising candidates for the Wisconsin football team were among 14 new aviation students who reported to Coach Harry Stuhldreher today. Among them were Ray Dooney, Notre Dame freshman back last year; Glenn Peek, Northwestern freshman; Robert Langdale, Lake Forest college; Dick Prins, formerly at Carleton, and Tony Dal Sasso, a back at Wabash college for two seasons.

The Badgers' varsity was given an offensive and defensive drill in preparation for the game at Iowa Saturday. Four touchdowns were scored, with Don Kindt getting the first on a 35 yard run after a lateral from Cliff Washburn. Kindt, Washburn, and Len Calligaro counted the others.

IOWA SCRIMMAGES AGAIN.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 29 [Special].—Iowa today had its third scrimmage in three days. Coach Slip Madigan sent the second, third, and fourth teams thru a 90 minute session. The varsity, with a back field of John Stewart, quarter back; Jim Hudson and Paul Glaesner, half backs, and Bill Gallagher, full back, ran thru signal drill and got some pointers on Wisconsin's offense.

The Hawkeyes concentrated on running plays in the scrimmage. Their ground game failed to click Saturday against Great Lakes.

OHIO STATE SCRIMMAGES.

Columbus, O., Sept. 29 [Special].—Ohio State scrimmaged today in preparation for their game with Missouri here Saturday. It will be the third meeting between the two schools. Ohio State won in 1939, 19 to 0, and in 1941, 12 to 7.

Coach Paul Brown said that the team which started against the Iowa Seahawks last week will take the field against Missouri with the exception of William Miller, who has been replaced at first string left guard by George Neff, 184 pound freshman from Bellaire, O. Attendance for the game is expected to be about 25,000.

Probable Major League Pitchers in Games Today

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—Probable pitchers in the major leagues tomorrow with won and lost records:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York at St. Louis [night]—Voiselle [1-1] vs. Krist [10-5].
Boston at Chicago—Andrews [14-19] vs. Wyse [9-7].
Brooklyn at Cincinnati—Higbe [12-10] vs. Riddle [21-10].
[Only games scheduled.]

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago at New York—Smith [10-11] vs. Chandler [20-4].
St. Louis at Boston [2] — Muncrief [13-11] and Sundra [15-10] vs. O'Neill [1-3] and Ryba [7-5].
Detroit at Philadelphia—Overmire [6-6] vs. Harris [7-20].
Cleveland at Washington [night]—Klieman [0-1] vs. Haefner [10-4].

BAGLIEN PRAISED BY GOPHERS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 29 [Special].—Much of the fear expressed over what might happen if something put Red Williams, star left half back, out of play has been tempered in the Minnesota football camp by the performance of Duane Baglien.

Baglein came to Minnesota from Fargo, N. D., hailed for his basketball exploits, not for his football achievements. But he came so rapidly with the fourth team he was given a shot against Missouri and looked exceptionally good.

HUSKERS' HOPES BRIGHTER.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29 (AP).—Football hopes at the University of Nebraska, which will open its season against Minnesota Saturday, brightened today with news that Jim Hansen, freshman half back, has been rejected for military service.

Fort Custer Boxers Face Madison A. C. Tomorrow

Soldier boxers from Fort Custer will meet Madison Athletic club representatives in a series of amateur bouts in Madison A. C. tomorrow. Personnel of the khaki clad team includes the following: Harry White, heavyweight; Joe O'Donnell, 175; Oscar Hadnett, 160; Larry Acquasanta, 152; Al Salas, 145; William Johnson, 140, and Theodore Zarnadoe, 124.

SENATORS WHIP INDIANS TWICE, CLINCH SECOND

Land in the Money After Seven Year Wait.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—The Washington Senators walloped Cleveland in both ends of a double header tonight to clinch second place in the American league pennant race. The Senators took the opener, 6 to 2, and the second, 7 to 4.

The double victory marked the first time in seven years that the Senators have been in the big league money.

BROWNS CLINCH SIXTH.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 29 (AP). — A pair of extra inning homers by Vern Stephens enabled the St. Louis Browns to clinch sixth place in the American league by defeating the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3, today in their 13 inning opening game. The teams then waged a 3-3 nine inning second game deadlock that was halted by darkness.

CUBS AND GIANTS PLAY TO 3-3 TIE IN 14 INNINGS

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Senor Hiram Bithorn, the Cubs' lone representative on the National league team which will play exhibitions in the South Pacific battle zone, yesterday took a light workout in the form of 14 innings of pitching against the New York Giants over a span of three hours and 21 minutes. The workout ended in a 3 to 3 tie when the affair was called on account of darkness.

It was the final game of the season between the two second division outfits and it is perhaps a shock to the world at large that the contest never will be played to a decision.

Fitting End to Year's Series.

Aside from the fact that Bithorn, the Cubs' ace, was deprived of a possible 18th victory, it was a fitting end to the season series between New York and Chicago. The final four game series, as futile as the teams themselves, saw the Chicagoans victors in three of the matches, but never able to end a game in 8½ innings. The first meeting was won in the 13th inning, the second in the 10th, and the third in the home half of the ninth. And then came yesterday's exhibition of going no place—except to keep Bithorn sharp for the jungles.

The Cubs were something less than sluggers yesterday. They made their three runs thru strategical use of bases on balls. They made two runs in the first inning on four straight passes from Ken Chase and an error by Buddy Kerr. Their other run was produced when Johnny Wittig gave a base on balls to Mickey Livingston with the bases loaded.

Giants' Attack Better.

The Giants' attack was slightly more furious. Singles by Joe Medwick and Charley Mead, a sacrifice and an infield out produced a run in the second inning and the 3 to 3 tie was effected in the seventh on singles by Bill Jurges, Mead, and Kerr.

The Cubs, who dropped their first five engagements with the Giants, the first three of which put the Cubs in the cellar to remain for 40 days and 40 nights, ended the season series leading, 12 victories to 9.

CUBS BUY THREE MORE ANGELS; SHIFT PLAYERS

The Cubs yesterday announced the purchase of three players from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league. They are Pitchers J. M. Lynn and Jodie Phipps and Second Baseman Roy Hughes.

Lynn, who won 21 games and lost 8 for the champion Angels, is first-named Japhet, but prefers to be known as Red. He had a brief trial with the New York Giants a few years ago. He is 29 years old, is 6 feet tall, and weighs 162 pounds. He is a right hander.

Phipps, also a right hander, won 17 games and lost 5. He is 24 years old, stands 3 inches over 6 feet, and weighs 195 pounds.

Hughes, a veteran who has spent some time with the Cleveland Indians and Phillies, is 31 years old. He batted .325 for the Angels. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds.

The Cubs have assigned Outfielder Hal Peck and Catcher Chico Hernandez to the Milwaukee club to complete the deal for Second Baseman Don Johnson.

Pitchers Bob Bowman, Dutch McCall, and Jake Mooty, and Infielder Stuart Martin, have been assigned to the Los Angeles club.

Reds Win 10th in Row; Blank Phillies, 3 to 0

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 29 (AP).—Johnny Vander Meer won his 14th game of the year tonight, defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 3 to 0 to stretch the Cincinnati Reds' victory streak to 10 straight.

Vandy bested Ken Raffensberger in a pitchers' duel spoiled only by Ron Northey's two base error of Chuck Aleno's liner in the Reds' eighth, letting in two runs. Gerald Walker knocked in the Reds' first run in the sixth with his 100th hit of the season.

HAWKS' PILOT ARRIVES AFTER ROOKIE SEARCH

Paul Thompson, manager of the Blackhawks, arrived in Chicago yesterday after completing a personal contact tour of western Canada, whence will come many of the candidates for National Hockey league stardom. Paul said he was pleased with prospects for the 1943-'44 season and that he is eager to get started on the fall training program, which will get under way in Minneapolis on Oct. 9.

The Chicago season in the Stadium will open on Oct. 31 and the Hawks will be at their training chores until a day or two before they open against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

FOOTBALL CARDS BUY NEW CENTER FROM DODGERS

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The Chicago Cardinals, who have felt the pinch at center in their two games this season, yesterday managed to do something about it when they obtained Vaughn Stewart in a cash transaction with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Stewart was in uniform yesterday as the Cards continued preparations for Sunday's Chicago 1943 National league football opener, which matches the south siders against the Green Bay Packers in Comiskey park.

Coach Phil Handler has been conducting a search for a center for months and is hopeful that Stewart will be adequate. The newcomer was a center at Alabama last season. His competition at Brooklyn was a bit too tough. The Dodgers picked up Bill Conkright from the Cleveland Rams to go with their own veteran, Earl Svendsen, the old Minnesotan. Stewart is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 200 pounds.

Have 3 Centers Now.

The Cardinals now have three centers. Les Stokes, former Detroit Lion, has been the No. 1 man at the position and has done well considering that he has been out of the game several seasons. The other center is Don Pierce, who played at the University of Kansas.

Neither of the Chicago teams, and this goes for Green Bay, too, has won a league game to date. The Packers and Bears, tho, were all-victorious in exhibitions, while the Cards dropped a league game to the Lions and an exhibition to the Redskins. Cardinal officials hope for a crowd of 25,000 Sunday.

The Bears yesterday lost their second player in three days when Monte Merkel, who has been the starting right guard, received his call from the navy. He will report today at Notre Dame university. The Bears went thru running plays yesterday for Sunday's game in Detroit with the unbeaten Lions. They will concentrate today on defenses against the tricky attack which the Lions' new coach, Gus Dorais, has installed.

Lions Are Tricky.

The Detroiters are running a man in motion from the Notre Dame box, using the short punt with a man in motion, and tossing in some fancy spread plays. The Bears have a healthy respect for the Lions' back field, which includes such veterans as Harry Hopp, Elmer Hackney, and Ned Matthews, and such fine freshmen as Charles Fenenbock and Frankie Sinkwich.

The Lions also have a big, tough line, spearheaded by Alex Wojciechowicz at center and Augie Lio at tackle. They have two swell ends in John Hightower, 6 foot 3 inch end from Cleveland, and Bill Fisk.

DODGERS WILL FREE DUROCHER AS PLAYER-PILOT

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP).—Leo Durocher will be given his unconditional release from his player-manager contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers, effective with the close of the season Sunday, but may negotiate for a return as bench manager, President Branch Rickey announced today.

Talking to a press conference after today's game with the Pirates, Rickey said Durocher would be "free to negotiate for the Dodger managership, or some other job in baseball, or in radio or Hollywood."

"I prefer to have a manager without a contract," Rickey explained. "I do not want a man who feels that he is managing the Dodgers because he is tied down by a contract that keeps him from going somewhere else. My manager must be a man who wants to manage the Dodgers more than he wants to do anything else.

"I have not thought of hiring any one other than Durocher, but by giving him his release we will both be free to talk about next year without having strings attached. If he wants to make a connection elsewhere he will be free to do so."

Rickey said he had in mind that whoever piloted the club next year would be a bench manager.

Not a Pair?

- No. One is an original hand-made by one of New York's famed custom bootmakers and costing $45 a pair. The other is a Regal Reproduction selling at but $6.60 the pair. So closely do Regal Reproductions match custom-made originals that even experts can't always tell them apart.
- Regal Shoes are sold factory-to-you only through Regal Stores. All styles, all sizes, one price—$6.60.
- "Prescription Fitting," exclusive with Regal, measures both your feet in sitting, standing and stepping positions. Tested by time, it is the world's most nearly perfect shoe-fitting system. If you really need shoes, have them "Prescription Fitted" for health and comfort.

BIG Demand

MAKES SUPPLY SEEM SMALL

Next time you find your dealer sold out of Old Taylor, blame it on the law of supply and demand — with complications. For fine whiskies like this are more in demand than ever. But the supply is limited to stocks laid by before the war.* The natural result is that your dealer quickly sells each shipment of Old Taylor that he receives. The way to get some is to ask early and often — until you find him with a new stock on hand.

BANKS AFFIRM OPPOSITION TO GLOBAL PLANS

Urge Credit Based on Ability to Pay.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

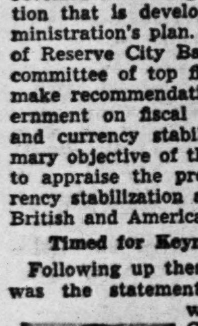
John M. Keynes.

It is clear that the influential bankers of the United States will will not support the administration's plan for setting up a world bank after the war.

The position of the banks was stated two weeks ago by the American Bankers' association which rejected as "impractical and inflationary" the plans proposed by John Maynard Keynes, the British economist, and Harry D. White, monetary advisor of the United States treasury.

Since this declaration of policy was made other developments have revealed the strength of the opposition that is developing to the administration's plan. The Association of Reserve City Bankers formed a committee of top flight bankers to make recommendations to the government on fiscal policy, taxation and currency stabilization. A primary objective of this committee is to appraise the proposals for currency stabilization advanced by the British and American governments.

Timed for Keynes' Arrival.



Harry D. White.

Following up these developments was the statement released this week by the Guaranty Trust company of New York, known as the "Morgan bank." The statement was timed for release after the arrival of Keynes in Washington to confer with American treasury representatives and with bankers who have been critical of his proposal.

In unequivocal language the Guaranty statement said that the adoption of either the Keynes or the White plans or any combination of the two was "undesirable." Because of the influential position of the bank itself and the interests behind it the statement is regarded as particularly significant. Furthermore, the views stated by the bank are shared by other leading banking interests.

The Guaranty's criticism of the world bank plan was directed, as earlier criticism has been, at the provisions under which member countries could draw extensively on the bank for credit.

Credit Safety Unchanged.

"The world cannot be rebuilt on short term credit alone," the Guaranty asserted. "It cannot be safely rebuilt on government credit, which is too likely to be political and uneconomic. Credit must rest on the eventual ability of the debtor to liquidate the debt in money, as demonstrated to the satisfaction of the lender, and there is no reasonable measure of the safety point to which credit can be extended but the money base.

"The straightest, quickest, and safest path to exchange stabilization and trade recovery is for those countries at least whose currencies are of an international character and upon which the world depends for financing of foreign trade to reestablish their currencies on the gold standard as promptly as possible."

Asks Internal Stability.

Recognizing the need for international credits after the war, the bank added: "Sound long term loans are those that help expand the productive capacities of the borrowing countries, thus stimulating exports, diminishing imports and increasing the amount of foreign exchange available for the service of the loans."

The first requisite of international currency stability, the bank concluded, is internal economic stability in the United States. The stability of the dollar, it said, hinges on adoption of governmental policies that will lead to a return to a balanced budget within a reasonable period. Also essential is the reversal of other governmental policies that have interfered with normal economic action, impairing confidence and retarding business revival.

First Sale of Axis Owned Securities Is Completed

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—The first sale of axis owned securities under the federal government's plan to Americanize such properties was made today when a one-third interest in the G. Bruning Tobacco Extract company, Lynchburg, Va., was sold for $61,500 to Bernard R. Armour, of Englewood, N. J. The alien property custodian's New York office said the interest, consisting of 82 shares of stock, was seized from the estate of Mrs. G. Schilling of Bremen, Germany.

Sykes Attacks Tax Used for Social Change

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 29 [Special]. —The United States should use its taxing power only as support to government and not as a roundabout means of effecting social changes, Wilfred Sykes, president of Inland Steel company, said tonight before the annual convention of the Iron and Steel Engineers.

"The greatest uncertainty in our future is the political atmosphere that will exist in the post-war period," he said. "We have many in government circles who think that we are not capable of running our own affairs and that they can do a better job of planning for us than we can do ourselves."

55 Million Out of Work?

Sykes said estimates show there will be a maximum of 55 million persons seeking employment when the war ends. If this is true, he argued, the problem of the manufacturing industry would be to employ 12 to 13 million persons, a goal it could reach if "given a fair opportunity to do so."

"As our Washington planners assume many people can never be employed in gainful occupations after the war, they advocate a public works program vaster than any ever known before," he said. "We are to rebuild cities, civic centers, roads, whether these works serve immediate needs or not. It is significant that these enthusiasts are invariably people who have not had the responsibility for operating enterprise.

What Public Works Means.

"It is well to have a clear understanding of what a public works program means. First of all, it must be paid for by taxes or by borrowing, and borrowing is only delayed taxation. Therefore, those who produce goods must put up the money to carry on any public works plan.

"If we are going to have an economy of plenty, it will be necessary for people to produce the things we want, and any one who is diverted unnecessarily from the production line means a decrease in the number of things that we can produce and have available to distribute to all the people."

WARNS 'TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT' IS HARMFUL POLICY

The "take it or leave it" war time attitude of many retail clerks is doing permanent harm to employers, a bulletin just issued by the University of Illinois bureau of economic and business research, said yesterday.

The author, Prof. Fred M. Jones, wrote, "It may be possible at present to treat customers improperly and with little regard, but many customers have long memories. The salesman may pass from the employment of the store, but the customer identifies his attitude with the store. It may take years to repair or rebuild good will which is injured or destroyed."

People and Events

Mark A. Brown, vice president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank and member of the purchase policy advisory committee of the army service forces, will discuss V-loans and how they can aid in planning for contract terminations, cutbacks, and reconversion before the Chicago Association of Commerce war problems school Oct. 8 in the La Salle hotel, it was announced yesterday.

Frederick R. Horne, a former partner of Slaughter & Horne, New York Stock exchange firm; John A. Reis, and John J. Maloney will be admitted to partnership in Thomson & McKinnon tomorrow. Reis was formerly a vice president and director of the Acme-Evans company of Indianapolis, Ind., and Maloney is cashier in the Thomson & McKinnon New York office.

The Builders' Club of Chicago will hold open house today from 4 p. m. to midnight in its newly modernized quarters in the penthouse of the Builders' building.

The national stationers' convention will be held Oct. 4, 5, and 6 in the Palmer House, with an estimated registration of more than 1,000, including dealers and manufacturers.

MEXICO WILL SETTLE OIL EXPROPRIATIONS, PAY 20 MILLIONS MORE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—The state department made public tonight an agreement whereby Mexico will pay American nationals $20,137,700 besides the 9 millions in cash paid in 1941, in the final settlement for expropriation of oil properties in 1938.

Oil companies had set the value of their properties in hundreds of millions but the valuation was cut by a commission of experts. The payments will begin tomorrow with a remittance of $3,796,391 and the balance will be paid in four annual instalment of $4,085,237 each.

The department announced the agreement had been reached thru an exchange of notes by Adolf Berle Jr., acting secretary of state, and Rafael de la Colina, Mexican charge d'affaires.

Plane Makers Seek Solution to Labor Need

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—Top executives of 15 major aircraft companies reported "remarkable progress" today in discussions of how to solve the industry's No. 1 problem—man power—and said that they hoped to have a program ready by tomorrow night.

They met as the national aircraft production council for talks on what must be done to fill the war department's order for a 50 per cent increase in airplane output next year.

Offer Possible Solutions.

Possibly indicative of what the airplane company heads will offer as their combined program were these suggestions by eastern members of the group:

1. Move work away from areas which have critical man power problems to localities where labor still is available. This could be done by subcontracting or opening branch plants for subassembly work.
2. Use every available means to recruit replacements for workers lost.
3. Intensify the campaign to cut down turnover and absenteeism.
4. Continue efforts to increase utilization of workers.
5. Attempt to obtain labor priorities for industry comparable to the military priorities of the product being manufactured.

Answers Labor Hoarding Charge.

Asked about charges of "labor hoarding" in war industry, such as that made in the senate Tuesday by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], Donald W. Douglas, president of Douglas Aircraft, speaking for west coast manufacturers, said the number of employes last month was 933 per cent larger than in January, 1940, while the production of airplaines, measured in weight, was up 4,260 per cent.

This means, he said, that with fewer than 10 times as many employes, the west coast plants have turned out 42 times as much airframe weight.

ELECTRIC POWER OUTPUT CLIMBS TO NEW RECORD

The nation's electric light and power industry generated 4,359,610,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy last week, another record outflow and 17.2 per cent more than in the corresponding week of 1942, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday.

Largest area increases were on the Pacific coast, where consumption ran 26.5 per cent ahead of last year, and in the south, with a gain of 20 per cent.

Increased industrial activity in the Chicago area brought a boost of 12.3 per cent in production by the Commonwealth Edison group of companies.

N. Y. Central Increases Reservation Facilities

The capacity of the reservation bureau of the New York Central system in the La Salle street station will be increased tomorrow, J. W. Switzer, passenger traffic manager, said yesterday. New facilities and larger personnel have become necessary to deal with the unprecedented increase in travel in the last two years, he said.

SALES EXECUTIVE

Prominent nationally known Chicago firm with 80 years successful operation in essential industry has an attractive opening with unusual opportunity both present and post-war. This is an executive position which requires a background in market analysis, product surveys, methods of distribution, and sales control preferably in the industrial field. College graduate or equivalent required. Age 30-43. Salary $8,000 if experience justifies with definite advancement program. Send full details which will be held in strict confidence.

Freight Gains Predicted for 4th Quarter

A Mid-West Shippers Advisory board forecast of increased freight traffic in the fourth quarter of 1943 was coupled yesterday with a warning that the government must supply construction materials to avoid marring the "brilliant" war performance record of American railroads.

F. A. Schleifer, general chairman of the board, declared the railroad and industrial traffic representatives in the organization "will not be responsible for contributory negligence as a result of any transportation failure in the future because of failure to recognize the railroad demands for essential materials."

Men Needed Also.

Recalling repeated demands for government release of adequate steel and other materials to keep the railroads in top condition, Schleifer said:

"Shipper members of this board are alarmed over the gradual contraction of the railroad plant coincident with the anticipated increase in heavy freight movement. The railroads must have essential materials and men if they are to continue their vital function as a machine and weapon of war."

The board predicted the use of 1,230,500 railway freight cars to meet fourth quarter demands in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, upper Michigan, and part of Indiana, comprising board territory. This would represent an increase of 3.6 per cent above the number actually used in the last three months of 1942.

Machine Haul Biggest.

The largest increase—85 per cent —was forecast in demand for cars to haul the larger number of agricultural implements which the war production board has authorized manufacturers to turn out. Twenty per cent more cars will be needed to transport machinery, according to the forecast.

A predicted reduction of 44 per cent in cars for hauling cement was attributed to the fact the war plant construction program has passed its peak. The same factor explains the expected cut of 35 per cent in cars for loading gravel, sand and stone.

"The decrease of 47 per cent in furniture indicates the extent to which activity is being curtailed in that industry, the board said.

The need for adequate railway construction materials, emphasized in board statements to government officials in Washington, will be the theme of some speakers at the board's war conference, scheduled for Oct. 7 in the Palmer House. Alfred P. Haake, economist, announced that "Gullible Uncle Sam" will be the subject of his address.

NICKEL PLATE'S WHEELING STOCK DEAL REJECTED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—The New York, Chicago and St. Louis [the Nickel Plate] Railroad company's application for authority to purchase 60,000 shares of common stock of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railway company, thru Otis & Co. of Cleveland, was denied today by the interstate commerce commission as not "consistent with the public interest."

In November, 1941, the ICC had authorized acquisition by the Chesapeake and Ohio, which controls the Nickel Plate, of control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie jointly with the Nickel Plate thru ownership of certificates of deposit.

The ICC criticized a fee of nearly $1 a share which Otis & Co. was to receive in the transaction and said "the relations between Eaton, the Chesapeake and Ohio, and the applicant are such as to suggest a disregard for the spirit and intent of the [Clayton anti-trust] act and for the public interest it is designed to subserve."

7 RESIGN MICHIGAN SWPC; FIVE MONTHS WASTED, THEY INSIST

Detroit Mich., Sept. 29 (AP).—The seven members of the Michigan regional division of the Smaller War Plants corporation forwarded their resignations to Washington today with a resolution asserting that "five months of diligent effort, substantial expense, and use of much man power have failed to produce results beneficial to the war effort."

The resolution, drawn at a special meeting of the board of governors of the Michigan regional division, asserted that small industry has not benefited "in any way commensurate with" the effort expended.

Promised First Call.

Washington, D. C. Sept. 29 (AP).—Small manufacturing plants will get first call when the production of essential civilian goods is expanded, the Smaller War Plants corporation said today.

The bimonthly report of Robert W. Johnson, SWPC chairman, to Donald M. Nelson, war production board chairman, said full collaboration with the office of civilian requirements had been established.

CHICAGO BANK DISCOUNTS AND LOANS BOOSTED

Deposits at Record High in Quarter.

[A table of bank report statistics is on page 34.]

The long downtrend in Chicago bank loans and discounts was reversed during the third quarter of 1943, indicating increased bank participation in business financing. Total deposits rose a half billion dollars during the period to another peak, and the banks supported the government's war financing program by investing in the largest volume of federal securities ever held.

These facts were disclosed yesterday in figures supplied by all the city's banks, the state banks issuing their reports in response to the state auditor's call for condition as of Sept. 18, and the national banks providing their statistics in the absence of a formal call by the controler of the currency.

Largest in Two Years.

The combined total of loans and discounts reached $1,083,213,000 on Sept. 18, compared with $898,232,000 on June 30, date of the last call by both state and federal authorities. It was the largest total since the end of 1941 and represented twice the volume of business lending shown at the low point in September, 1935, but only half the peak recorded in 1929.

Total deposits rose to a record high of $6,510,103,000 from $6,012,539,000 three months earlier, the previous peak. Savings deposits again increased, notwithstanding the large public purchases of war bonds in this area. They amounted to $725,215,000, compared with $697,922,000 at the end of June.

Bank holdings of United States government securities were raised to $3,923,356,000, from the former peak of $3,559,602,000 on June 30. Bank investments in government issues began rising long before the war, and were accelerated during the first and second war loan drives. Banks are not eligible for securities issued during the current third war loan drive.

Both Classes Expand.

Both national and state banks expanded their loans and discounts, increasing bank participation in government-guaranteed "V" loans accounting for part of the upturn. The national banks actually had reversed the long downward cycle during the preceding three months, but the combined total was held in check by state bank figures.

The increase indicated the banks were finding new outlets for loans that had been held down previously by government restrictions on consumer credit, rationing of some goods, and shortages of many lines of merchandise. Small loan companies in particular had felt the pinch.

SUGGESTS RIGHT TO APPEAL WAR WORK REPRICING

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—A house ways and means subcommittee recommended today that war contractors have a right to appeal to the Court of Tax Appeals when they believe they have been treated unfairly in the renegotiation of their contracts with the government. The group also proposed:

1. That in the renegotiation of war contracts the same production costs be allowed as provided in the tax laws, except that "inordinate" salaries should not be credited in computing a contractor's fair profit.
2. Full plant amortization should be allowed in figuring costs going into war production.
3. Contracts with concerns having less than $500,000 of war business in one year should not be renegotiated, beginning as of last January.

Inland Steel to Get 'M,' Star for 'E' Flag Monday

The maritime "M" award will be presented to the Inland Steel company's Indiana Harbor plant in a ceremony at the plant Monday, and a white star denoting a second award will be placed on the army-navy "E" flag at the same time. The maritime award will be presented by Allen D. MacLean, assistant director of the production division, United States Maritime commission. W. E. Spofford, regional director of construction in the Great Lakes area, will present badges to plant employes.

Merchants to Air Complaints at Hearings in Score of Cities

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—A nation-wide complaint session has been arranged by the government to learn directly from retailers and wholesalers what, if anything, is interfering with the fair distribution of foods and civilian goods.

Interviews will be held by representatives of the office of civilian requirements and the war food administration in 20 selected cities, accessible to every merchant, between Oct. 11 and 30.

Merchants will be allowed 15 minutes each to tell what obstacles appear to be preventing them from getting enough goods to meet their customers' needs. If certain patterns appear consistently in the interviews, OCR and WFA will seek corrective action.

Believe Quotas Not Adjusted.

Officials believe, for instance, that some manufacturers have not adjusted their delivery quotas among regions to match war time population shifts, with the result that boom communities are getting insufficient supplies.

Some of the other possible trouble spots include:

Shortages of boxes and paper products for packaging some items which themselves are not scarce; transportation difficulties; the inability of a store to get a new supplier when his original wholesaler or manufacturer goes out of business; the occasional practice of requiring a dealer to take a certain amount of goods he doesn't want in order to get some he does want.

Similar inquiries will be conducted among producers and the results dovetailed with the dealer interviews.

Written Request Necessary.

Merchants will be requested to write to the local war production board official in charge asking for an interview and indicating a convenient time. Written statements may supplement the 15 minute interviews.

Among conference dates arranged are the following: Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 14, 15, and 16; Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21, 22, and 23, and Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 25, 26, and 27.

A. D. Whiteside, vice chairman of the WPB in charge of OCR, said the survey had been planned to approach smaller merchants and distributors first.

"We intend to begin our investigations at the far end of the distribution chain," he said.

"Additional hearings will be scheduled in eastern centers of distribution and manufacture if needed."

Expect Court to Fix Price Responsibility

Whether merchants, including chain stores, are accountable for the acts of their clerks and employes when federal price ceilings are violated is expected to be decided by Judge Harry P. Beam in a test case to be argued in Municipal court next Wednesday. Testimony in the case was heard yesterday.

The suit is against the Kroger Grocery and Baking company. The complainant is Mrs. Rose Brandzel, 34 years old, of 1340 Estes avenue, who alleged that she was charged 59 cents a pound for sirloin steak on May 13, and 49 cents on May 15, when the price ceiling was 39 cents.

OPA Intervenes in Case.

The office of price administration has intervened. In the arguments, Milton M. Hermann, senior regional enforcement attorney, will contend that the merchants are liable. Atty. Hermann said:

"The question is whether merchants, even if they issue instructions to the contrary, may be held accountable under war time regulations of this kind."

Under the law, attorneys said, a merchant is liable to a fine of $50 for each violation.

New Employe Blamed.

Mrs. Brandzel, chairman of the north side consumers' council, testified that it is the organization's policy to seek readjustments of errors on consumer prices before taking legal action. She told of her purchases in a Kroger store at 1438 Morse avenue and said that before leaving she asked John Probst, store manager, what the right charge should have been.

Under questioning by Atty. Franklin Raber, Probst denied she gave him an opportunity to adjust the purchase prices. He testified the butcher who made the charges was a new employe, had not been authorized to charge more than ceiling prices, and has been dismissed.

NAVY ACQUIRES 12TH FLOOR OF BUTLER BUILDING

The navy radio materials school, headed by Lt. Comdr. William C. Eddy, yesterday took possession of the 12th floor of the Butler building, 162 North State street. A steel bridge has been completed across the alley connecting it with the 12th floor of the State-Lake building, where the school has been located for several months.

The new space will be used in connection with the present State-Lake quarters. Clarence W. Beatty Jr., assistant United States district attorney, who acquired the space, said it will nearly double the school's floor area. The six tenants on the 12th floor of the Butler building have moved to other parts of the building. Alfred Miltenberg is agent of the property.

OPA Names Newsprint Industry Advisory Board

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29 (AP).—A newsprint industry advisory committee of six representative manufacturers was named today by the OPA. Representing more than 80 per cent of United States capacity, the committee will consult with OPA on price control. The first meeting will be in New York Oct. 5.

WESTINGHOUSE WAR ORDER CANCELATIONS TOTAL 141 MILLIONS

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—Business in reverse, or 141 million dollars in orders canceled in eight months, was reported today by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, which reached new war production and employment highs in August.

Chairman A. W. Robertson said August shipments had a gross value of more than 67 million dollars, up 2 millions from July. Employment was 106,220, up 1,200.

Robertson said the cancelations were caused by changes in government production requirements.

"These cancelations involve changes in our production plans, working forces, and inventories and tie up large amounts of working capital while settlement of the canceled contracts is being negotiated," he said. "Nevertheless, the Westinghouse backlog of unfilled orders exceeds 900 billion dollars.

MANDEL SALES PROFITS CLIMB IN SIX MONTHS

J. S. Kaufman.

Substantially increased half year sales and earnings were shown in a report for Mandel Brothers, Inc., State street department store, issued yesterday by J. S. Kaufman, vice president and general manager. Sales totaled $10,386,348 in the six months ended July 31, first half of the company's fiscal year, an increase of 20 per cent above the $8,650,661 for the 1942 period.

Net profit amounted to $133,461, equal to 46 cents a share, on 290,038 outstanding shares of stock, against $20,495, or 7 cents a share, on the 290,300 shares outstanding a year ago. The company set aside $267,000 for federal income and excess profits taxes for the 1943 period, compared with $16,000 a year ago. Profits before taxes were $400,461, compared with $36,495 in the 1942 period.

CATTLE STEADY ALTHO RECEIPTS ARE INCREASED

The market for best grades of beef cattle held fully steady yesterday despite pressure of heavy supplies of corn fed stock from middle west feed lots. Demand from eastern distributing points was particularly broad. Top loads reached $16.85 a hundred pounds and most steers and yearlings sold from $15 to $16.50.

Receipts totaled 13,000 head, the second highest for a Wednesday since last January. The total for the first three days of this week, at 43,100, was largest for a similar period since September of last year.

Farmers reduced hog shipments as a result of recent price cutting to bring the market down in line with the $14.75 ceiling which is to become effective Monday. Receipts were 14,000, the second smallest total for a Wednesday since April. Prices rose 10 to 20 cents, with top loads gaining most. These reached $15.10 and the average advanced 15 cents to $14.90.

Barely steady prices were paid for fat lambs.

ASKS DOUBLING OF CCC'S FOOD SUBSIDY FUNDS

Message by F. D. R. to Tell Needs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—The administration today renewed its fight for a greatly expanded food subsidy program with a request by Marvin Jones, war food administrator, for an increase of 500 million dollars in subsidy funds of the Commodity Credit corporation.

The additional funds, which Jones asked at a hearing before the house banking and currency committee, would boost to approximately 1 billion dollars the CCC's amount available for subsidy payments on foods.

As Jones outlined the new program, congressional leaders reported after a conference at the White House that President Roosevelt shortly would send a message to congress on the food situation.

Predict Subsidy Demand.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], senate majority leader, when asked whether the message would deal with the controversial subsidy question, replied only that it would include "the whole food situation and farm production program for 1944."

In view of Jones' statement, however, it was predicted in capital circles that the President would recommend increased use of subsidies despite strong opposition from farm state members of congress and leading farmers' organizations. Several committee members who questioned Jones all day expressed belief that the funds, if authorized, would be used in roll back subsidies paid to farmers as an incentive to boost food production and to force down retail prices.

Members showed surprise when Jones conceded that the additional funds requested may never be used, but argued that they should be appropriated to meet possible "emergencies." Jones sought broad powers "to make whatever price guarantees may be necessary to get all out agricultural production for 1944."

Could Buy Any Surplus.

The food administrator asserted that farm production costs still are rising and that funds may be required to guarantee support prices for almost any crop, but said no prediction can be made yet as to how many crops would be involved.

With the additional funds, Jones said, "the government would stand ready to buy any surplus of a commodity that might not flow into the regular channels at the time, and to absorb whatever loss may be necessary" thru resale at ceiling prices which he said might be lower than the price the CCC would pay for it.

He also asked authority for the CCC to sell perishable commodities, such as fruits and vegetables, which it may buy to support prices at less than the parity prices "to prevent waste of food." Such sales are prohibited under the present law. He said this provision would prevent such mishaps as the recent spoilage of hundreds of carloads of potatoes held by the government.

Denies Roll Back Plans.

Jones assured the committee the new subsidy money, if granted, would be used only to boost farmers' returns and not for roll back subsidies, such as are now in effect on meat and butter.

He was asked by Rep. Donald H. McLean [R., N. J.] whether he had final authority in matters of food production or "whether you can be overriden by other officials." After some sparring, Jones conceded his orders may be changed by James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director. He also disclaimed responsibility for the meat-butter subsidies paid by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

WHEAT AND RYE FUTURES PRICES AGAIN ADVANCE

Oats Slide, But Recoup Part of Losses.

Wheat and rye prices advanced again yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade but oats turned weak. Buying of wheat futures to close spreads with Winnipeg along with large purchases by mills advanced prices of 1 to 1¼ cents a bushel with the close at the top.

Announcement that the government had renewed a guarantee to give farmers any increase in the ceiling price on cash corn sold between Sept. 29 and Oct. 31 if the advance is made prior to Nov. 30 had a depressing effect on oats. Brokers said it may result in reducing the demand for oats and barley. Futures were ⅝ cent lower early, but the market rallied with other grains and the close was ⅛ cent higher to ⅜ cent lower. Rye led the advance and gained ⅝ to 1⅝ cents.

Similar to Former Program.

Farmers sold 135,000 bushels of cash corn for deferred shipment as the result of the reinstating of the government guarantee. The total was the largest in about six weeks. The new program is practically the same as that which expired Aug. 10.

Reports that the government would remove the import duty on Canadian wheat and make the grain available for mills and other large users in case of a substantial advance in the price of domestic wheat attracted wide attention.

Country elevators in Iowa were reported being forced to sell cash grain held in storage to make room for the government owned soybean crop, and it was believed the soybean crop will get priority in allocation of cars.

Buying of wheat futures by mills reflected an increased demand for flour. Eastern chain bakers purchased 150,000 to 200,000 barrels of flour.

CRITICIZES CLOSING

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 29 (AP).—The Winnipeg grain exchange council believes the government's action in suspending wheat trading on the exchange has eliminated the only facilities for publicly recording the true value of Canadian wheat in the world market.

The council said Canadian producers must rely on information from foreign sources to arrive at the value of Canadian wheat in the world market. "It is our sincere belief that the interests of the producers would have been better served by continuation of the open market system," it said.

The statement said the government's action was "taken without consulting the grain trade."

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

Sept. 29, 1943.

YESTERDAY morning the men on the Wheaton farm herded the Aberdeen-Angus cattle down the gravel road, into the barnyard, and thru the wooden gate just west of the big sheep barn. When the gate was closed, the Angus headed toward the open woodlot 200 yards to the west. As they ambled off, the farm workers started an argument on this point: Do cattle eat acorns?

There are plenty of acorns in the Angus' present woodlot, since the squirrels have been raiding the tall trees and dropping the small nuts to the ground. Some of the men said they had seen cattle eat acorns; others insisted that no self-respecting calf or cow or steer would look twice at oak fruits.

Even Eat Sawdust.

There seems little doubt that cattle will eat almost anything, including acorns, if their pasturage is short. Among the items in their unreasonable diet are apples, tree leaves, twigs, thistles, sagebrush, and in western areas Yucca and cacti. They will eat many common root vegetables, such as parsnips, beets, and carrots. Scientists have found that they even will consume and digest common sawdust if it is treated with certain acids and mixed with hay or some other feed which they like.

In some sections of the south, farmers who have restricted amounts of live stock feed and pasturage often grind acorns and other nuts for feeding hogs and occasionally cattle. There have been some reports of food poisoning to live stock eating too much of such feed.

Go Down the Scale.

The men on the Yorkville farm have been feeding Angus and Hereford cattle for many years, and all of their wooded pastures contain oak trees. They say they've never seen any of their stock eat acorns. After all the evidence is in, therefore, the only conclusion to be drawn is that cattle will consume the best available feed, then go down the scale from there.

After cropping the grass or other main ground cover they'll proceed to the small weeds, then to the more rank weeds, thornless shrubs, saplings, tree leaves, and—if this procession continues—to acorns and similar foods which we might consider almost indigestible.

★ The GARDEN ★

LATE September and October usually are not considered important garden periods, yet there are many jobs to be done in connection with vegetable plots at this time of the season. Among the chores to be considered during the next 30 days are the following:

1. Burn or otherwise dispose of all garden vegetation which is too coarse to be added to the compost pile, including cornstalks, okra stems, cabbage stems, tomato vines, etc.

2. Make a planting chart to be followed next spring, including distances between rows, arrangement of vegetables, direction of rows, and plans for successive cropping.

3. Plan for the storage of potatoes, root crops, celery, apples, squashes, and other garden products which can be kept for the winter in basement store rooms or outdoor pits.

4. Plan to spade or plow the garden this fall if possible, since fall plowing is more efficient than spring plowing and permits earlier planting next season.

DIAMOND SALES RISE.

World production of diamonds during 1942 was estimated by Sidney H. Ball, member of the engineering firm of Rogers, Mayer and Ball, at 9,254,000 carats, of which nearly 80 per cent were of industrial grades. Sales of diamonds in the rough were estimated at more than 40 million dollars, 42 per cent above 1941.

AMERICAN HAIR AND FELT.

Has war production offset curtailment of civilian products manufactured by the American Hair and Felt company? I would be interested in recent financial data on the company.—T. F.

Answer: Altho manufacture of hair and felt products for war purposes gradually increased during 1942, the volume was not sufficient to offset the decline in output of civilian goods restricted by the government. Stimulated activity of the tanning industry made available larger amounts of hair than the company could absorb.

In addition to processing and dealing in calf and goat hair used in making felt products, American Hair manufactures fiber and hair felt products under the name "Ozite." These include carpet and rug cushions, gun wadding, and insulating, laundry and sole felts.

Net income in the six months ended June 30, 1943, amounted to $357,853, equal to $1.51 a common share, against $255,489, or 83 cents a share, in the first half of 1942. Dividends on the common stock totaled $1 a share in 1942. Thus far in 1943, 37½ cents a share has been paid or declared.

Net sales, net income and earnings per common share in the last five years follow:

	Sales.	Net Inc.	Per share.
1942	$7,635,192	$419,425	$1.13
1941	9,762,596	640,942	2.48
1940	7,166,660	410,109	1.04
1939	6,873,888	376,987	0.87
1938	5,027,040	*181,437	....

*Net loss.

American Hair has no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 14,782 shares of 6 per cent cumulative first preferred stock, $100 par value, 23,684 shares of 6 per cent cumulative second preferred, no par, and 160,054 shares of no par common. Minority interest in subsidiaries totals $145,112.

PRICE CUTS, TAX HELD HINDRANCE TO WAR OUTPUT

Adjustment Chief Doubts Reserve Feasibility.

High taxes, renegotiation of war contracts, and the possibility of sudden termination of the war are having an adverse effect on procurement of war material, Max H. Hurd, chairman of the price adjustment section, Chicago ordnance district, said yesterday at a war problem school meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce in the Palmer House.

In answer to a question, however, Hurd declared it would be impractical to allow post-war reserves in renegotiation agreements because of high excess profits tax rates. It would be necessary to allow $5 of extra reserves for each $1 in cash which would be left to the contractor after taxes were deducted, Hurd said. Congress is now considering the problem of post-war reserves, he added.

Weighting of Factors Difficult.

The possibility that some present contracts may be canceled should be taken into consideration in renegotiation, but no one can say just how much weight should be given to this factor, Laird Bell, chairman of the navy's regional price adjustment board, declared.

Maj. George E. Phelps, officer in charge of the signal corps price adjustment section, said much of the criticism of renegotiation has come from persons who have not been thru the process.

"The people who are making renegotiation policy in Washington are almost 100 per cent business men, lawyers, and investment men—all persons who have had experience in the business world and who understand and are sympathetic with the business man's problems," Maj. Phelps said.

Advises Early Preparation.

He urged that business men who face renegotiation prepare in advance complete, detailed and specific data on all factors which should be taken into consideration by the renegotiating officers in determining a fair profit. Epecially important, said Maj. Phelps, are data on improvements in the product, reduction of costs, and conservation of man power and critical materials. Settlements already made with other companies now provide a means for comparison and evaluation in any particular case, he said.

STOCK MARKET PRICES MIXED; INTEREST SAGS

Good War News Fails as Stimulant.

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—Stock market prices were mixed today as a lack of interest held down volume. What buying there was mainly was inspired by a lightness of offerings. The new military gains in Italy and the reports from Russia were encouraging to sentiment but were negative as a trading stimulus.

Prices firmed slightly after a morning of uneven and narrow price shifts. Near the close, enough bids appeared to lift a few leaders a point or so, but generally the gains were small. Some specialties scored large advances.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite rose 0.1 to 50.8. Of the 765 issues traded 289 gained, 247 were down, and 229 were unchanged. Transactions of 466,480 shares were the smallest in two weeks.

CHICAGO STOCKS UNEVEN.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday were uneven on turnover of 23,000 shares. Of 93 issues traded, 30 advanced, 36 declined, and 27 were unchanged. Goldblatt Bros. common closed at a new 1943 peak of 7, up ½. Chicago corporation, the volume leader, closed ¼ higher. Swift & Co. was down ¼, United States Steel slipped ⅛, and Commonwealth Edison was unchanged.

BOND PRICES IRREGULAR.

New York, Sept. 29 (AP).—A number of railroad issues drew support in today's market altho the main corporate list was irregular.

Three of the four major domestic groups and the foreign bonds in the Associated Press averages were unchanged. The 10 low yield issues declined 0.1 to 115.4. Sales of $6,264,200 compared with $7,983,200 yesterday.

"For the FIRST TIME in my life" . . .

SAYS MR. C—

. . . "I'm working in a place where I can buy almost everything for myself, my family and my home . . . AT A DISCOUNT!

"Seems like I've always worked before for some Company with a product about as useful to me as a swimming suit would be to an Eskimo.

"MY family likes the idea, too. They know that now, for the same money, we can get MORE of the things we've always wanted . . . with those WARD DISCOUNTS.

"But that isn't all . . . not by a long shot! I ENJOY working at WARDS . . . they're a bunch of mighty fine people down there!

"And it's certainly a great thing, to be working, in these uncertain times, at a job with a FUTURE!

The common-sense solution to any money shortage is a short-term loan. It allows a "breathing spell" in which to adjust expenses to fit income. Right now, for instance, living costs are up and it is becoming increasingly difficult to make ends meet. A loan from Commonwealth will "tide you over" until you get adjusted to these new war time conditions. Monthly rate 3% of balance of $150 or less, and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance over $150.
